

Californian to Manage Horse Show at P.I.

PORTLAND, July 5—Selection of Harrison Cutler, Napa, Calif., thoroughbred breeder, as manager of the national horse show at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition here Oct. 7-15 was announced Monday by General Manager Walter A. Holt.

Cutler succeeds Tevis Paine, who withdrew after many years at the P.I. because of pressure of duties on the administrative staff of the Western Fair association in California.

The new manager is prominent among Pacific Coast horsemen and yearly has a full schedule of show management. Included this year is the Oregon state fair horse show in Salem.

Cutler plans to supplement English saddle and harness events, long a P.I. top drawing card, with western horse classes. Included will be Arabians, Palominos and Quarter horses.

"I'm aiming at a little faster tempo which I think will be well received by the public and make room for an increased number of pleasure and stock horse events," Cutler said.

His schedule this year includes Chico district fair; Mother Lode fair, Sonora; San Diego National horse show; Alameda county fair; Santa Rosa county fair and San Joaquin National horse show.

64-Year-Old 'Walking Man' Burns up Road

MILL CITY—Holiday weekend tourists on the North Santiam highway looked twice as they passed a fast-striding figure in white jersey and shorts—that of beefy 64-year-old Paul Smith.

The big man's road workouts are in preparation for a July 24 contest at Lebanon between Smith and an 1,150 pound horse in a 75-mile walkathon. The horse "Buck" is owned by Bill Glendene of Lebanon who has a $1,000 bet on outcome of the endurance test.

Smith, who told passing motorists this weekend he was doing 26 miles a walk and felt confident he'd outwalk the horse, once placed fifth in a New York to Los Angeles walking contest. Smith maintains he'll win because he can eat while he walks and won't need rest stops.

Czech Actions End in Ouster Of Newsmen

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 4—Action by the Communist Czechoslovak government has resulted in the ouster of an American correspondent and the withdrawal of a British reporter.

Harold Melahn of the United Press, who was technically accredited here as correspondent for British United Press, was expelled.

Godfrey Lias, veteran correspondent for the London Times, was withdrawn by his newspaper after representations were made in London by the Czechoslovak embassy.

Melahn left by automobile for the U.S. zone of Germany late today. The foreign office, asked why he had to leave, answered: "Mr. Melahn will know. It is for personal reasons."

Lias was not actually expelled, but it was learned that more drastic steps would have been taken against him had his newspaper not agreed to have him leave.

It was understood that no specific writing of his was attacked. He was charged with "non-journalistic activities" including contact with an unnamed "high political personage" of the former Czech regime.

Lias was one of the few pre-war central European correspondents who remained in this area since the communists seized the Czech government in February, 1948. He also was a reporter for the Christian Science Monitor and the Economist, a British weekly.

Hooded Men Whip Mechanic In Tennessee

DUNLAP, Tenn., July 4—Five men wearing white robes and hoods took a 42-year-old mechanic from a car in front of his house early Sunday and whipped him, Sheriff Henry Barker said.

Bill Tippins, maintenance worker on a Sequatchie county rock crusher and a World War II veteran, was listed as the victim.

The sheriff reported that townspeople are aroused and that "sentiment is running pretty high here" over the incident.

Tippins, the sheriff added, said he had returned to his home shortly before midnight and went to sleep in the back seat of his car, rather than wake his family. He said he was awakened about 1 a.m. by five masked and robed men trying to pull him from the car.

"Two of them," he related, "twisted my arms up behind my back. One stoof off and held a pistol on me while the other two hit me in the stomach, chest and face with their fists." He said they knocked him down and kicked him.

Tippins said his 17-year-old daughter, Billie, came out of the house screaming and the men left. He said he got his shotgun and walked into town to the sheriff's office.

The mechanic said the men told him that "if you don't quit what you been doing we'll be back." He said he believed they referred to the fact that "I drink a little beer on the week-ends. But I'm not going to stand for that kind of treatment. If they come back here I'll be waiting for them."

Sheriff Barker asserted that Tippins had a good reputation and that the attack was "vicious and uncalled for."

World Industrial Production Drops

LAKE SUCCESS, July 4—(AP)—The U.N. bulletin of statistics reported Friday the first quarterly decline in world industrial production since the end of World War II. Until the first quarter of 1949, the monthly publication said, world production had shown an uninterrupted increase. The output for the first three months of this year, however, was 1.4 per cent below the figure for the last quarter of 1948.

The bulletin, prepared by U.N. economists, attributed the drop primarily to a leveling off of production in the United States.
