HONG KONG, Sunday, Oct. 23 (P)-Powerful Chinese communist armies today were reported streaming westward for major blows at the last nationalist strongholds in western and southwestern China.

General Lin also was said to be sending a second strong force due westward toward the border of Kweichow province. The aim here seems to be to split the mationalist forces, since Kweichow lies between Kwangsi and Chungking's Szechwan province.

It is expected that Gen. Peng Teh-Huai's communist armies in northwest China will strike across Szechwan's northern border toward Chungking. This drive would be synchronized with those of Liu's and Lin's forces farther south.
