From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh Specs And | See Eye To Eye

Asked Specs Allen to go hunting last week. Known him all my life, so I wasn't surprised when he showed up with no gun. Specs doesn't like to kill anything · Couldn't ask for a better hunting companion, though. We tramp around the woods, and whenever the dogs flush a bird, I blaze away while Specs just watches.

Told him once I was surprised he went along ... feeling the way he does about shooting anything. "Well, Joe," he says, "you do what you think is right and I'll stick to what I think is right. I've no call to dislike you for not seeing everything the way I see it." From where I sit, open-mindedness is a wonderful quality. There are plenty of things Specs admires that I don't care for. Like his fondness for buttermilk. I'd rather have a glass of beer anytime . . . but Specs Allen and I don't let little differences get in the way of something big like friendship.

Checking Up for Safety's Sake R. M. State

Inspectors from the secretary of state's office will examine more than 1,300 school buses in Oregon for safety and trustworthiness under a law passed by the state legislature and effective July 16. Above are two inspectors, J. O. Byerly, Albany, standing, and D. V. Price, Monmouth, kneeling, looking over one of Salem school district's buses. Watching from bus window is Harvey Wright, state department of education director of transportation. The three are paying particular attention to a new stop sign device of the type which will be mounted on all school buses as a reminder of another new law requiring all motorists to stop for school buses.
