Mayor Thomas A. Burke disclos-ed Tuesday that prospective new ewners of the Cleveland Indians a new contract for rental of the are discussing with city officials

He declined to name the group dickering with the city, but Ellis W. Ryan, Cleveland insurance man, was reported to have talked

Ryan is head of a syndicate known to be seeking to buy the club. Reports freely circulated here said the Indians' president, Bill Veeck, is expected to shortly announce sale of the club to Ryan's group.

Earlier, the Cleveland News pected to move up from vice president to general manager if the club is sold to Ryan.

Ryan, however, denied he had discussed the matter with the one-time Detroit Tigers' slugger. Greenberg likewise denied he had received an offer.

At Chicago, Yeeck declined to confirm the imminence of the deal. "I still own the ball club, but I can't say that I'll own it tomorrow night," he said.
