Wedding in Tillamook Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Menno Dalke of Salem are announcing the marriage of their son, John Dalke and Arletta Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper of Tillamook. The wedding ceremony was exchanged at a four o'clock ceremony Sunday afternoon in the chapel of the First Methodist church Tillamook.

L. Russell of Salem was best man for the groom. For her wedding the bride chose a beige suit with white accessories and carried a white Bible.

Stayton Couple Wed in Salem

STAYTON — Scene of a wedding Saturday August 13, was the Sunset avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geil in Salem, when Miss Dorothy Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams, exchanged vows with Charles R. Geil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Geil, all of Stayton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ralph Geil, grandfather of the bridegroom.

Attending the couple were the hosts. Mr. Geil is a great uncle of the groom.

The bride chose a light brown suit with matching accessories for her wedding, with which she wore a corsage of Talsman roses.

Mrs. Russell Geil attended her son's wedding in an aqua suit and rose corsage. Others attending from Stayton were Mrs. Charles Walker, grandmother of the groom, and Mack Williams, brother of the bride.

The bride has been attending Stayton high school and has been active in school activities and is a member of Aecia assembly order of Rainbow for Girls. The groom graduated from Stayton high school in 1945 and is employed by the Geil and Van Handel Lumber company.

Following a wedding trip to the coast, the couple are now at home in Stayton.

Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding, president of Santiam area Girl Scout council went to Smith Creek camp on Friday to pay her official visit to the Girl Scout camp. She took treats for the campers.

Hands Up!

Palms certainly aren't a lost art — men still analyze hands and fingertips. They might not be able to tell you that your squarish-tipped fingers denote creative ability of that oval-tipped fingers are a sign of a poised woman — they'll leave that to party palmists. But they can spot hands that have character.

An attractive movie actor said recently that the two most important features a woman possesses are her hands and hair. If she would just keep them beautiful, shining and clean, he claimed, she could hope to win a man.

One might say that is a question of opinion. There are lots of beautifully groomed women who never get a man. On the other hand there are plenty of women who have won their men on farms or in factories where busy hands can be anything but shining.

But your chances certainly will be greater if your hands do not tattle that you are careless about grooming.

Hands love pampering. A good lemon lotion is made by combining two parts fresh lemon juice, one part rubbing alcohol, one part glycerine, and a drop or two of perfume. This is an excellent conditioner. Use it on elbows, too, while you are about it. Scrub them first with warm soapy water and a bit of pumice stone.

Smooth the lotion down over each finger toward the wrist, as you would in putting on a glove. This will help to reduce puffiness.
