Council Sets Public Hearing On Buildings

INDEPENDENCE—The Independence city council set July 6, the date of the next council meeting, as the time for hearing for some 20 property owners as to why their buildings should not be condemned.

E. D. Alger, city building inspector, presented a list of these buildings to the council at the Wednesday evening meeting. He stated that they were all fire hazards, many without sewer connections, chimneys or foundations.

The council ordered that all property owners not connected with the city sewers should do so at once. It was pointed out that all had been given notice to connect last year and those not doing so now would have to appear before the city magistrate.

The council ordered notice sent to E. E. Tripp that a city crew would be on hand next Tuesday to tear down the barn and shed at the rear of his place on Second street which was condemned last year.
