

Ace Flying Service Completes Budworm Spray Operations

More than 110,000 acres of Mt. Hood national forest were sprayed for spruce budworm by the Ace Flying Service of Salem in a two-week operation that ended Monday.

Leo J. (Ace) Demers, in charge of the operation, said Tuesday that Alex Jenick, speaking for the U. S. forest service, was "highly pleased" with the results of the spraying.

In fact, Demers said, plans are being discussed to spray a million acres in Oregon next year.

The fliers completed more than 1,000 hours of skimming the tree-tops of Mt. Hood's wooded east slopes without a single forced landing or mishap to any of the planes.

Forest service officials were especially pleased with the performance of the B-18 bomber carrying 600-1,000 gallons of spray, which produced nearly 100 per cent kill on the first day's flight. Often it takes 10-12 days before such a high rate of kill is attained.

Demers said Robert Morris was the pilot, and Alva Bressler, copilot, both from Salem.

The other planes were BT-13s and Seasmans, all stripped and converted for the spraying job, which carried 100-120 gallons of spray each.

Flying weather was excellent, Demers said, and the only factor producing any delay was a shortage of spray. Only 10,000 gallons could be mixed each day, and the pilots sometimes were forced to wait around for more ammunition.

The fliers camped on an airstrip on the Lyle Drivers ranch near Wamic. Four cooks from the Bear Springs ranger station prepared food.

About 30 men participated in the operation, including 15 from the forest service under the direction of Amos Smeltzer.

Pilots were Joe Bello and Al Coulter, both of Salem; Farrell Snyder, Medford; Bob Patton, Portland; and Dick Martin, Sweed Ralston, Ed Ball and John Inman, all of Hillsboro.

Mechanics were Lloyd Miller and Raymond Stelzer of Salem, and loaders were Fred Miller, George Nyler and Bill Jenick of Hillsboro.

Two Drown as Boat Tips in Coos Bay
COOS BAY, June 21-(AP)—A 14-foot pleasure boat capsized in Coos bay Monday afternoon, drowning Chester Shoemaker, 46, and Judy Moore, 8, while their horrified relatives watched.

Mrs. Shoemaker and Mr. and Mrs. Moore managed to cling to the overturned boat, but could not rescue the others. Two bridge tenders later brought the Moores and Mrs. Shoemaker to safety.

All were from Coos Bay.

Muriel Schaefer, 18, both of Lebanon; Robert Thomas Hill, 18, Springfield, and Norma Jean Cole, 17, Eugene.

Walker Finds Challenger for 75-Mile Race

LEBANON, June 21—(Special) A 64-year-old Mill City man's challenge that he can beat a horse in a 75-mile race found a taker here Tuesday.

Glenn Huston of Lebanon, president of the Santiam Wranglers, announced that one of his steeds will race Paul Smith at Lebanon Meadows July 24. Huston, who owns several horses, hasn't decided which one will go 150 laps on the half-mile oval against Smith.

Smith issued his challenge two years ago and the Wranglers have been dickering with him for quite awhile. The event will be an endurance contest, and Smith is confident he'll cross the finish line first. The horse can walk or run; Smith says he'll walk all the way.

"It won't be any race, I'll win easy," said Smith. "That horse of Huston's will have to stop for water and hay. He'll have to rest some, too. I'll keep walking my seven to nine mile pace and eat on the way."

Arabian Horse Show Slated For Portland

NORTH PORTLAND, June 21—Romantic war horses of the desert will be seen in the third annual fall — Arabian horse show to be held here in the Pacific International Livestock arena in North Portland Saturday and Sunday.

There will be a night show at 8 o'clock Saturday and a matinee on Sunday. Judging of breed classes will be held Saturday morning and afternoon with no admission charge to the public.

Musahar, a chestnut, purebred Arabian colt will be given away Sunday afternoon.

A feature of the show will be a dressage exhibition by the Palomino Sharik's Sun, owned by Ward W. Wells of Oswego. Dressage is considered by top horsemen as the highest test of ability of the schooled horse.

Sharik's Sun executes 100 movements — ha'n, backs and changes gait — by the commands of the rider's weight, legs and hands. Because a dressage horse is not rounded, he is not to be confused with a trick horse, managers report.

Entries from six western states and British Columbia have been received — California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Utah.

Judge for the show will be Prof.

Officials Indicate Early Action In New Milk Marketing Czar

No time will be lost after July 16 in selecting a milk marketing administrator to succeed E. L. Peterson, director of the state agricultural department, as head of the milk control division, officials declared here Tuesday.

The law creating the milk marketing administrator was approved by the 1949 legislature. The official will be appointed by the state agriculture board. He will serve at the pleasure of the board and receive an annual salary of $6,000. The new law becomes operative July 16 and Peterson said the state agricultural board probably would meet a few days later.

At the time the bill relieving Peterson of his duties of milk control was introduced it was proposed to place appointment of the milk marketing administrator with the governor but this later was abandoned.

The new law providing for a milk marketing administrator was one of the most controversial issues of the 1949 legislature and was reported out by the house foods and dairies committee following a series of public hearings. Members of the state agricultural board are appointed by the governor. E. A. Geary, Klamath Falls, formerly was chairman of the board but resigned when he was elected state senator from Klamath county.

The milk marketing director will maintain his headquarters in Salem with offices in the state agricultural building.

Reports here indicated that most members of the board would be retained by Governor Douglas McKay and would be reappointed as their terms expire.

Peterson said in being relieved of the milk control functions he would have more time to devote to other activities of his department.

Siamese Students Want 'Tea Money'

BANGKOK, June 21-(AP)—Overcrowding of certain classes in Siamese schools has led to some of the institutions asking "tea money" from students desiring education.

High education officials decided to take steps to stop the shake-down. A study will be made of the number of seats available in government and private schools. All schools will be required to make public their facilities. Also, special measures will be taken to prevent corruption in admitting new pupils, especially where entrance examinations are required.

C. E. Howell, University of California at Davis, and former head of the W. K. Kellogg Arabian Horse farm at Pomona, until it was taken over by the army during the war.

Last Rites Held For Mother of Justice Belt

Graveside services were held Tuesday in the Odd Fellows cemetery of Salem for Mrs. Nellie Belt, mother of Supreme Court Justice Harry Belt.

Mrs. Belt, who attended Sacred Heart academy in Salem when her father was assistant state treasurer, died Sunday in Portland after a two-year illness. She was 90.

Funeral services were held at the Mt. Scott mortuary in Portland Tuesday morning.

Eldest of nine children, Mrs. Belt, born March 31, 1859, in Albany, attended Albany college. She married John D. Belt, a druggist, Jan. 15, 1879.

Her husband died in 1927. His father came west in 1850 and

'Allies Sow Death' Soviet People Told

MOSCOW, June 21—(AP)—The State Publishing House, "Art", is issuing 15 posters in connection with the decree of the Council of Ministers and the Central Committee of the Communist Party on the gigantic plan for the "transformation of nature."

This plan, as it has been announced, calls for re-forestation of a large part of the Soviet Union.

"Two Worlds — Two Plans" is the theme of a poster by M. Chermnykh. In the top picture, Soviet people are pointing to the Stalin plan, saying with pride "we are planting life." In the bottom picture, dark and black, warmongers are hovering over a map of military bases. "They are Sowing Death," runs the caption.

The answers to everyday insurance problems

By Sid Boise

Believing wholeheartedly in the philosophy that you have to "give" before you can "get" and believing also that in these days of complexities most people will be really interested in reading the solutions to their own and their neighbors' everyday insurance problems, we decided to try something a little different.

Beginning next week this advertising space will be devoted each week to a column of questions and answers or insurance problems which are common in the lives of all of us. Frankly, this column will be in itself a form of advertising but the offer to answer your insurance questions without charge or obligation is genuine and has no strings attached. We'll really appreciate an opportunity to be of service to you.

If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.
