Newbry Defend Board Action in Insurance Deal

Secretary of State Earl T. Newbry Friday defended Thursday's action of the state board of control in awarding an insurance coverage contract, involving state-owned motor vehicles, to general casualty company on a second low bid.

The low bid of $74,717 was submitted by the truck insurance exchange, a reciprocal company of Los Angeles. The general casualty company bid was $83,778.

Criticism was directed at the transaction. Newbry said principal reason for awarding the contract to the general casualty company was its promise to put three safety engineers at work in an effort to reduce the accident toll involving state-owned automobiles and trucks. This will cost the company between $15,000 and $20,000, Newbry said.

The secretary of state also said that under the bid of the casualty company the state will receive a graduated reduction in rates based on the reduction in the number of accidents.

Vote of the board for awarding the contract to the general casualty company was unanimous. Board of control records show that the truck insurance exchange, while serving the state's insurance needs, paid all its claims. Newbry said criticism of the award was not justified.

Hell Drivers Show to Boost Airplane Fund

Satan's hell drivers are coming to Hollywood bowl Friday, June 24, for a Salem police aerial patrol-sponsored show.

Purchase of an airplane for use in emergencies and disasters in the Salem area is the goal of the group backing the benefit performance, according to Clive Scott, publicity chairman of the patrol.

Two ambulances, from Eddie's and Salem Memorial hospital, have volunteered to stand by for accidents that sometimes accompany the two-hour performance of the crashing, catapulting autos. And the Salem motorcycle club has promised to provide additional entertainment for the occasion.

The same group of stunt men appeared at Hollywood bowl last summer. Through cooperation of Andrew Klett, owner of Hollywood bowl, the police aerial patrol is sponsoring their repeat performance.

1,000 Men in Training for Firefighting

Approximately 1,000 men including many college graduates, are now in training and will be available for forest fire protection services during the current summer. Nels Rogers, state forester, reported here Friday.

Each firefighter has to attend one of a series of 14 schools held by the state forestry department annually in the forested areas.

Rogers said the new system is superior to the old one when the department employed pick-up crews from the skidrows in Portland to battle fires after they break out.

Legion Post Election Slated

Election of post officers, and delegates to the state convention voting on a proposed by-laws change, a program and lunch are on the agenda for the meeting Monday night of American Legion, Capital post 9.

Officers nominated include Sephus Starr for commander, John Kerrik for first vice commander, and James Turnbull and Claude Martin for second vice commander. Charles Huggins is retiring commander.

The proposed change in post by-laws would, if passed, clarify duties of the building and executive committees. The post's drum corps will make its first appearance Monday night at the meeting in Legion hall, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Girls State Legislators Vote to Keep Luxury Tax on Cosmetics

The Girls State, at its legislative sessions here Friday, turned thumbs down on a bill designed to eliminate the luxury tax on women's cosmetics. The bill originated in the senate where it was defeated after an extended debate.

The argument was advanced that this tax was required, along with other levies, for the financial support of the government.

The senate approved a bill providing that the boys' and girls' State should be held at the same time and at the same place but it went down to defeat in the house of representatives. Opponents of this bill said the girls attended the annual meeting for work and not for boys. Propponents said such a proposal, if approved, would make it possible to hold an inaugural ball in honor of their officials.

Both houses approved a measure providing that the president of the United States shall be elected by popular vote. Also passing both houses was a bill providing that the process of manufacturing the atomic bomb be kept a secret by the United States.

The annual Girls State banquet was held Friday night with Mrs. Laura Engesther, Brook-ett, N. D., national chairman of the American Legion auxiliary Girls State, the principal speaker.

Friday afternoon was devoted to inspection of state offices here. Saturday's program will include a naturalization session and court procedure.

The conference, opening here last Monday, will close Sunday with church services and a luncheon.

More than 210 girls, representative of all sections of the state, are attending. The event is sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary, Oregon department.
