YM Officers Re-Elected by Group's Board

President Tinkham Gilbert and other officers of the Salem YMCA were re-elected Monday night by the organization's 27 directors.

Their election preceded the annual all-member meeting of the YM at which nine directors were re-elected to three year terms and three others were chosen for one-year terms.

The new directors are Douglas Chambers, Ford Watkins and Dr. Robert F. Anderson.

About 75 members heard an address from John W. Pugh, general secretary of the Portland YM, and music by the Y boys' chorus.

Other officers re-elected were: Vice-president, Frank B. Bennett; secretary, Norman Winslow; treasurer, Walter Minier.

Directors re-elected: Paul Acton, Fred Anunson, Dr. L. E. Barrick, Gilbert Robert O. Smith, Paul Wallace, Norman Winslow, Dr. R. Lee Wood and Donald Young.

The officers were installed at the meeting by Bennett.

Oregon Tax Collections Set All-Time High

A record-smashing $119,257,255 in taxes was collected by the state of Oregon during the year ending July 1, the state tax commission announced Monday.

Income, gasoline, unemployment compensation and liquor taxes were the largest sources in that order.

The sum doubled the amount collected four years ago and was $10,000,000 more than the amount that set a record a year ago.

Personal income taxes totaled $35,863,474 and corporation income taxes, $20,041,257. Combined they made up about half of the total.

Other collections included: Gasoline taxes, $20,644,980; unemployment compensation payroll taxes, $13,148,900; liquor taxes and permits, $8,963,662; motor truck taxes, $5,743,268; motor vehicle license fees, $4,142,399; hunting and fishing licenses, $1,720,864; tax on insurance premiums, $2,377,985; inheritance and gift taxes, $1,600,189.

All other taxes yielded less than $1,000,000. The total includes only those taxes levied by the state government.

Police to Don Winter Garb

Most Salem policemen will be harbingers of the approaching winter season next Monday when they don blouses and Sam Brown belts, the winter uniform for foot and car patrolmen.

Cycle riders will continue to wear leather jackets, while captains and sergeants will wear Eisenhower jackets when on desk duty.

Armistice Day Parade Set in Salem Friday

Salem's annual Armistice Day parade will be held Friday morning at 10 a. m. and will leave this area promptly at 10:30, marching to the Marion county courthouse lawn where a brief memorial service is scheduled.

Participants will meet at Marion square at 10 a. m. and will leave this area promptly at 10:30, marching to the Marion county courthouse lawn where a brief memorial service is scheduled.

Gov. Douglas McKay will give the principal address at this service. Prior to his speech Dave Hoss, master of ceremonies, will call for one minute of silence to be followed by a firing squad salute and playing of taps.

The flag then will be raised during the playing of the national anthem and the Rev. George H. Swift will give the invocation. Members of various auxiliaries will place wreaths on the American War Mothers monument.

McKay's speech will follow this ceremony.

From Marion Square
Parade route will be from Marion square south on Commercial to State street; east on State to Church street; north on Church to Court street; west on Court to High street; and south on High to the courthouse lawn.

Gene Vandensende is in charge of the parade which will march in four sections.

The first section will include Maison and his staff, distinguished guests, the color guard, a band or drum corps, companies B and G of the national guard, and reserve units from the marines, the navy and air corps.

Veterans Organizations
Veterans organizations will march in the second section. They include Spanish-American war veterans, Disabled American veterans, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Marine Corps League, Sons of the American Revolution and Sons of Union Veterans.

In the third section will be patriotic organizations, including the American War Mothers, Gold Star Mothers, Daughters of the American Revolution, Womens Relief Corps, Ladies of the GAR, Daughters of Union Veterans, Navy Mothers and auxiliaries to the Sons of American Veterans, United Spanish-American War veterans, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Salem Marine Corps League.

Children in Last Section
Children will march in the fourth section under the direction of Paul Tharisen. These groups will include representatives from the Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts, Girl Scouts and various schools.

Reviewing stand for the parade will be on the south side of State street in front of the Capitol theatre.

Jerry Anderson, Kenneth Potts and Melvin Clemens will be in charge of the parade's first three sections.

Most veterans organizations are having open house in their clubrooms for all veterans and members.

Assistant Chief E. C. Charlton will wear uniforms while on duty hereafter. It marks the first time in recent years that Salem's two top police officers have appeared regularly in uniform.

Salesmen Here For Conclave

A three-day conference of salesmen for the Western Paper Converting company is underway in Salem this week.

A dinner in connection with the annual event was held at the Marion hotel last night, presided over by Allen Schaefer, assistant manager, who acted in the temporary absence of General Manager Lloyd Riches.

Those attending included J. R. Flynn, Portland; Earle Reinwald, Seattle; A. J. Wyckoff, Los Angeles; J. H. Duffie, San Francisco; Don Dawson and Dudley McClure, of the McWilkins, Cole and Weber Advertising agency in Portland, and Western Paper Converting officials.

Salem C. of C. Members Elect 14 Directors

Fourteen directors were elected Monday by Salem Chamber of Commerce in preparation for the annual reorganization of the chamber's board of directors.

Those of the 14 who were re-elected include Russell Pratt, E. O. Stadter, Clair Brown, Mrs. B. O. Schucking, Leo Page, Floyd Bowlers, T. M. Medford and G. F. Chambers.

New directors elected are Harold Robertson, Robert C. Paulus, Alfred W. Loucks, Kenneth C. Perry, G. Carroll Meeks and Robert W. Fenix.

President Roy Harland will call the new board together later this week for the election of chamber officers and designation of meeting dates for the year ahead. The new board takes over in December.

Balloting by more than 600 chamber members for the director election was completed Monday noon at the weekly luncheon meeting.

The luncheon followed an oyster theme, with oyster stew and scalloped oysters included in the lunch and a talk and movie presented by E. N. Steele of Olympia, Wash., president of the Rock Point Oyster Co.

Group Singing Session at YM

A group singing session will be held Tuesday from 8 to 10 p. m. at the Salem YMCA under sponsorship of Y's young adult committee. The singfest will be the fourth in a series of party clinics planned by the committee under leadership of its chairman, Norman Winslow.

The session will be led by David Fern, Portland, general secretary of the southeastern branch of the Oregon YMCA. Persons interested in leading group singing and the general public have been invited to attend.
