Specially planned and grooved logs are cut to size on the building site with power saws, as above. Operating saw is E. A. Roberts, Portland, who has been active in erecting log structures in Oregon, as C. W. Wright looks on. Above is a "Log Structure" house which was built

Lower Costs, Faster Finish Are Claimed

By Don Dill Staff Writer, The Statesman

Lower-building costs, faster construction and durability are envisioned for homes, motel or resort cabins and business buildings when built of solid logs processed n a modern way by Log Structures of the Southwest, Inc., whose local offices are being located here at Chemawa corner.

Managing the operations is C. W. Williamson, 3 Duncan ave., who came to Salem recently to open a branch and who believes that in a year's time that all business operations will be transferred from the company's present offices in Glendale, Calif., to Sa-

Production of the specially premills in Aumsville and Lyons owned and operated by C. W. and S. H. Wright. At present 29 carloads of the processed logs have been shipped to nine states and more inquiries are fast coming in, according to Williamson.

Secret of the log structures is planing three sides flat, the outand bottom logs making a solid, weatherproof fit. End connections are made in the same manner, but with metal splines. Special window casings made by the mills allow better fitting in a sealed closures. After the logs have been peeled, grooved and planed they are dipped in a preservative which prevents damage by rot, termites and other insects Houses or other buildings made of the logs have a rustic look and can be finished inside either in a rustic style or can be plastered, papered or finished in any way conventional houses are, Williamson stated. Cheaper construction is

Crop Failure Reports Boost Grain Prices

CHICAGO, June 21 -(AP)- Uninto the $2.00 bracket during today's board of trade session. All Newbry. deliveries except March traded at He will $2.00 or better sometime during July 1.

Wheat advanced from the opening bell, resuming where it left off yesterday. Most of yesterday's advance was attributed to short covering. The bulk of today's activity was credited to renewed public interest induced by pessimistic private crop reports.

At the finish wheat was 21/2 to 3% higher, corn was ¼ higher to ¼ lower, soybeans were unchanged to 11/4 higher and lard was 3 to 10 cents a hundredweight lower.

Trade reports that yields in Oklahoma were averaging around 15
