Buck Derby Planned at Four Corners

Statesman News Service
FOUR CORNERS—The Four Corners Rod and Gun club is sponsoring its annual buck derby for the largest deer horns. In front of Behm's market, at the Four Corner's intersection, is a large buck derby safety display reminding hunters to shoot the deer and not the man.
 As usual, the hunters turning in the largest mule deer horns and the largest black tail deer horns will each receive a sporting rifle. An innovation this year will be a booby prize in each classification.
 There has been quite a large participation in the running deer target practice held this year in the Pudding River canyon eight miles east.

Devaluation Not to Blame

LONDON, Sept. 27—No, you can't blame devaluation of the British pound for the predicament Heinrich Behrans, 55, finds himself in on a visit to London, England. Behrans, billed as "the smallest man in the world," had just arrived from the United States to appear in a Liverpool show. Thirty inches high and 30 pounds, Behrans requires the aid of an oversized "Bobby" to read street signs. (AP Wirephoto to the Statesman.)

W. E. Stanton, 98, Albany, Dies Monday

Statesman News Service
ALBANY—Funeral services for Warren E. Stanton, 98, who died at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Clyde A. Davis of Portland, Monday following a brief illness, will be held from the Fisher Funeral Home in Albany at 1:30 o'clock, Thursday. The Rev. George Huber, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Riverside.
 The life of Warren Stanton is closely connected with the history of the middle west. He was born near Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 27, 1851. He lived in Michigan until he was in his early twenties. He then went to Nebraska, making the trip by ox team, later living in the Dakotas for a time, and then to Kansas. He aided his father in the farm work, using a hand scythe, and a hand cradle, and it was one of his disappointments that while he lived to see the modern farm machinery, he had never been able to use any of it.
 After spending ten years in Kansas, Stanton moved to Holbrook, Colo., and in 1920 came to Albany. Since 1932 he has made his home in Portland. At the beginning of the Civil war, Stanton himself was too young to serve but he had three brothers and four brothers-in-law, in the service at the time. Being one of 12 children in his family, he often boasted of their long life. Of the twelve, there were eight who lived to be past the age of 70 years, and three others past the age of 93 years.
 On June 26, 1894, in Washington, Kansas, Stanton married Elizabeth Pressnell. She died April 21, 1932. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Anna M. Rich of Portland, and a son, Russell K. Stanton of Denver, Colo. Also a brother, Charles L. Stanton of Caledonia, Mich., who is now 93 years of age. Surviving also are eight grandchildren, Raymond and Lloyd Rich of Albany, Howard Rich of Camas, Wash., Clifford Rich of Seattle, Wash., Mrs. Alice Davis of Portland, and Richard and Norma Stanton of Denver, Colo.; and four great grandchildren, James and Judith Rich of Camas, Wash., and John and Jerry Rich of Seattle, Wash. Grandsons will serve as pall bearers at the funeral.

Yes, because of your acceptance of our new store in Salem, which gave us a tremendous volume of business in our first year, we feel it only fair to RE-ADJUST OUR PRICING-SCHEDULE! This means you can drive to M. K. N. and save . . . more! The "second"?

And that is just what we mean. Because we are out of the high rent district, our operating expenses are cut to a bare minimum, so we are able to schedule our prices to you at little more than cost. And, of course, you know this means better quality furniture for you, at a saving! In addition to our radical price drop, we give easy credit, and free estimates on venetian blinds, carpeting, linoleum and draperies! And, the "third" . . .

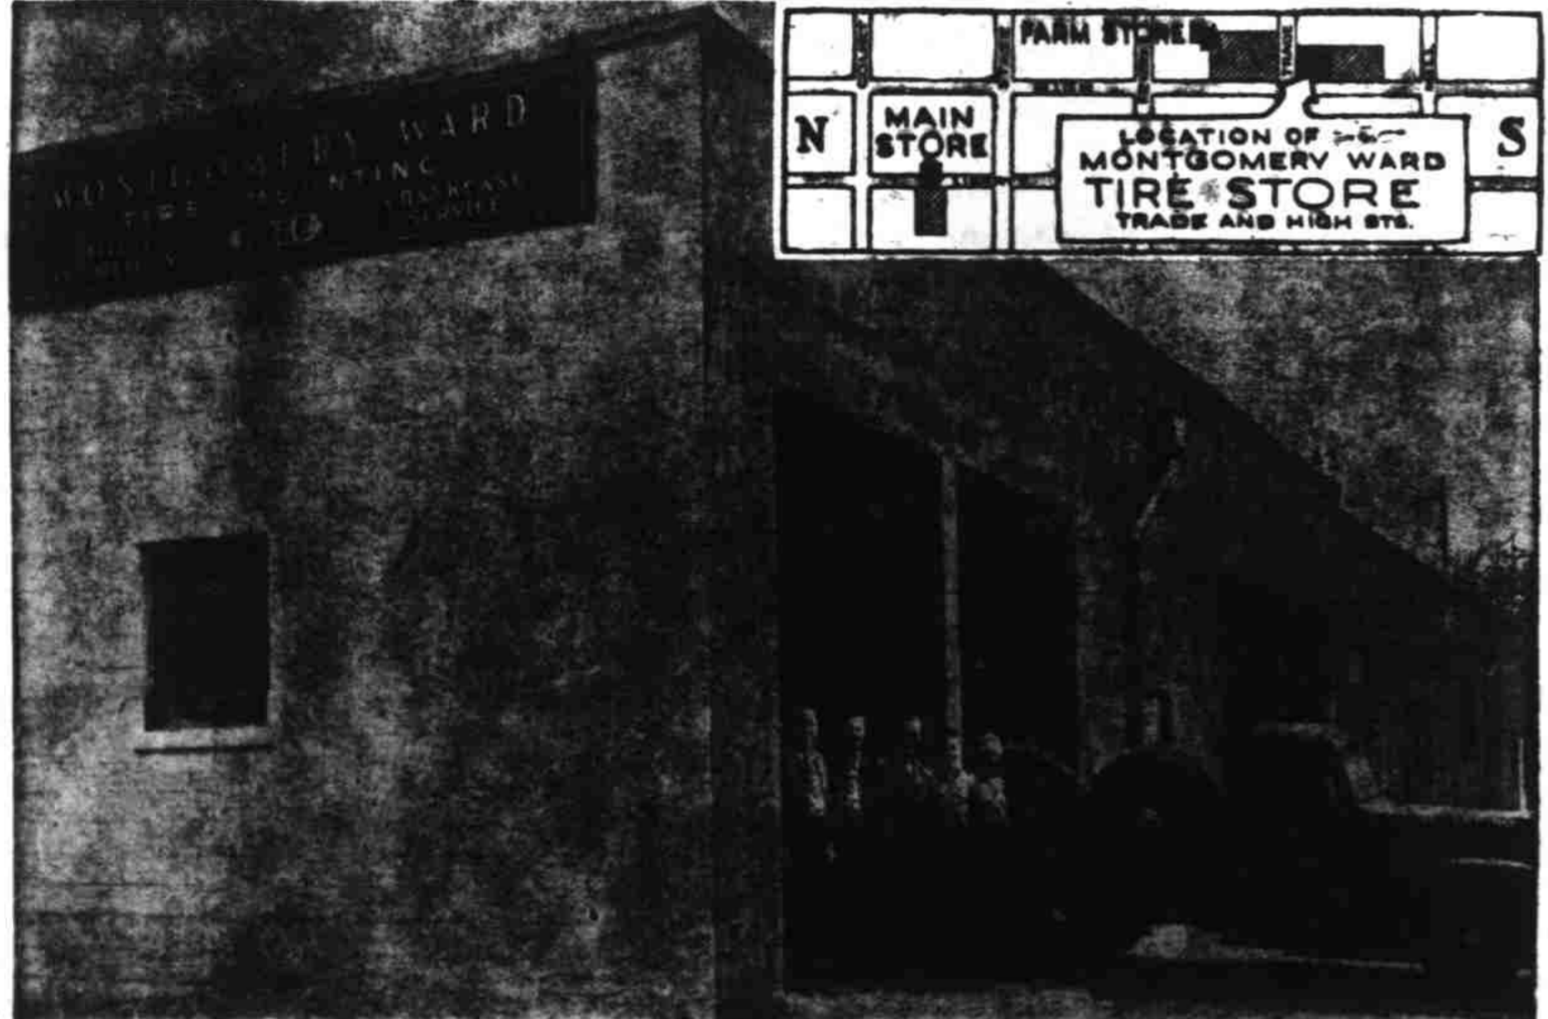

And you'll do just that as a result of our new mark-up. As an example of savings MKN can give you, note this weekend special: a Table Lamp which we previously sold for 9.95, is now priced at 4.95. AND THIS IS NOT A SALE! THESE VALUE-SAVING PRICES ARE GOOD TOMORROW AS WELL AS TODAY! So don't forget, "DRIVE TO M. K. N. AND SAVE . . . MORE! . . . MUCH MORE!" TODAY!
