

'Big Top' Rises Today at State Fairgrounds

Today the red wagons roll. The four long railroad trains of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus were due between 1 and 3 a.m. this morning in the Southern Pacific yards, coming from Portland.

The Flying Squadron—first in, with the cookhouse and menagerie—was to be spotted on the railway crossing for swift unloading by daybreak.

Red wagons and cages were then to proceed by motor to the show lot at the fair grounds parking lot, where performances will be given at 2:15 and 8:15 p.m., with doors open at 1 and 7 p.m., today.

The other three trains, with the elephants, the world's largest big top, the horse tents, the dressing rooms, the shop tents, tons of rigging and paraphernalia, hundreds of horses and the bulk of the circus cast of 1450 people, follow at intervals of half an hour.

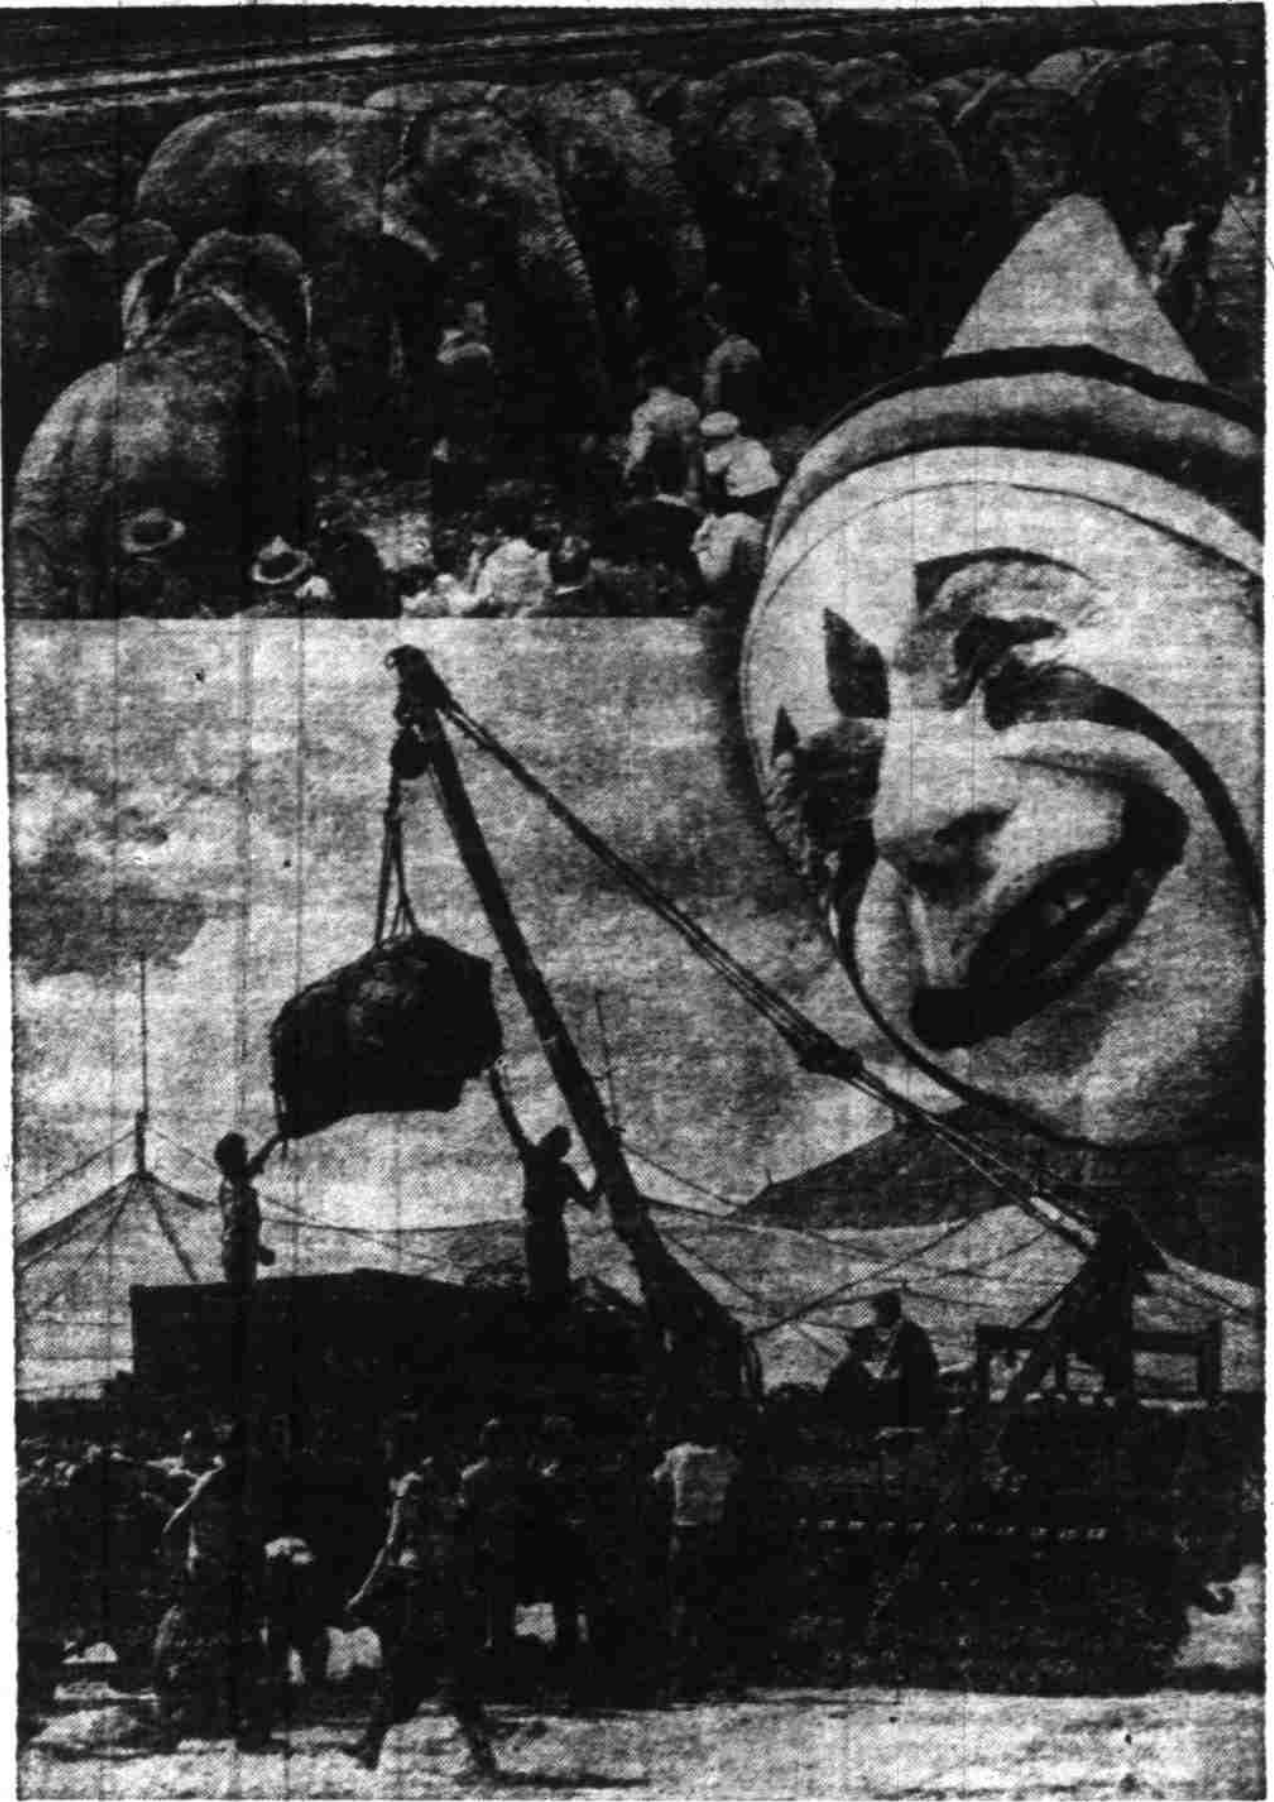

Birthdays Theme
The big burrah of the Big Show this year is "Birthdays," the featured spectacle, celebrating in fantasy and fun, the natal days of nursery rhyme and fairy tales' characters. It requires a cast of 2,000 people and animals. Next is "The Girl in the Moon," an aerial extravaganza with 60 smiling girls soaring in 60 smiling moons; then comes "San Francisco," dashing equestrian salute to the Golden Gate, the Gold Rush and the '49-ers in this, their centennial year. Last is "The Glorious Fourth," the patriotic, aerial pageant, with elephants, clowns and girls in a red, white and blue tidal wave.

Pre-eminent in the van of the invading stars and features from Europe this year are Clauson's Syrian Acrobatic Bears; the Margat, aerial ballerinas; Alma Pila, French darling of big top flights; Bokara Sextette of somersaulting marvels; Lillian Wittmack, Denmark's equestrienne; Peterson's jockey dogs; Del Morales, Spanish high-perch wizards; the Astrid Franklin gyro-gymnasts; Swanson in suicidal plunges; La Norma, Parisian Pinwheel, and scores of others.

Acts Held Over
Held over from last year's importations are Unus, the man who "walks" on his forefinger; Francis Brunn, juggling genius; the Alazanas, thrillers on the high wire; Justino Loyal, bareback riding star; Lola Dobrich, toe dancer on the tight wire; the Baginos, acrobats; bareback somersaulting stars; Kay Clarke, aerialist; the Flying Concellos; Flying Artions; the Flying Comets; Dhotre's Leopards, Mathies Tigers and others.

After tonight's performance, the four long circus trains will depart for Eugene.
