

Turner Wins Place on Map at California Stock Show Despite Stiff Sheep Section Competition

By Lillie L. Madsen
Farm Editor, The Statesman

COW PALACE, San Francisco—Although competition in the sheep division was more keen here at the fifth annual Grand National Livestock exposition which closed Sunday night, than it was at either the Oregon state fair or the Pacific International at Portland this year, Willamette valley sheep breeders gave the Californians a real show and came off with the majority of the top place monies and ribbons.

The small town of Turner put itself on the map through its sheep showings. Ahrens Brothers proved the heaviest winners. Among their winnings were tops for best Suffolk ram under 1 year and best Suffolk ewe under 1 year; champion Suffolk ram, reserve Suffolk ewe, best pen of three Suffolk ram lambs, best pen of three Suffolk ewe lambs, best four Suffolk get of sire under 2 years, best Suffolk produce of dam, and best Romney breeding sheep under one year. These winnings were besides a number of lesser awards which also went to the two Ahrens.

Gath Brothers, also Turner, showed the best Hampshire breeding ram under 1 year, best Hampshire breeding ewe, 1 year and under 2, and reserve champion Hampshire breeding ewe.

Carl B. Wipper and Son, Turner, had the best Southdown ram, 1 year and under 2; champion Southdown ram, best Southdown flock, best pen of three Southdown yearling ewes and best pen of four Southdowns get of sire.

M. P. Pearson, Turner, took eight firsts, showed the champion ewe, the champion reserve ram and the reserve champion ewe besides the special breed award on his 13 head of Shropshires.

McMinnville Winner

E. J. Handley of McMinnville had the grand champion Columbia besides taking the majority of other top places in that breed. Marcus Vetter, Monitor, was also a Columbia breed winner, and Leonard McCaleb, Monmouth, split some of the Romney winnings with Ahrens Brothers. Jimmie Riddell, Monmouth won on his Corriedales and Kenneth McEzrae, Monmouth, was a winner with his Dorsets.

The highest price ever paid for a Hereford bull in the history of the Cow Palace was recorded at the opening auction of the week. Lost River ranch, eastern Oregon, paid $6700 for S. F. Royal Mixer, 38th from Switzer & Field of Gunnison, Colo. The 106 animals brought $54,950, an average of $519.

T. O. Return, the champion steer of the exposition, wound up as steaks and roast beef on the dinner plates at the Claremont hotel in Berkeley. A Texas animal, he brought $1.55 a pound, totaling $1364. This was 5 cents a pound higher than last year's top animal, Physical Plant Good.

The Cow Palace, started in 1939, is one of the finest arranged livestock expositions on the coast. The huge building with its numerous smaller barns, covers 65 acres. The first show was held in 1941 and then no more was held until 1948.

Dormitories house the breeders, and Oregon sheepmen were highly complimentary of the new sheep arena which had been added just previously to this year's show.

From southern and eastern Oregon sections, a number of beef cattle were entered. Besides his sheep, Marcus Vetter also showed individual fat barrows in the ewine division, and John Beckli of Portland, widely known in the Willamette valley, was a ribbon winner in the Brown Swiss dairy division.

However, in divisions other than sheep, Oregon breeders were not heavy winners, and the total number of livestock—3,121 head—exhibited were outnumbered at both the Oregon state fair and at the Pacific International Livestock exposition. Livestock breeders interviewed here, while they expressed preference for the physical plant of the Cow Palace, were highly complimentary to the Oregon shows.

Freed Prisoner Faces New Charge

A Eugene man stepped from Oregon state penitentiary into the hands of waiting Marion county authorities Monday. Harold B. Gourley was charged with obtaining money by false pretenses and held at Marion county jail in lieu of $500 bail. Involved were checks purportedly passed in this area more than a year ago. A deputy sheriff said Gourley had just completed a ten-month term for a conviction on similar charge in Benton county.

This Seed for Forest Trees

Thousands of potential new trees are in the hands of Lynn F. Cronmiller, assistant state forester. In the above photo, Cronmiller has a pan of Douglas fir seeds in front of him and about four tons more of the seeds in sacks behind him, all of it stored at the state forestry shops on east State street. The seeds are a part of 11,000 pounds of Douglas fir and other tree seeds which have been purchased by the forestry department for re-seeding Oregon's burned over and logged over lands. Cost of the seed averages about $7.75 a pound and was collected by the Manning Seed Co. of Roy, Wash., and the John B. Woods Co., of Salem. (Statesman photo.)

The Holtzmans in turn, have sold a parcel of property in the Morningside district just south of Salem to the Brights for $8,000. Consideration on the transaction is about $28,000 according to the sale instrument.

Laundrymen Meet--to Wash Dirty Shirts

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7 (AP)—There won't be any dirty shirts at this convention.

Nearly 5,000 laundrymen from the United States and seven foreign countries made sure of that when they opened the 62nd annual convention of the American Institute of Laundering last night.

To keep their clothes clean—and show the public how they do it—they brought along 800 laundry machines, weighing 8,000,000 pounds and worth half a million dollars.

A complete laundry, capable of washing clothes for a city five times the size of Kansas City, has been set up in Municipal auditorium.

And the delegates are invited to bring in their soiled linen for demonstration washing—free.

Arthur B. Christopher of Vancouver, B. C., a former president of the institute, was presented the president's award of recognition by M. L. Neher, Coral Gables, Fla., a past president.

Dynamite Found At Enlisted Men's Club in Germany

BERLIN, Nov. 7 (AP)—Five sticks of dynamite were found Sunday lying against a wall of the American enlisted men's club near the headquarters of the U.S. high commission in Berlin.

American authorities said the dynamite lacked a fuse, so the danger of an explosion was virtually nil.

A cleaning woman found the sticks early in the morning. U.S. authorities speculated that the explosive was placed near the club by a jilted German man as a protest against the appearance of German girls in the American club.

Donald Riedel Designated as Honor Scout

Donald Riedel, member of Boy Scout troop 12, has been designated as an "outstanding scout" of the Cherry City (Salem) district by the Order of Odd Fellows, Willamette encampment 2.

Riedel was presented with a certificate of merit by District Deputy Charles Neubauer of Salem at a local IOOF meeting last week. It was part of the lodge's program.

Scouts, which the local lodge considers worthy of the distinction, will be honored each month, Neubauer said.

Winter radishes may be stored just as are turnips, but they do not keep as well. That is, they can be put in a cool vegetable cellar or buried outdoors.
