Nuptials at Silverton Church

Miss Marilyn Rasmussen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rasmussen, became the bride of Harry E. Lehnher, son of E. J. Lehnher of Turner, at an evening ceremony on August 4 at the Immanuel Lutheran church in Silverton. The Rev. S. L. Almie officiated at the 8 o'clock nuptials and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dyrud sang. Mrs. Arthur Dahl of Silverton was the organist. Lighting the tapers were Miss Vernetta Herr and Mrs. Eugene Borthwick, sister of the groom. They wore lime green dresses.

Miss Carol Rasmussen was her sister's maid of honor and wore a delphinium blue gown and bridesmaids were Miss Bonnie Lermo of Bend and Miss Maxine Werner of Salem, who wore shell pink dresses. The taffeta frocks of the candlelighters and attendants were all made alike with rounded necklines, bertha collars and full gathered skirts with bustles. The attendants carried lace fans, the maid of honors of pink with white asters and the bridesmaids of lime green with pink asters.

Kathy Borthwick, niece of the groom, was the flower girl and wore a white taffeta dress. Mr. Rasmussen gave his daughter in marriage and she wore a white marquisette gown fashioned with a high, rounded neckline, and yoke of marquisette and lace. The skirt, which ended in a train, was edged with panels of lace with a wide ruffle edging the hemline. Her illusion veil fell from a Mary Stuart can with a small cluster of orange blossoms on either side. For "something old" she carried a handmade handkerchief with lace, which had been made by her maternal grandmother. She carried a lace fan, which matched the lace on her dress, of bouvardia and white orchids.

John L. Lehnher was best man for his brother and ushers were Eugene Borthwick, Donald White and Edwin Schwengel.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rasmussen wore an aqua crepe gown with drape skirt, grey accessories and corsage of pink rosebuds.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Pouring were Mrs. Everett Brines and Mrs. Jul Farr and cutting the cake were Mrs. Max Holland and Mrs. H. N. Okmolt. Assisting were Miss Arlyce Klampe, Mrs. Lyle Knower, Mrs. John Lehnher, Miss Virginia Monson, Miss Donna Pearson and Miss Gloria Brines.

After a wedding trip to Crater Lake and Klamath Falls the couple will live in Turner. For going away the bride donned a silk print dress with white accessories.

Miss Pauline Morse Is Married

White and ice blue, accented with fuchsia were the colors selected by Miss Pauline Morse for her wedding on Sunday afternoon when she became Mrs. Frank Charles Rock, jr. The lovely mid-summer ceremony took place at St. Paul's Episcopal church at 4 o'clock with the Rev. George H. Swift officiating. The altar was banked with bouquets of white gladioluses and white tapers. Miss Edith Fairham sang before the bride and Miss Ruth Bedford was the organist.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Morse, was given in marriage by her father. The tall, blonde bride wore a handsome classic style gown of ivory satin designed with a full skirt terminating in a train. The fitted bodice was made with long sleeves and a marquisette yoke edged with a wide satin cuff finished with a knot in the center front. An ivory satin open crown headpiece held in place her French imported ivory illusion veil, which was fingertip length. She carried ivory roses.

Mrs. Paul Lippold was her sister's matron of honor and walking before her were Miss Patricia Zahare and Miss Roberta Tussing, the bridesmaids. They all wore identical frocks of ice blue slipper satin fashioned with quilted satin boat shaped necklines and full skirts. They had matching satin mitts and carried bouquets of fuchsia roses. In their hair were coronets of flowers. Diane Lippold was flower girl for her aunt and wore a fuchsia pink tulle frock.

William Rock stood with his brother as best man and showing the guests to their pews were James Ror Richard Taw, Glenn Widdows and Farrell Rust.

Mrs. Morse selected a navy blue crepe afternoon dress with lace trim for her daughter's nuptials. She wore deep pink gloves and pink flowers in her hair. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Rock and the latter attended her son's marriage in a steel blue satin gown with burgandy accessories and burgandy flowers in her hair.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the parish house. Pouring were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. E. R. Morse, and Mrs. R. W. Wilson of Eugene, and Mrs. A. C. Loppnow or Rochester, Minn., aunts of the groom. Mrs. Rafael Venegas (Sarah Morse) of Irapuato, Mexico cut her sister's wedding cake. Assisting were Mrs. Charles S. McElhinny, Mrs. Albert Cohen, Misses Mary Phillips of Berkeley, Calif., cousin of the bride, Misses Sue McElhinny, Sally Smith, Margaret Gilmer, Jean Gilmer, Diane Proctor, and Prudence Craig.

For going away the bride donned a turquoise gabardine suit with black accessories. The couple will drive south along the coast to Los Angeles, where they will live. Mr. Rock is a research scientist with Technicolor Incorporated in the southern city.

OUTSTANDINGLY BEAUTIFUL was the marriage of Margaret Jane Cooley and John Phillip Maulding Saturday night . . . St. Paul's Episcopal the setting for the nuptials . . . and never have we seen the church more beautifully decorated . . . Masses of white flowers at the altar, the chancel rail gaily decorated with smilax . . . The aisle marked with tall wrought iron candelabras and the alternate pews with clusters of white flowers . . . Gorgeous bouquets of flowers in the stained glass windows and baskets of the flowers hung on the walls . . .

The processional . . . Eight pretty attendants preceded Margaret to the altar . . . all so calm and poised and decided brunettes and blondes . . . Their white marquisette frocks accented with red velvet ribbon streamers which extended from the back of their lace hats to the hemline of their dresses . . . and exquisite their large colonial bouquets of American Beauty roses and baby breath . . . The bride a stunning picture in her white organza and lace gown as she walked down the aisle on her father's arm with the veil over her face for the ceremony . . . Many comments on her crescent shaped bouquet . . . of lilies of-the-valley, white roses and white purple throated orchids . . . Her only ornament a pearl and rhinestone bracelet, Jack's gift to Margaret . . .

The reception . . . the attractive terraced garden of the Ralph Cooleys the setting . . . The bride's niece, Christy Cooley, a little too young to be the flower attendant even to the little mits and hat . . . The flower beds in the garden so colorful with loads of summer blooms . . . A string orchestra playing background music during the reception . . . The two bride's tables, one in the dining room and the other on the terrace, decorated identical with garlands of smilax caught with gardenia clusters . . . Outstanding the tiered pillard cakes, Jack and Margie cutting the first piece of each one . . . Members of the bridal party all toasting the newlyweds on the upper terrace by the buffet table . . . there the white cloth over pink . . . and trays of delicious sliced turkey, ham and cheeses . . .

More of same . . . Adorable were Sydney Shepard and Carol Boesch, in their pink and blue long dresses and passing the dream cakes, which were in tiny white boxes embossed with the gold initials, M and C . . . Later the two girls distributing the rice bags, over 200 of them and made by Mrs. James H. Nicholson and Mrs. U. Scott Page . . . Just before changing into their traveling clothes Jack and Margie stood on the terrace steps while she threw her bouquet . . . and her honor maid, Mariann Croisan, the lucky catcher . . . A beautiful array of gifts in the master bedroom . . . In the center a table set with the bride's Spode and her Haviland and a gorgeous bouquet of pink roses, white delphinium and baby breath . . . Beautiful bouquets about the house . . . and on the piano with Margaret's picture white roses and baby breath . . .

Dozens from out-of-town . . . Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bishop of Portland and the Charles Kay Bishops of Washougal . . . the latter striking in a delft blue crepe gown . . .
