School-Boy Traffic Patrol System Starts

School-boy traffic patrols swung into operation at all Salem schools this week under a program being sponsored by the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce.

About 80 boys already are outfitted in belts and hats provided by the state highway department. Final distribution is scheduled today of 80 flags obtained by the junior chamber with the assistance of Oregon Pulp and Paper, Salem Tent and Awning and the highway department.

Within the next three weeks, it is expected that 70 badges — for captains and patrolmen — will be given out. The badges are modelled after those of Salem police officers.

The distribution of flags is being carried out by Juvenile Officer Allan McCrae and Robert D. Mason, who heads the junior chamber's traffic safety committee and has completed arrangements for the program, assisted by Police Chief Clyde Warren and the police department.

Mason said a dinner would be held at which badges would be distributed, with school officials invited to attend.

Dairyman Convicted Of Test Violation

ST. HELENS, Oct. 6.—(P)—Chester Grooms, Scappoose dairyman, was convicted in justice court today of refusing to permit testing of dairy cattle for bang's disease, as required by state regulation.

Grooms was fined $50 and $19.65 in costs. A 15-day jail sentence

Store Resold To Jacobson

Resale of the Army and Navy store at 223 N. Commercial st. to Jules Jacobson by Phillip Grayson was announced Thursday.

Jacobson owned the store for several years prior to 1940, when he sold the establishment to Grayson. During the past nine years Jacobson has been associated with army and navy stores in Eugene and Portland.

Remodeling of the store's interior will be started in the near future, Jacobson said. The new owner is bringing his wife and three children to Salem to establish residence.

was also meted, but was suspended. Grooms said he would appeal the case.

Aura Adella Chapler, Former Salem Schoolteacher, Dies

One of Salem's most beloved schoolteachers, Aura Adella Chapler, died Thursday. She was 86.

Miss Chapler, who had lived at 2245 Ferry st. in recent years, suffered a broken hip in a fall last December and had been incapacitated since the accident.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the Clough-Barrick chapel with the Rev. Brooks H. Moore officiating. Interment will be in Belcrest Memorial park.

A teacher in Salem 22 years, Miss Chapler retired in 1935 and was honored with an enthusiastic outdoor reception by fellow teachers, parents, former pupils and her many Salem friends.

Taught at Richmond

Twenty of her years in Salem she taught at Richmond school and the remaining two years at Englewood, all in the primary grades.

Born April 9, 1863, in Quintan, Ill., she started her teaching career in Ft. Dodge, Iowa. She came to Oregon to visit her nephew, Karl A. Chapler of Salem, and liked the west so well she secured a teaching position here and remained the rest of her life.

Miss Chapler was educated in Ft. Dodge schools, at Willamette university and at the old Oregon Normal school at Monmouth.

Honored by Fraternity

In February, 1940, Miss Chapler was one of several veteran teachers honored here by Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary education fraternity. She was a member of the First Methodist church for many years, and had taught primary classes there.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. May Gile and Mrs. Nettie Gilbert, both of Salem; a nephew, Karl A. Chapler of Salem whom she raised; and several other nephews and nephews in Oregon and Washington.

Mrs. Jones Succumbs at Local Hospital

Mrs. Martha A. Jones, who has lived in Salem with her son Clayton at 1145 S. Commercial st., the past 15 years, died in a local hospital Wednesday. She was 86.

Born July 20, 1873, in Missouri, Mrs. Jones moved to Colorado several years later. It was there in 1889 that she was married to John N. Jones who died in Roseburg in 1934.

She was a member of the Seventh Day Adventist church in Roseburg where funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in Cleveland cemetery under direction of the Howell-Edwards chapel.

Surviving besides her son Clayton, are a nephew, John E. Jones, Roseburg; a daughter, Mrs. R. S. Grettis, Salem; a sister, Mrs. Ida Jones, Baltimore, Md.; three brothers, George Fisher, Waldport, and Jack and Dan Fisher, both of Idaho; eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

VOLCANIC ISLAND

SALEM, Ore.—(INS)—Wizard Island in Oregon's Crater Lake represents a volcano within a volcano. Geologists say it formed in the crater of Mt. Mazama, the prehistoric destruction of which led to the formation of scenic Crater Lake.

The Salem police department Thursday.

City police made five of six arrests which stemmed from the check charges. Four of those arrested have been convicted and sentenced; two other cases are pending.

Arrests Clear Check Cases

Bad-check artists passed 35 worthless checks in Salem during September, and investigating city detectives cleared 21 by arrests, according to statistics released by

Four Corners Pastor Honored With Reception

FOUR CORNERS—A church reception and community welcome was tendered the Rev. and Mrs. Victor L. Loucks and their daughter Janet, Tuesday evening in Four Corners church.

Approximately 100 members and friends from the Four Corners church and the First Baptist church of Salem assembled for a no-host dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. Lloyd T. Anderson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Salem was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Oliver Rickman led the group singing. Doris and Donald Chittick played an instrumental duet.

Greetings from the First Baptist church of Salem were given by Thomas Means, Edward Lucas and Walter Lottis representing the deacons and trustees. W.-R. Gould as deacon and Vernon Forrest, Sunday school superintendent, welcomed the new pastor and family to the church.

Representing the Business Men's Association of Four Corners, Henry Benz brought greetings from their organization and welcomed the Loucks to the community.

Loucks comes from the Seio First Baptist church where he was pastor for 17 years.

Fall Colors Blend in Lustrous Fabrics at Fall Fashion Revue

By Jerome English, Statesman Society Editor
Over twelve hundred women and a surprisingly large number of men filled the Salem high school auditorium Thursday night for Miller's annual fall fashion revue. The parade of fashions were shown against a colorful setting of reds and grey with autumn flowers. A fast moving show with musical numbers, Teddy Jenks and her ballet and tap students featured between and during the groups. The first time we have ever gone to a show when the final curtain went down on the exact hour as advertised.

Margaret Allyn, former radio artist in Salem, now living in Portland, did a grand job as commentator. Other artists appearing were Mrs. Frank Hrubetz, soloist, Dorothy Pederson, pianist, and Mrs. Raymond Barton, organist.

Lustrous Materials

The show opening with date dresses and gowns to be worn after 5 o'clock of lustrous materials as satins, taffetas and velvets. As for colors the browns and blues leading the parade with blacks and red a close second. Fur trimmed coats the vogue this fall with beaver, Persian lamb and squirrel most popular, also velvet trim on coats. Broadcloth and tweeds for materials. A majority of the coats worn over simply tailored suits. The hats all close and snug fitting to the head with feathers and veiling for trim. Mink scarfs, squirrel and Persian lamb coats, squirrel capes and stoles shown with suits and costume dresses.

Patch Pockets

In sportswear, slacks with jersey blouses for lounging and to be worn at college, pleated skirts, check and plaid wool casual dresses, sweaters and corduroy featured for the school girl or working miss. Patch pockets, large and small, shown on skirts and dresses. Ski togs in shades of green, red and grey with one black and white outfit receiving much applause.

The boudoir scene featuring Teddy Jenks in an interpretive ballet dance and models appearing in lingerie, robes and bedtime clothes. Four adorable children coming out in pajamas and bathrobes, seemingly a highlight of the show for the audience. Glamorous formal gowns of satins, taffetas, marquisette and chiffon, mostly strapless. Fly panels, bustles and poufs featured in the styles. The usual wedding party for the finale, complete with groom and bride in traditional white satin. Her attendants in yellow hooped skirted satin frocks and carrying bronze bouquets. The honor attendant and train bearers wearing bronze and carrying yellow flowers.

It was estimated in 1889 that there were only 541 bison in the United States of an original 50,000,000.
