Beauty May Extend Past First Youth

By Max Factor, Jr.
(Famous Make-up Advisor to the Screen Stars)

HOLLYWOOD, July 13 (INS) — Don't try to be both a working-girl and a "play-girl" if you are at all serious about really being the former. If you are intent on being a success in whatever kind of work or career you have chosen for yourself, you can't be a full time play-girl at the same time. These two fields of activity just don't mix on any such basis.

Most working women who are at all ambitious realize these facts, and govern themselves accordingly. But there are a few, generally very young ones, who endeavor to do their day's work and then go on to be the "Life of the Party" for countless sleepless hours, night after night.

In more ways than one this is a serious mistake. The work of such girls is not as efficient as it should be, and their chances of making a career of their jobs is consequently that much less.

Then, too, as a veteran observer of the feminine glamour scene, I can state positively that these girls are greatly endangering their good looks. Beauty and appearance appeal can't stand up for long under the "double life" involved in work, and too much play, and not enough rest.

More Than Make-Up Deep

Feminine beauty is a quality which should be considerably more than make-up deep. Make-up should never be considered as the sole source of appearance appeal. Make-up should be regarded only as a device to refine, dramatize and accentuate natural beauty. And, such natural beauty, if it is to survive more than the few years of a woman's extreme youth, demands safe-and-sane living practices, and the abundance of health, which goes with these.

Practically every woman possesses glamorous and beautiful features in great measure when her womanhood is new and young. Not all of them, however, continue to command these same powers of attraction after a few years have gone by, and the very first bloom of their natural beauty is a thing of the past.

Don't assume, however, that your good looks must pass along with the departure of your first youth. A little thinking about the beautiful stars of stage and screen will prove to you that his isn't necessarily so.

Many of the stars whom you find so glamorous today were probably impressing you in the same manner ten or even more years ago. The reason such stars present such beauty and appeal is because they work at maintaining and guarding these qualities.

After their work, they see to it that they nourish their skin just enough—but not too much. If the hard physical work of long hours of exercise is needed to maintain their beauty—they work at that too.

Claude Johns New President

Claude M. Johns will serve as president of the Monday Night Dancing club for the coming year. Officers were elected at the annual summer picnic of the club held Tuesday night in the gardens of the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Fitzmaurice. Officers elected to serve with Mr. Johns are: Duane Gibson, vice president; Russell Kelly, secretary-treasurer; Robert G. Brady and Dr. Grover C. Bellinger, directors; David H. Cameron is the retiring president.

Seventy attended the picnic dinner, dinner dances for the club will be resumed in the fall.

Garden Party For Mrs. Bower to Entertain

SILVERTON—Mrs. L. C. Eastman and Mrs. Norman Eastman entertained at a garden dessert bridge Tuesday afternoon for the pleasure of Mrs. Peggy Scott, who will leave shortly to make her home in Portland. The party was held in the Norman Eastman gardens.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Sam Gauman of Los Angeles and Mrs. H. M. Turlettaub of Portland, aunt and sister of Mrs. Norman Eastman, and Mrs. H. R. Irwin of Eugene.

Eighteen girls who will go on the teen Trek with YWCA staff members soon, spent the weekend at Crestwood becoming oriented to outdoor living. Miss Jean Cleve accompanied them.

Vacationing this week at Circle M ranch on the Metolius are Mrs. Mary Thomas and daughter, Susan, Miss Echo Yeater and Miss Elise Schroeder.

On Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

If a woman is on an elevator, what should she say when a man holds back other men to allow her to leave the elevator first?

A. She should thank him, or nod her head in acknowledgment of the courtesy.

O. Is it all right to use the expression, "I want to make you acquainted with" when making an introduction?

A. No; this phrase is extremely awkward.

Q. What is customary to use as a centerpiece for the wedding breakfast table?

A. The wedding cake.

Quick Cooking Meats Most Popular Of All During Warm Weather Periods

By Maxine Buren
Statesman Women's Editor

Quick-cooking meats — especially welcome during warm summer months — perk up appetites and boost homemaking morale. One of the easiest to prepare and by far the most popular, is ground beef, universally known as hamburger.

Since grinding makes the meat fork-tender, less tender economy cuts of meat may be used. Purchase quality beef already ground by your meat dealer, or, if you prefer, have him grind special cuts such as boneless chuck, to order. Available at some meat counters are 12 oz. packages of frozen hamburger patties ready for cooking and 10 oz. canned hamburger patties pre-browned and cooked in the can.

A word to the wise a bout ground meat from the experts who really know. You'll find a more tender and juicy product results from grinding only once, they say. Extra grinding makes a compact meat patty which is less juicy. To protect its full flavor, keep the meat well-wrapped and refrigerator-cold, and do use within two days after purchase.

For a variation of the usual hamburger patty theme, this time serve seasoned cooked ground beef piled loosely atop toasted buns. Brown the seasoned ground meat just long enough to cook through to retain its full juicy goodness. In the following suggestion, crisp diced celery adds texture and flavor contrast which family preference may change to green pepper strips or chopped mushrooms. So can the meat sauce be varied to include your favorite whether it is catsup, horseradish, mustard or chili sauce. It's fun to experiment for different flavor surprises!

Serve savory beef-on-a-bun sandwiches with golden-brown french-fried or onion rings, thick to mato slices and plenty of hot coffee or iced tea. Or make a tempting meat loaf served hot as a main dish suggestion or a cold, sliced for "ready made" kitchen snacks.

BEFF-ON-A-BUN
Yield: 4 servings
1 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup diced celery
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Brown beef in heavy skillet in small amount of shortening. Add diced celery and seasoning. Cover and steam 5 minutes. Serve in hot buttered hamburger buns. Serve with French fried onion rings and tomato slices or sauce.

WESTERN RANCH MEAT LOAF
Yield: 4 servings
1 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons shortening
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 egg
1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup tomato juice
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Brown onion and celery in shortening. Combine with salt, egg, bread crumbs, and water to make a dressing. Add half of the dressing (3/4 cup) to the meat, mixing well. Pat out half the meat mixture in a 1-quart loaf pan. Cover with remaining meat mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 1/2 hours. Baste twice with tomato juice and melted butter to keep moist.
