Wife's Allergy To Husband No Divorce Cause

LOS ANGELES, July 26—(AP)—She may be allergic to her husband, but that's not grounds for divorce.

"Everytime I got near him I broke out in a rash," Mrs. Joyce Holdridge, 27, testified. "It was painful, too."

But not the fault of Nolan Holdridge, 26, a watchmaker, ruled Superior Judge Ray Brockman. And it definitely doesn't constitute cruelty, the jurist added, denying the decree.

Mrs. Holdridge said the rash doesn't bother her these days. She lives here, her husband in San Francisco.

Oregon Farmfolk Reminded of Nearing State Fair Deadline

Oregon farm folk, as well as others, are being reminded this week that the biggest agricultural show of the year is just around the corner. State Fair Manager Leo Spitzbart is calling special attention of livestock men that the entries in this division closes at midnight, August 5, exactly one month before the fair itself opens.

Spitzbart adds that premium lists for all competitive classifications may be had by writing the Oregon State Fair, Salem.

'Telesquat,' 'Telecrane' New Ailments

CHICAGO, July 26—(AP)—T. V. fans may be getting "telesquat" and "telecrane," special ailments, Dr. Martin R. Stone, president of the Chicago chiropractic society, said Monday.

The two ailments were discussed by Dr. Stone at the 54th annual convention of the National Chiropractic association.

Persons who perch themselves precariously on the edge of their spine by sitting in a slumped position are asking for trouble, he said. They are doing the "Telesquat," a name chosen by Dr. Stone.

"They sit on the bottom of their spine and not on their bottom like nature intended. Sitting on the large bone at the base of the spine can cause a low backache and other physical disturbances," he said.

Sitting in a forward bent position puts a strained effort on the vertebrae of the neck. This is what Dr. Stone calls "Telecrane." This practice can cause severe neckache, headache, and increase eyestrain, Dr. Stone said. He suggests an absolute upright position with both feet flat on the floor for good health.

The National Chiropractic association, claiming 5,000 members, is holding a six-day meeting. It ends July 29.

Wooster Begins New Study Plan

WOOSTER, O.—(INS)—Wooster college's independent study plan, decided upon in 1945 and begun last fall, is bringing a new respect for learning to the college.

According to Dr. Howard Foster Lowry, seventh head of the 79-year-old Ohio Presbyterian school, the plan, initiated with the present junior class of 240 men and women, is liberating students "for a lifetime's intellectual adventure."

The Wooster plan, Dr. Lowry states, is similar in some respects to one in effect at Princeton university, in that after 14 years of assigned classroom, students are made to feel like "participants, not spectators."

The plan takes effect in the junior year, when a student takes two courses in his major field, two elective courses, and does independent work on a subject of his own choosing in English.

Plans Complete For Silverton Horse Show

SILVERTON—Plans for the Western Horse show to be held here August 6 were completed at the Monday meeting of the Rotary club, Parsy Rose, general chairman of the event, reports. The show will consist of 14 acts including a horse-versus-man race.

The Silverton high school challenged the Silverton Saddle club to the race, with Jack Green, a senior, to compete in the 20-yard dash and back race. The challenge was accepted by Anton Sacher, president of the Saddle club who states he will furnish the club's fastest horse for the event. High school youths who are enthusiastic about the race feel that "man" will have the edge on the horse in the start and the turning around the stake to enter the home stretch.

Also included in the show will be matched pairs, pleasure horses and parade horses. Rose stated that anyone who can ride a horse is welcome to compete and that there are no entry fees.

Cecil Edwards of Salem will be mike-master-of- ceremonies and Roy Simmons, also of Salem, will be judge of the horse events.

The answers to everyday insurance problems

By SID BOISE

QUESTION: Recently some friends and neighbors of ours had a serious fire. When the firemen had put out the fire, our friends wanted to go into the least damaged part of the house to remove some furniture and other possessions to their garage, which had not burned. However, some other neighbors told them that if they moved anything, the insurance company might not pay for their loss. Could you tell me if this is correct?

ANSWER: Far from it! Actually your friends not only had a perfect right to move their possessions to a safe place—it was their duty to do so. People who suffer a fire loss are obligated to do everything possible to prevent further damage or loss to undamaged or partially damaged property.

If you will address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.
