

Red Cross Chapter Re-Elects Officers; Swim Campaign Set

All present officers for Marion county chapter, American Red Cross, were re-elected at the June meeting of the board, Monday night. Charles H. Huggins was chosen chairman to serve a second term. On the staff of officers with him will be Milton L. Meyers, first vice chairman; Wesley E. Stewart, jr., second vice chairman; Mrs. Ronald E. Jones, secretary; Linn C. Smith, treasurer. The new term begins July 1. W. H. Baillie was chairman of the nominating committee submitting the report.

As of Monday night, 132 persons had signed up to donate blood for the visitation of the bloodmobile from the Portland regional blood center in Salem today. Unless "drop ins" come, however, it is believed the 100-pint goal will not be reached this time, the blood committee told the board.

The bloodmobile will be in operation in the First Methodist church between 2:30 and 7 p. m. today.

The annual "swim campaign," sponsored by the Red Cross, will be conducted in Salem July 11-22, both at Olinger and Leslie pools. Vernon Gilmore, water safety chairman, reported to the board. John Fairburn, swimming coach at Aberdeen, Wash., is to be here to conduct the two weeks campaign. Fairburn has been long active in aquatic work, his teams having won state championships in Washington for three years. He has been on Red Cross aquatic school staffs for the past five years and he has attended 19 aquatic schools.

Birdie, 12, Wins Dog Trials at Canby Show

CANBY—Birdie, 12-year-old dog owned by Ed Galt, Turner, captured five sheep in six minutes to win first prize in the annual Clackamas county dog trials held at Canby Saturday in conjunction with the Clackamas fair show. Lassie, 4-year-old border collie owned by Henry Ahrens, also Turner, won second place, taking nine minutes and Joe Johnson, Dallas, and Marcus Vetter, Monmouth, placed third and fourth. Grand champion fat lamb entry was made by Marcus Vetter, breeder of Columbia sheep, J. G. Kessler, of Molalla road, Oregon City, won the reserve champion ribbon on his Corriedale entry. The pen of three cross-bred Suffolk-Romney lambs entered by Maurice Buxton, Molalla, won the championship in that division. Although this year's show was not as large as 1948's, the exhibition drew a large number of high-quality animals, according to Bob Lee, head of the sheep buying division of Swift & Co., who judged the show.

Police said the boy told them he took a car belonging to Frank J. Dye, 1135 N. 12th st. from in front of the clinic at Salem.

Salem Budget Final Awaits Public Hearing

City budget makers authorized many a change in the recommended budget for 1949-50 Monday night at city hall, with final figures to be tabulated and presented at a public hearing within a few weeks.

Framework of the $1,658,000 budget was left intact, despite reworking of several salary schedules. In the engineering department alone a cut of $4,200 in salary items was recommended by a subcommittee headed by Alderman Albert H. Gille, most of this representing proposed pay increases in the budget as presented by the city manager.

The budget committee, however, cut the general fund by $5,580 in engineering salary items, but worked a comparable amount into a millage fund so that the pay scale could be raised.

Other budget change highlights: Recorder's office—At subcommittee's recommendation pay of the city recorder was upped from $4,200 to $4,800, with assistant and bookkeeper receiving a $10 monthly raise.

Treasurer's office—Budgeters raised treasurer from $3,900 to $4,200 although subcommittee recommended no change.

Parks and playgrounds—Subcommittee move to slice $3,900 from city's share of city-school joint playground program was defeated and the budgeters approved a $13,933 half share for the city this year, as compared with $10,586 last year.

City manager—Salary remains at $9,000 but $500 auto allowance (same as he now receives) was scrapped completely.

City attorney—Salary of $5,280 same as at present, amounts to increase because new item allows $2,280 for clerical help, most of which has been paid by him personally. At subcommittee suggestion, $300 was cut from budget for his office supplies.

Fire stations—Proposed Kingwood station fund of $5,500 was eliminated.

A troop flag was awarded by American Legion, Post 136 to the post's Boy Scout troop at the post meeting Monday night.

Final plans for the post's initiation and program for the meeting of June 27 were laid. The initiation will be conducted by the post ritual team headed by Glen Harbaugh. A program and speaker are slated.

The post also discussed its plans for sending several boys to the legion's annual Beaver Boy State at Corvallis next month.

Big 4 Progress Toward Partial Berlin Accord

PARIS, June 13.—(AP)—A partial settlement to bring a truce to east-west strife in Berlin appeared tonight to be growing out of secret Big Four talks.

The west also bid for a settlement on an Austrian treaty in a drive to end the deadlocked council of foreign minister sessions with at least some success.

Sources previously proved reliable said the Big Four were making progress toward an accord on the Berlin matter, and that Russia was backing down completely from her position on Austria. American sources were less optimistic on Austria, however.

May End Talks Friday
These sources said it was hoped to end the Paris meetings by Friday, and there was talk of another meeting in New York in September.

State Colleges' Building Sites Win Approval

PORTLAND, June 13.—(AP)—Proposed new sites for a science building at the University of Oregon and a cyclotron building at Oregon State college won approval here today.

The building committee of the state board of higher education said its approval would in turn be recommended to the full board tomorrow.

The science building, a $1,500,000 structure, would go up where the university heating plant is now. The heating plant is to be moved.

The cyclotron building—a $200,000 affair that will be constructed with some donated material and labor—would be located on the south edge of the Oregon State campus on Oak Creek near the campus court. The cyclotron is to be presented for research by the atomic energy commission.

The committee also authorized officials to negotiate with architects for a food industries building at Oregon State college, a library at Oregon college of education and a library and museum building at eastern Oregon college of education.

The building program approved added to a total of $6,000,000 for 1949-50—about half of the estimated needs. This was the same as approved by the state board of control last week.

Writers Lose Appeal Verdict

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—The conviction of two movie writers for contempt of congress was upheld today by the U. S. circuit court of appeals.

The court ruled that a committee of congress has the right to demand that a witness state whether he is a communist.

For screen writers Dalton Trumbo and Howard Lawson, the decision was the last stop before the supreme court— and a possible year in jail. They now are free on bond.

They were two of ten convicted in district court here last year of contempt for refusing to tell the house un-American activities committee whether either was or had been a member of the communist party.

Greyhound Bus, Truck Hit at Albany

ALBANY, June 13.—(Special)—A Greyhound bus and a gravel truck collided here this afternoon but produced no serious injuries among the 10 bus passengers or drivers.

The accident occurred at the junction of the Pacific highway and Irvine street at about 4:30 p. m., according to state police reports. Robert Clyde Van Demar, 645 Marion st., Salem, was driver of the bus and Sylvester B. Callison, Albany, was driving the gravel truck, police said.

Mrs. C. Compton, Albany route 3, and Vivian Lange of Sweet Home, were taken to Albany General hospital but were dismissed. The collision occurred, according to reports, as the truck was making a left turn and the bus was passing. The front of the bus struck the truck near the driver's seat. Both vehicles were going south.

3,000 Salem Youngsters Dip in Pool

Nearly 3,000 Salem youngsters took advantage of perfect swimming weather Monday and jammed to capacity both Leslie and Olinger pools on their first day of operation.

Robert Metzger, manager of Leslie pool, said 1,144 bathers crowded into the south Salem pool. He estimated this was "way over" figures for opening day last summer.

Complete tabulation was not available last night for Olinger pool users but Hank Juran, manager, estimated that over 1,500 kids splashed and swam the afternoon away.

Both pools will be open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., except Sundays. The pools will operate from 1 to 9 p. m. on Sundays. Both pools opened at 1 p. m. Monday.

A crew of men from the Salem water department will start work in Kingwood Heights on Thursday, making preliminary adjustments to remove the more bothersome bottlenecks in water service, it was announced Monday. The work will be the first of its kind undertaken since Kingwood Heights was annexed to Salem. More extensive work is scheduled later.

Ike Raps Too Much Federal Centralization

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower warned the nation today against letting the federal government get too strong.

He spoke not as a military leader but as president of Columbia University. He said he opposes legislation which would make federal money available to help public schools in all states.

Such a plan, he explained in a letter to Rep. Gwinn (R-N.Y.), would stimulate a competition among states and localities for greater shares of government money.

Eisenhower added he believes "the army of persons" who urge greater centralization of government authority "are really more dangerous to our form of government than any external threat that can possibly be arrayed against us."

Senate Ratifies International Wheat Pact

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—The senate today ratified an international wheat agreement which sponsors said would provide an export market for 168,000,000 bushels of American wheat a year for the next four years.

The senate acted by voice vote after several members, including Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) had expressed misgivings about the pact.

Under the agreement, the five exporting nations are to ship 456,000,000 bushels annually to the 36 importers. The maximum price would be $1.80 a bushel; the minimum would scale down from $1.50 this year to $1.20 in 1952-53.

Oregon Pulp To Construct Repair Shop

Plans for a West Salem shop for maintenance of all Oregon Pulp and Paper company vehicles and equipment in this area were announced Monday, following court approval of sale of property from the Otto F. Johnson estate.

The 3½-acre plot north of Bassett street and east of Murlark avenue, was sold by the estate to the company for $8,500.

E. A. Linden, manager of OP&P's lumber division, said construction would probably start this summer on a shop to centralize repair and maintenance of all trucks and logging equipment. Most of this work is not carried on in the camps. Type and size of the proposed building are not yet known.
