Sailing Date Is Set Ahead, So Hustons Head North Today

By Jeryme English
 The Oliver B. Huston household out on the North River road was really in a flurry of excitement over the weekend. For starting Sunday and continuing through Monday came a series of phone calls and telegrams of the sudden change of plans for the bicycle trip through Europe and England for Mrs. Huston and daughters, Harriet and Virginia. As stated in our column on Sunday they were not to leave for Vancouver, B. C. until the end of the week or next, but the cargo ship they will sail on, is now leaving this week and orders came they were to be in Vancouver on Wednesday to board the ship, which means they start north this morning.

Even though all purchases had been made and their English bicycles in readiness, there still was the last minute packing to do and final arrangements to be made. First Harriet was at the beach for the holidays and had to be summoned home and the Hustons' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fitzsimmons, who are taking the bicycles in their car to Vancouver, were also at the beach and didn't arrive home until late Monday, which meant repacking for them and setting out on another trip the next day.

We were curious about what goes into a knapsack and on inquiring learned there are two on each side of the bicycle. In them will be peddle pushers, jeans, no shorts as they are not generally accepted in Europe, wool skirts, sweaters, socks, long sleeved blouses and shirts to protect them from the weather and sun while cycling, nylon lingerie, which is easy to launder and quick drying, toilet articles, just a bare minimum, however, a sleeping bag, a poncho to keep them dry during rain storms, and a few necessities such as a screw driver and jack knife. There is also a large roll on the back of their bicycle containing some of the above articles and a sleeping bag.

To Ride English Bicycles
 Their English bicycles are well equipped with gears and breaks and small tires. The three Hustons have been riding them the last few months so as to become accustomed to them, however, they have yet to try them out loaded. Several suitcases will also accompany the travelers and will be waiting them in London and Paris, their longest stops of several weeks each.

Accompanying the three travelers to Vancouver to say bon voyage will be Mr. Huston, who will return in a few days, and Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons, who plan to remain in British Columbia for a week. Also in Vancouver now vacationing and on hand to see the Hustons off will be Mrs. Huston's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chalton of Victoria, who have often visited in Salem. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons will visit in Victoria at the Challoner home before returning to Salem. After a five months trip the travelers will arrive in the capital in time for Christmas.

Miss Gilbert A Bride

The Knight Memorial church was the scene of an informal wedding ceremony on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when Miss Helen Jean Gilbert, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Gilbert, became the bride of Donald Nyswaner, son of Mrs. Ollie F. Nyswaner. The Rev. Louis E. White officiated at the service and Mrs. Lewis Mitchell was the organist. Mrs. M. Sturms sang before the ceremony.

Roswell Gilbert gave his sister in marriage and she chose a dusty rose dressmaker suit of gabardine with navy blue and white accessories for her wedding. Pinned to her suit was a corsage of rubrum lilies and sweet peas.

Miss Audrey Nyswaner, sister of the groom, was the honor maid and wore a navy blue gabardine suit with navy and white accessories. Her corsage was of sweet peas. Raymond Bones of Hebo was best man and ushers were Andrew Baker and Edward Saunders.

A reception in the fireplace room followed the rites. Miss Beulah Gilbert cut her sister's cake with Mrs. Wesley Wilson assisting. Mrs. Earl Morgan was at the coffee urn and Mrs. L. A. Hereford presided at the punch bowl. Assisting were Mrs. E. George Clark, Jr., Mrs. Roswell Gilbert, Mrs. Orland Cox, Mrs. Edward Saunders and Miss Linda Gilbert.

After a wedding trip along the Oregon coast the couple will be at home in Salem at 2010 Nebraska street.

Officers to Attend Meetings

The message of organized women will be carried to many countries of the world this summer by officers of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. GFWC membership overseas totals 2,700,000 in 32 countries and possessions, in addition to the 5,000,000 members in the United States.

Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck, GFWC president, left on June 25 from New York as a member of the Town Hall World seminar which will visit 13 world capitals on a trip which terminates in early September.

Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton, of Red Oak, Iowa, first vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will represent this organization at a meeting of the Pan-Pacific Women's Association in Honolulu, July 20-August 4. Oregon club women had the opportunity of meeting both women at the General Federation convention in Portland last year.

Mrs. Buck is one of 25 representatives of national organizations of both men and women who comprise the Town Hall World Seminar. The group will visit London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Rome, Ankara, Tel Aviv, Beirut, Karachi, New Delhi, Manila, Tokyo. In each capital, these American leaders will meet with their counterparts in the country visited for daily round-table discussions. Mrs. Buck will also visit Athens where she will meet with the organized groups of Greek women which are affiliated with the General Federation.

Women of many countries and races will gather in Honolulu for the Pan-Pacific conference to discuss questions of mutual interest, organizational techniques, and the growing emancipation of women in the Pacific countries. Mrs. Houghton is vice-president of the Pan-Pacific Women's Association.

Young and Tender

Home Grown Cabbage Glamorous Food, When First Head Is Harvested

By Maxine Buren
 Statesman Woman's Editor

What a difference age makes. It's true in many cases, but we're referring to cabbage. Winter cabbage is considered by many as just another old vegetable, but in summer when the first new cabbage you've been tenderly raising is picked—that's a different story.

First thing we usually do with young summer cabbage is slice it fine and serve with a sour cream dressing. There are other variations that are used after the first cabbage is harvested. There will be variations of salad, like adding green peppers, green onions, or even cubed pineapple to the vegetable.

Then soon we'll begin cooking the vegetable and later in the summer when the novelty wears off, we'll be putting cabbage into relishes to be kept for winter.

Here's one way to serve young summer cabbage:

- CABBAGE RELISH SALAD
 1 quart (1 lb.) cabbage, shredded
 1 cup chopped onions
 1/2 cup chopped sweet pickle
 1/2 cup cole-slaw dressing
- Place cabbage on a board and quarter and shred. Peel onions. Place on waxed paper on board and chop medium coarse. Add pickles and chop until mixture is medium fine. Place in bowl with shredded cabbage. Add dressing and toss lightly. Serve well chilled. Serves 4 to 6.
- CABBAGE CREOLE
 1/2 cup chopped onions
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
 3 tablespoons minced green pepper
 3 whole cloves
 1/2 bay leaf
 1 tablespoon brown sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 large head of cabbage
- Peel onions. Place on waxed paper on board and chop or slice medium coarse. Saute onions in butter for 5 minutes, then add tomatoes, green pepper, sugar and spices and simmer for 15 minutes.

Now, add cabbage, cover and simmer about 7 minutes. Serves 4.

Golden Reception Of Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kohlhaugen will hold open house from 2 to 3 p. m. on Sunday, July 10 to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at their Roseburg residence, 901 Military street, where they have lived continuously since 1899. They were married in Roseburg on July 12, 1899. Mrs. Kohlhaugen (Nora Bolsinger) is a native of Douglas county, having been born at Lookingglass near Roseburg. Mr. Kohlhaugen was born in Caledonia, New York, near Rochester, and came to Roseburg as a young man, where he was a dealer in livestock until his retirement several years ago.

Their three daughters and one son are all living. Daughters are Mrs. Glenn E. Devenpeck (Veronica), Wellington, Nevada; Mrs. Howard Zimmer (Elna), Sherwood, Oregon and Miss Bertha Kohlhaugen of Salem. Their son, Louis S. Kohlhaugen resides in Roseburg. There is one grandson, George F. Zimmer.

They are extending through the press an invitation to their many friends and relatives to call during the afternoon. Former Roseburg residents and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Kohlhaugen who will go to Roseburg from Salem to assist at the open house include Mrs. R. W. Marsters, Misses Ruth Ann and Janie Percy, Mrs. F. W. Poorman, Mrs. Joseph Fredrickson, Miss Zelma Busch and their daughter, Miss Bertha Kohlhaugen.

Sale at Bush Home

Salem Art Association will hold a sale of excess furniture at the Bush home on Mission street, Friday, July 8 from 10 to 4 o'clock. The sale is to be in the basement. Committee in charge include Mrs. Breyman Boise, Mrs. F. W. Poorman, Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. Clifford Taylor.

Announcements have been received telling of the marriage of Wesley E. Bradley, USN, son of Mrs. Nina Stesney of Salem, and Miss Dorothy Gephart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Gephart of Farmersville, Ohio, which took place in Norfolk, Virginia on May 28.

Mrs. Bradley attended Salem school before enlisting in the navy. His wife was with the McColl Corp., of Dayton, Ohio prior to her marriage.

Salem friends of Mrs. Norman Murray Smith, who formerly resided in Portland, will be interested to learn she has arrived in Portland for her annual summer visit. The Smiths now live in Columbia, South Carolina where Admiral Smith is remaining for the summer session of the University of South Carolina of which he is president.

Mrs. Lloyd V. Bell is being welcomed home from a ten months stay in Washington, D. C., where she has been visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk V. Bell, and grandson, Lawrence Lloyd Bell. Her son is connected with the government intelligence service.
