

Novelist Laid to Rest

ATLANTA, Aug. 18 — With the skyline of Atlanta in the background, the body of Margaret Mitchell, renowned author of "Gone With the Wind," is carried into historic Oakland cemetery here this morning by funeral home attendants. The pall bearers walk immediately in front. Miss Mitchell died August 16, five days after she was mortally injured when she was struck down by an automobile driven by an off-duty cab driver. She and her husband, John Marsh were attempting to cross Peachtree street at the time. (AP Wirephoto to the Statesman)

Lions Hear E. O. Stadter

Citizens should be alert to their responsibilities in society toward helping law enforcement officers, District Attorney E. O. Stadter emphasized in a talk before Salem Lions club Thursday noon in the Marion hotel.

Stadter said that crime and law enforcement are so costly to society that citizens at large stand to gain by doing their part to help. One of the best aids, Stadter indicated, is responsible adult-sponsored programs for youth, to help get them started on the right path of society.

Stanley Smith reported to the Lions group that its sponsorship of Empire Night Wednesday at Waters park had raised approximately $300 for the club's fund to provide glasses and other aids to visually handicapped.

Governor Asks Return Of Arkansas Woman

Return of Edith Mahon, under arrest at Clarendon, Ark., to Dallas, where she is wanted on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses, was requested Thursday by Gov. Douglas McKay.

Officers said two companions of the woman prior to her departure from Oregon are now serving terms in the state penitentiary here.

Sears Officials From Chicago See New Store

Salem's new Sears store was visited Thursday by executives from the firm's main offices in Chicago.

Charles Kellstadt, the company's retail sales manager, headed the delegation. They stopped here for two hours while enroute by plane from Seattle to Los Angeles for an area meeting. J. F. Mosolf, manager of Sears' local store, met them at the airport.

Others in the group, all sales managers for their respective departments, were D. L. Odell, radio and television; A. J. Natemeyer, building materials; C. Kresl, floor coverings; G. A. Baehr, plumbing equipment; J. A. Hurley, appliances; H. B. Van Valkenberg, sporting goods; T. M. Dunlap, tools and hardware; R. E. Brooker, auto accessories and tires; J. C. Pfeifle, children's clothing and dresses; and J. G. Scott, in charge of inventory control.
