

Tito Answers 'Plotting' Blast By Hungary

By Alex Singleton
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 14 (AP)—The information ministry issued tonight a statement declaring Hungarian charges that Premier Marshal Tito's government plotted against Hungary's communist regime were "lies and slanders."

Hungary declared last Saturday that Yugoslav and American agencies conspired with her former foreign minister, Lazo Rajk, and seven others to kill off key communists and overthrow the Hungarian government. The eight are to go on trial in Budapest Friday.

The denial was another shot in Yugoslavia's word war with the Russian-led communist information bureau, the cominform.

To Increase Trade
A fresh step in Yugoslavia's efforts to increase trade with non-communist areas was announced today. The government said Yugoslavia will ship hardwood, tobacco and metals to Finland in return for rayon, paper and other goods under newly concluded trade pact to last until the end of 1950. The amount of goods involved was not stated.

The statement of the Hungarian treason case was presented by the information ministry by the Yugoslav organization of republican veterans of the Spanish civil war. It said that Hungary, with Soviet permission, has used "base lies and deceptions against Yugoslavia, as in the case of Rajk." It referred in detail to Yugoslav contributions to the fight against Generalissimo Francisco Franco in the Spanish war and to the Yugoslav battle for liberation in World War II.

Called Secret Agent
The Hungarian indictment dealing with the former foreign minister, in addition to charging that he plotted with high Yugoslav authorities, said he was a secret agent in Hungary's prewar police and engaged in "destructive activity" in Franco's behalf in Spain.

A Yugoslav leader declared today Russia hopes, in steaming up the propaganda campaign against Tito, to block him off from trade and other agreements with the west.

Vladimir Bakaric, president of the Croatian republic, wrote in the communist newspaper Borba that this pressure-cooking is intended to create the impression Marshal Tito's government is about to blow up and it would be unwise to make deals with him.

A Sound Analysis
Diplomatic observers said this seemed to be a sound analysis of the situation. Yugoslavia is near conclusion of a long-term trade pact with Britain. A world bank commission has under way an inquiry into Yugoslavia's application for a loan of $250,000,000 or more. Her bid for western aid already has been fruit in a $20,000,000 loan from the U.S. export-import bank and a $5,000,000 steel mill from America.

From here it looked as though Russia may be aiming at blocking further aid from the west, gambling that the almost solid economic sanctions clamped on Yugoslavia by the cominform states of eastern Europe eventually would then bear fruit in the collapse of the Tito regime.

Water District Boundary Line Change Asked

Marion county court has under advisement a request that the boundary lines of the proposed Liberty-Salem Heights water district be amended.

A hearing on the request was held before the court Wednesday. Proponents of the district consented to eliminating from the present proposed boundaries an area extending from Salem city limits south and east of the Pacific highway to Oak Hill avenue.

A number of residents of that area requested they be excluded from the proposed district because they had "other arrangements" for fire protection. Not yet settled are other proposals to eliminate a small section adjacent to Mary and Ewald avenues, Seenic View and Duplex drive and an area along the south side of county road 813—the road just south of Liberty road.

Present at the hearing Wednesday were Ray R. Ritchie, Wayne A. Curry, Eloyd McClellan, Carl Harris, Mrs. Paul Rife, Mrs. H. A. Rosebraugh, Raymond P. Ritchie, Paul Griebenow, Edward Coleman, William J. Linfoot, Eleanor S. Griffith, and two state fire wardens—M. J. Gelson and A. J. Butsch.

Assessors of 8 Counties to Attend Meet

Assessors of eight counties in the Willamette valley will attend a training course to be conducted by the assessment and taxation division of the state tax commission next Tuesday and Wednesday in Salem.

The main theme of the conference will deal with methods of appraising dwellings and industrial plants. The state tax commission has compiled and published a 111-page pamphlet entitled "Factors of Cost for Building Appraisals." This is the first revision of a manual of appraisal methods since 1931. The factor book is intended as a guide to the components of a dwelling and includes a quick method of arriving at an appraisal after a brief study of the structure.

This conference will be the third of a series of five meetings. Sessions have already been held at LaGrande and Pendleton and following the Salem conference there will be groups of assessors and appraisal officers at Medford and Astoria in October. It is the desire to give every assessor an opportunity to attend the lectures and have the amendments to the assessment and taxation laws, enacted in the 1949 legislature, explained by an assistant attorney general.

Invited to the Salem in-service training program are the following assessors: E. E. Larkin, Benton county; Rufus E. Wood, Clackamas; George A. Stock, Lane; John W. Sheppard, Linn; R. Shelton, Marion; Wilbur J. Falloon, Multnomah; E. C. Dunn, Polk; and Fred Muhs, Yamhill. In addition to the assessors and their assistants, the sessions will be open to all officials interested in taxation and especially in appraisal of property.

U.S. to Protest Reds' Abuse of Human Rights

By John M. Hightower
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—The United States will carry to the United Nations its charges that communist Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania show "callous disregard" of their peace treaty pledges to protect human rights.

Secretary of State Acheson disclosed this at a news conference today. The action will be the latest in a long and increasingly bitter series of exchanges between the United States and Britain on one hand and the three Russian satellites on the other over the methods by which the communists in those countries have seized and consolidated their power.

Smash Opposition
American and British allegations of peace treaty violations were based on charges that the Bulgarian, Hungarian and Romanian communist regimes had smashed opposition political parties, suppressed free speech, denied free worship and otherwise robbed their people of democratic rights.

The two western powers formally accused them of violating their peace treaty pledges. The satellite governments, with obvious Russian support, rejected the accusation. The European London and Washington sent notes invoking peace treaty provisions for setting up commissions to settle the dispute.

All Reject Proposal
Acheson reported today that with their usual unanimity Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania had all rejected the commission proposal.

The three governments continue to contend they have not violated treaty guarantees of human rights, he said, but "have refused to cooperate in establishing these commissions."

The question of human rights violations by Bulgaria and Hungary is already on the agenda of the U. N. general assembly which meets in New York next Tuesday, Acheson said, and Australia has proposed that the Romanian case also be taken up.

Suits Result From Double Auto Accident

Two suits for damages resulting from an automobile accident August 27 on the Pacific highway near Salem were filed in Marion county circuit court Wednesday.

In one complaint James W. Schwab, driver of one automobile, is seeking $5,000 for injuries allegedly occurring in the accident. James F. Dye, owner of the car driven by Schwab is suing for $400 for damages to his vehicle, a 1936 Chevrolet.

Both complaints are brought against F. M. Gray and O. P. Emery, described in the complaint as owners and operators of the second car. Gray and Emery are charged in both complaints with being negligent and intoxicated at the time of the crash.

The accident occurred, according to the complaint, when the car being driven by Schwab slowed down at the scene of an earlier collision on the highway. Both cars were traveling north, according to the complaint.

Ex-Sen. Cooper Nominated for U.N. Vacancy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—John Sherman Cooper, former state judge and republican senator from Kentucky, was nominated today to take over the United Nations post formerly held by John Forster Dullles.

President Truman sent Cooper's nomination to the senate along with those of other delegates to represent the United States at the fourth regular session of the U. N. general assembly. The assembly will convene in New York September 20.

Secretary of State Acheson will head the U. S. delegation as usual, but he does not have to be confirmed by the senate for this post. Warren R. Austin, former republican senator from Vermont, was renominated by the president to serve on the delegation. He will be senior representative when Acheson is unable to be present.

Others renominated were: Philip C. Jessup and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, widow of the late president. Nominated as alternates were: Wilson M. Compton, president of Washington State college; Benjamin V. Cohen of New York; Charles Fahy of New Mexico; John D. Hickerson of Texas; and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Rohde of New York.

Engineers to Release Valley Dam Waters

EUGENE, Sept. 14 (AP)—Army engineers will begin lowering the level of the Cottage Grove and Fern Ridge reservoirs Thursday. They said the release of stored waters would raise the level of the Long Tom river channel about five feet, and the Coast Fork of the Willamette river about three feet.

The levels are being lowered in anticipation of fall rains.

Pineapple to Cost More on West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Hawaiian canned pineapple will cost West Coast consumers more than those on the East Coast, according to Henry A. White, president of the Hawaiian Pineapple Co., because of the Hawaiian dock strike.

White made this prediction here today in discussing the movement of the canned product from the islands. Ships carrying the goods, White said, are being loaded despite the strike but are by-passing the West Coast because longshoremen won't work the vessels.

As a result, he said, the bulk of the 1949 pack is being routed to East Coast ports. It is unloaded there and shipped by rail to the West Coast. This added cost, White said, "will be an expensive burden for western consumers."
