HOMES FOR AMERICANS

AP Newfeatures
A TWO-FAMILY COTTAGE, this cleverly planned and economical compact house includes an efficiency apartment upstairs for in-laws, a young couple, or for renting. A private entrance at the side insures privacy for both families. The second story layout is readily convertible to two extra bedrooms if the house is used for single family occupancy. This is Plan 2703 by Rudolph A. Matern, 90-94 161st St., Jamaica 2, N. Y. The house covers 1,065 square feet; second floor area is 513 square feet. With a complete basement there are 24,100 cubic feet. It would take a sizable decorative Christmas tree.

Snack Tables, Ottomans and Lamps Liked

If you're one of the many who have decided upon gifts for the home this Christmas you're going to be thrilled with the really wonderful selections the stores are offering in all price categories. Whether your Christmas list is long or short—your budget large or small—there is a smart item in the glittering arrays that's bound to be just what you want!

In the small budget class, you can choose from collapsible snack tables, man-size ottomans, smartly styled table lamps and boudoir lamps, attractively framed prints that are reproductions of very fine ones, decorative wall shelves, shadow boxes, unusual wall planters, sconces, and magazine racks. Welcome Gift items.

Sewing cabinets and smoking stands, both practical and welcome gift items, are also found in this price classification. And, we should like to emphasize that every item mentioned is well worth the asking price and makes an impressive gift.

In the major and occasional furniture pieces, there is practically an endless number of gift suggestions. Just to name a few, there are deep comfortable lounge chairs for the man of the house, lady-like chairs for mother, occasional tables in all styles and finishes to suit every requirement, tea or hostess carts, which are enjoying great popularity, book-case units, record cabinets, curio cabinets, cedar chests, television tables, handsome table lamps, floor lamps, and tray-table lamps which men like so much. There are, too, the clever and very new buffets with engineered interiors to accommodate every dinnertable appointment, and which would thrill any homemaker on Christmas morning.

Gifts for Home Are Found in Many Lines, Most Any Price

Besides the large, expensive gifts for the home such as stoves, automatic washers, home freezers, foam rubber mattresses, living room suites, radio-phonograph combinations and other fine merchandise, the Statesman Christmas Shopper noted a number of items which would make particularly pleasing presents. Among them:

Prints of artistic masterpieces and some signed originals that would be gifts to live with for a long time to come.

Handmade in Salem circles of hard wood to frame precious china plates, or old-fashioned miniatures, mirrors or pictures.

Handloomed linen napkins for only 50 cents, and hand-blocked cotton curtains, aprons and table linens made to order.

Italian pottery, Swedish crystal, English china; amusing carved wooden bottle stoppers desks of all types, and wardrobes of both the masculine and feminine variety to accommodate every personal item of clothing.

Cotton shag rugs in throw sizes, one of the new color-coordinated bedroom ensembles, or a ready-made studio couch slipcover with matching draperies, which particularly appeal to the one-room apartment dwellers, are other possibilities to add to your Christmas list.

Probably because public interest in new homes and home furnishings has reached an all-time high, you will find that there is a more complete and attractive selection of home gifts and better values from the standpoint of quality and design than we have ever seen!

Some of New York City's commuters live as far away as 90 miles.

from Italy for $1.50; a British made teapot on sale for 75 cents; antique cut-glass things and hand-made milk glass dishes; handmade green glass ashtrays; forest green ceramics decorated with Oregon cedar sprigs in relief; Irish linens; French and Swiss embroideries; Chinese cloisonne items, brass work; delightful black iron trivets for decorating and under hot dishes; spring-eril rolling pins for $1.75; tiny Italian wooden figurines; French pottery; British toy jars.

Some bargains: a clear glass water pitcher for 75 cents; a brass and wood silent butler for 98 cents; glass and silver ashtrays for $2; silver candleholders at $5 a pair; card tables for $6, canasta sets for $3, stubby maple stools for $4; an extra light board with honeycombed center to use for drawing board or cutting board for $3.

T-Shirts, Socks To Match Make Nice Yule Gifts

Some of the nicest wearables for children's Christmas gifts on display in Salem include little T-shirts with matching socks for $1.49.

Then there are cotton jersey pajamas like clown suits for $2.50; denim cowboy pants and jacket to go with the fancy leather holster Junior wants for Christmas—they're only $3 each.

Quilted cotton slippers for around $1 are cute for toddlers, as are those felt slippers made like Walt Disney animals.

Gift Choice for Men Has No Limits in 1949

Unless you know exactly what he wants, it's rather risky buying a sportsman a major piece of equipment for Christmas. A 22 rifle won't impress the hunter who's after elk and salmon gear might not go over so well with a fisherman who hankers after a fighting trout.

But there are many smaller items in the sporting good stores which are almost sure to please any outdoorsman. Some of them are: Hunting knives: two of different sizes in a leather case cost around $6, single ones are cheaper. A so-called "angler's pal" for $5.95 is a gadget with a multitude of uses—it has pliers, a bone knife, disgorger, cutters and so on, all in one compact piece of equipment. A gun-cleaning kit costs around $2.50.

Sure to Be Useful
 Something inexpensive and sure to be useful is a pencil-sized flashlight for only $1. Likewise the little thermometer for indoors or out or for use in the car for only 50 cents. It attaches with a suction cup. A fisherman's barometer is priced at $7.50.

The man who loves to go to football games no matter how cold it gets would appreciate a heavy wool robe in Oregon colors for under $20. It makes a nice car robe, too. If he's an armchair quarterback, maybe he'd like a pair of wool and leather slipper socks for $2.50—to wear when he lounges around the radio during game-time.

For any individual who'd rather spend the winter sliding down mountains on hickory slats than anything else, there are non-fogging ski goggles for $1. Equally useful are steel ski climbers for $1.50; they make it easier to go uphill. Ski mitts are under $5. Next to a custom-made leather golf bag, your favorite duffer or the expert who shoots his par via the hole-in-one would probably like some wool or leather mitts or covers for his clubs.

Any man, whatever his outdoor tastes, would be thrilled to have a set of field glasses, available for under $40, or a telescope for around $30. And perfect for his den or trophy room are hand-painted wooden wall plaques with accurately colored, delicately carved ducks or fish or pheasants in relief. They're only $2.
