On Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. Is it all right to serve corn on the cob at a dinner party?
A. It would probably be better if something else were chosen. There are so many other vegetables to serve, that it is not necessary to serve anything that might be difficult for the guests to handle.

Q. When introduced to a person for a second time, what should one say?
A. The common expression is: "I've already had the pleasure," but one may say, "I think I met Mr. Blank last month."

Q. Should apologies be made for writing a friendly letter on the typewriter?
A. No; this is permissible, and considered in good form.
