Salem folk are returning home from trips south and north and visitors continue to arrive in the capital for sojourns.

Mrs. Duane Gibson and Mrs. W. Frank Crawford arrived home Wednesday night on the Shasta Daylight from a ten day stay in San Francisco. They were in the bay city for the opening of Macy's new store and saw the stage play, "High Button Shoes."

Also returning home on the Daylight Wednesday night was Mrs. Charles A. Sprague, who has been in Richmond, Calif. the past week visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Melvin T. Hurley, and grandchildren, Nancy and Arthur.

Mrs. Barnett has come north for the wedding of her sister, Miss Edith Clement, and George LaBorde on Saturday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church.

They plan to be away two weeks and will return on the Daylight.

Importance of United Nations Theme of Talk at BPW Banquet

Over a hundred Salem Business and Professional Women's club members and guests attended the formal public relations banquet at the Marion hotel Wednesday night as a highlight of National Business Women's week. The guest speaker was Mrs. Victor P. Morris of Eugene, whose topic was "Twentieth Century Unlimited," using October, the United Nations month, as the world today that needs to come of age and one that needs to grow up fast. It is now a world that calls for more mature thinking than has been done before."

When the United Nations started out it was greeted with great enthusiasm and hope but there seems to have come a period of letdown, she commented. She then went on to enumerate some of the things individuals can do. The United Nations and its purposes must be stimulated, we must become well informed and we need to rejuvenate hope in the United Nations.

First, each of us must realize the importance of the individual in creating public opinion, and each must take a positive and active interest. Secondly, we should, as individuals, be informed on the successes and actions of the United Nations. Thirdly, individuals can work to help in keeping the notion going that we have to stay in the UN, that we have to assume leadership, that we have to have faith, Mrs. Morris said. The UN was not designed to establish peace, but to keep the peace, after it has been established, she added. "Remember, the UN has had to start functioning in a world in which the peace has not been established," she stated.

In the fourth place, we must keep the foundation of America strong, and we must realize the problems go beyond our own interests, Mrs. Morris commented. Lastly, every one of us has to do everything he can do to keep the UN strong.

Guests at Banquet

At the head table with the speaker were Mrs. John Versteeg, BPW club president, who presided; Mrs. Douglas McKay, wife of Oregon's governor; and Mayor and Mrs. Robert L. Elfstrom. Mayor Elfstrom gave the response to the welcome, also the official greetings from the city to the club.

Special music for the banquet was provided by Mrs. Robert F. Anderson, soloist, accompanied by Miss Alice Crary Brown; and by a trio, Miss Hazel Brockhoff, pianist, Dalbert Jepsen, cellist, and Miss Margaret Rawling, violinist. Mrs. Alma Westlein led the group singing and Mrs. Byron B. Herrick, a past state BPW president, led the collect.

Mrs. Arthur Weddle, the regional director for 1951 in the national BPW federation and a past president of the state group, headed the committee arranging the banquet.

Other guests of the club for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harland, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Arens, Miss Lorena Jack, Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Mrs. Wheeler English, Mrs. May Smith, Miss Elise Schroeder, Mrs. Dorothy Walker, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Goodrich. Easy Pies For Amateurs

Cinnamon . . . Walnut cream pie . . . easy as pie!

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you're not sure of your skill at pastry-making, when company's coming, serve a cream pie made with a cooky crumb crust. You can use a packaged pudding for the filling but if you spice and flavor it as we suggest in the following recipes no one will know the filling didn't originate in your own saucapan.

CINNAMON-WALNUT CREAM PIE

Ingredients: 1 package prepared vanilla pudding, 1/2 cup walnut meats (chopped), 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 cup heavy cream, 1 tablespoon sugar.

Method: Prepare pudding according to package directions for pie filling. Cover with waxed paper and let cool thoroughly. Add ginger to cooled pudding. Wash raisins under hot running water and drain thoroughly; chop and add to pudding, stirring to distribute. Pour into 8-inch graham cracker pie shell (see recipe below). Chill. Whip cream until stiff; beat in sugar. Make border of whipped cream around edge of filling and garnish with raisins if desired. (Raisins for garnishing should be washed and then allowed to plump by standing in a covered strainer over simmering water.)

REFRIGERATOR GRAHAM CRACKER PIE SHELL

Ingredients: 16 sugar-honey graham crackers (crushed fine), 4 tablespoons sugar, 6 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted).

Method: Mix together the graham cracker crumbs, sugar, and butter or margarine. Press onto sides and bottom of 8-inch pie plate. Chill thoroughly in refrigerator before filling.

CHOCOLATE COOKY PIE SHELL

Ingredients: 18 chocolate nugget cookies (finely crushed), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), 14 whole chocolate nugget cookies.

Method: Mix together the chocolate cooky crumbs and butter or margarine. Press onto bottom of 8-inch pie plate. Stand whole cookies around the edge. Chill thoroughly before filling.

GINGER-RAISIN CREAM PIE

Ingredients: 1 package prepared vanilla pudding, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 cup raisins, 1/4 cup heavy cream, 1 tablespoon sugar, whole raisins for garnishing (if desired).

Method: Prepare vanilla pudding according to directions on package for pie filling. Cover with waxed paper and let cool thoroughly. Add ginger to cooled pudding. Wash raisins under hot running water and drain thoroughly; chop and add to pudding, stirring to distribute. Pour into 8-inch graham cracker pie shell (see recipe below). Chill. Whip cream until stiff; beat in sugar. Make border of whipped cream around edge of filling and garnish with raisins if desired. (Raisins for garnishing should be washed and then allowed to plump by standing in a covered strainer over simmering water.)
