

Mayer Quits After Failure to Form Cabinet

PARIS, Sunday, Oct. 23 (AP)—Premier-designate Rene Mayer resigned early today, prolonging the political crisis which has left France without a cabinet for 16 days.

Mayer had been premier-designate only two days. He was unable to form a cabinet because the socialists were unwilling to enter his government under the conditions he outlined. Mayer went to the Elysee palace to present his resignation to President Vincent Auriol. He remained with the president more than an hour.

On emerging, he issued a statement in which he blamed the socialists for his failure. During the time he was at the palace the socialists had issued a communique disclaiming responsibility.

Mayer said: "I hope that someone luckier than I have been can bring a quick end to this grave crisis."

He gave up after a full day and night of conferences, mostly with the socialists, in an effort to end the stalemate.

Expansions in Industry Seen As Job Aid

Year-end expansion in retail trade and scattered service and manufacturing lines will mean more jobs available for workers displaced from seasonal industries, the state unemployment compensation commission predicted Saturday.

It is expected that the seasonal firms will continue to trim payrolls during the rest of 1949.

Reports from 1,114 concerns throughout the state estimated the decline in employment between September 15 and December at less than 5 per cent, but several thousand additional workers may lose out soon after the turn of the year. A January pick-up is foreseen, however, in textiles and apparel, while trade and service also will remain close to year-end levels.

Here are some of the predictions of main groups:

Construction—Steady decline from August high of 28,000 already is under way. Mid-winter jobs depend largely on weather conditions.

Food Processing—Plants in Astoria and Salem began laying off workers in September but main seasonal adjustments are taking place during the present month. November employment expected to be from 6,000 to 8,000 below the late summer peak.

Textiles and Apparel—Slight pickup predicted during the next month or two followed by further gains after first of next year. January employment estimated at 6 per cent above September.

Lumber and Logging—Gradual employment losses expected during remainder of the year with 188 establishments estimating January totals 5 per cent below September.

Transportation and Utilities—Practically no changes are expected until year's end when few additional jobs may be available.

Wholesale Trade—Employment will be on decline during next few months.

Retail Trade—Employment will be from 5 to 10 per cent higher by the holiday season but will drop in January.

At a distance of 1,000 miles above the earth, the atmosphere may be too thin to transmit sound waves.

AIR PARADE—A figure in the Southeastern Fair parade at Atlanta, Ga., gets a light for his cigar from a fellow-parader's pipe. Balloon heads were on bodies of marching boys.

Diphtheria in Yamhill County

McMINNVILLE, Oct. 22 (AP)—A diphtheria outbreak in northwest Oregon was reported today, even as a 12th case cropped up in southern Oregon.

Three cases were reported in Yamhill county—a 6-month-old girl, now recovered; and twin 4-year-old boys at the Dayton labor camp.

Dr. H. M. Stolte, district health officer, said no epidemic was imminent, but advised immunization for all youngsters.

In Medford, where three children died earlier, the 12th case of diphtheria appeared, a 6-year-old girl falling ill.

More than 10,000 children were inoculated in Jackson county, the largest such project ever attempted there.

REBEKAH MEET MONDAY

BROOKS—Regular session of Harmony Rebekah lodge of Gerwals will be held in the RMA hall south of Hopewell, Monday night, October 24. Three candidates will be initiated and two taken in by transfer. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Port Officials, Union Argue Over Pineapple

THE DALLES, Ore., Oct. 22 (AP)—The dispute over Hawaiian pineapple turned today into a wrangle between CIO longshoremen and the port of The Dalles.

Matt Meehan, international representative for the union, asserted longshoremen might even be willing to unload the pineapple, if they could reach an agreement with the port commission.

Previously the pineapple, brought here in a barge from strike-bound Hawaii, had been labelled "hot cargo" by the longshoremen. Their pickets prevented movement of the pineapple ashore.

Meehan said, however, that longshoremen now were disputing with the port commission the right to handle the pineapple, which previously was touched only by non-union workers.

"We did the only other deep water work they ever had here—in 1938," Meehan said.

No developments are expected until Tuesday, when the port commission's request for an injunction to halt longshoremen's picketing will be argued in circuit court here.

will talk on the history of the post, which is the only World War II post in Oregon.

Entertainment is to include a vaudeville show, refreshments and other activities. Kenneth Potts, post commander, is in general charge.

This year, he couldn't stand it any longer. He resigned and went hunting, too.

District Attorney Robert Welch can't find a replacement. Everybody else in Paisley is out hunting.

400,000 People Paid More for Their Cars than a Cadillac Costs!

You will probably find it difficult to believe the statement which appears above as the headline for this message. But records indicate that it is true, nevertheless.

The reason for this is found in a surprising fact: There are eight other motor car manufacturers who produce certain models which actually cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac.

Approximately four hundred thousand of these higher-priced models have been produced and sold in the post-war era. Undoubtedly, a great many of the people who bought these cars did so because Cadillacs were not available at the time they wanted delivery—a situation now happily being remedied. But it is doubtless true that many owners of these higher-priced cars don't realize what they did.

Cadillac has such a wonderful world-wide reputation for goodness and quality that many who can afford it mistakenly conclude it is beyond their means. So they pay the price of a Cadillac—and don't get a Cadillac.

We don't believe you would want that to happen to you. So we suggest that you come in and let us give you the actual delivered price here in this community for a Cadillac Sixty-one, equipped exactly as you want it. Let that be your economic yardstick as you select your car.

Bear in mind, too, that a Cadillac is an economical car to own, as well as a reasonable car to buy. Its freedom from the need of repairs is sensational. It gives gasoline mileage which actually approaches that of the lowest-priced popular cars. And it lasts so long that its full life-span has never been measured.

Better come in today and get the whole Cadillac story. If you pay for a Cadillac, we think you will want to make sure that you get one.
