CREATION

Estament, which will be presented each Saturday in The Statesman, distributed by The Associated Press. The text is condensed from the King James version, with selections made by Houston Harte, Texas newspaper publisher, for his new book, "In Our Image." Illustrations by Guy Rowe, portraitist, are also from the book.)

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth; and darkness was upon the face of the deep.

And God said, Let there be light: and there was light. And God said. Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and letit divide the waters from the waters: and it was so. And God said, Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so. And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit, upon the earth: and it was so.

And God made two great lights, the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night; he made the stars also. And God set them in the firament of the heaven to give light upon the earth. And God created every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth abundantly, and every winged fowl. And God made the beast of the earth, and cattle, and every thing that creepeth upon the earth: and God saw that it was good.

And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over all the earth. So God created man in his own image; male and female created he them. And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day. Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them. And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made. And God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made. (Copyright, 1949, Oxford University Press, Inc.)

Actors Named For Students' Biblical Play

Selection of Salem persons who will portray several roles in the Biblical drama, "The Light Eter-nad," here Wednesday night was announced Friday by Anne Cor-thell, casting chairman, and Mrs. Mabel Asmundsen, director.

The play, for which rehearsals are under way, will be presented at the senior high school by Wes-ley fellowship of Willamette university to benefit the International Christian university being founded at Tokyo, Japan. Actors are university and high school students and business people.

Joseph will be portrayed by James Purdy, youth director at First Methodist church. Among Joseph's brothers are Charles Dodd as Reuben, Steve Anderson as Judah, Franklin Ward as Simeon, James Kuhn as Levi and Richard Scott as Benjamin.

Stearns Cushing, jr. has the role of Moses, which Frank Lockman has been cast as the grandfather, who carries the first and last scenes of the play and acts as announcer. He is supported by Gilbert Jones and Adeline Wilson as a modern father and mother. Children's parts are taken by Don Bunse and Sharon Cushing.

The Pharaoh of Joseph's day in Egypt will be portrayed by Edward Taggart. Others in the court scenes include Don Bennett and Rex Lindemood, guards; Martha and Marilyn Brooks, court girls; Jim Osborn, chief steward.
