Never fluff your powder on, if you want a smooth-looking long-lasting effect! Use Powers' technique!

Even after a long day, some women retain a kind of glow about them that is the envy of all their friends. They always appear groomed and unfaded. There's a ook about them as though they'd just had an afternoon nap and refreshing bath. And then leisurely gone through the rituals of completely new makeup.

There's a secret to that look. It's knowing how to apply your powder! When you've mastered the knack of applying your cosmetics properly at the beginning of your day, you, too, can end your day with that fresh, radiant look. It's the technique used by all the Powers Girls.

How to Start Each morning, start with a clean face. Then apply a sparing layer of the foundation best suited to your type of skin. (Foundations are available for dry, nonmal and only skins-find the one that matches yours.) Your found dation protects your skin from weather and dust and it helps to hold your powder on your face

The application of your powder is the next step and a most important one. For the way you apply your powder determines the smoothness of your finish and the staying power of your entire make-down. (That's the word, make-down! It means a natural effect, which is something you can't get if you make-up)!

Now that you are ready to apply your powder, take a fresh
