

Cornell Tops Penn for Ivy Title

Quakers Lose 29-21 Thriller

Maryland, COP'ers Nab Convincing Wins

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—Cornell wrapped up its second straight Ivy league football championship with a 29-21 victory over Penn today while Maryland made an impressive bid for bowl recognition with a 47-7 triumph over West Virginia.

College of the Pacific, undefeated and untied, won its tenth straight game by overwhelming California Poly, 88-0, at San Luis Obispo, Calif.

These were the chief developments of scattered turkey day action, launching the last big week of college play.

Once-beaten Cornell, behind two touchdowns at the half, rallied for 22 points after intermission to win the climactic battle for eastern honors before 75,000 at Franklin field.

The Ithacans went ahead midway of the final period on a 25-yard scoring pass from Pete Dorsett to Walt Bruska. They sewed things up a few minutes later on Bill Kirk's field goal from the 10-yard line.

Penn, already three times beaten outside the league, needed only a tie to clinch the title. The Quakers ended the season with an Ivy record of 3-1 while Cornell had a 5-1 mark marred only by a loss to Dartmouth.

Maryland, beaten only by Michigan State this year, poured it on West Virginia with increasing pressure to augment its hopes of a major bowl bid. The old liners may land in the Orange bowl at Miami against Santa Clara.

Texas, the in-and-out team of the southwest, finished its campaign with a smashing victory over Texas A. and M., 42-14. Although beaten four times, the Longhorns may be invited to one of the smaller post-season attractions. Detroit won the Missouri valley conference title, its first season in the league, by humbling University of Wichita, 33-7.

In the east, Brown won a morning engagement from Colgate, 41-26, to close out its best season in 17 years. Scoring 27 points in a last period rally, Brown registered its eighth victory in nine games. The Bruins lost only to Princeton.

Also in the east, Gettysburg defeated Franklin and Marshall, 39-14, and Morris Harvey won over West Virginia Wesleyan, 61-6.

At Charlotte, N.C., a lot of action was crammed into the last two minutes as the Citadel won a 29-19 Southern conference victory over Davidson. Fullback Bill Baldwin bulled his way over the goal line for the deciding touchdown.

Davidson came charging back but the drive died on the enemy three-yard line when time ran out. In other southern games, Chattanooga won over Duquesne, 15-7, on City Reserve's late play. Virginia Tech and Virginia-Military academy played to a 28-28 tie, and Washington and Lee thumped Richmond, 35-14.

Missouri kept faint bowl hopes alive by outlasting Kansas State, 34-27. Cincinnati downed Miami (Ohio), 27-6; Xavier (Ohio) whipped Marshall, 13-7, and Western Reserve defeated Case, 30-0.

Another conference championship was decided at Denver where the Wyoming Cowboys won Skyline Six honors by downing Denver, 25-6.

In other western games Utah triumphed over Utah State, 34-0, and Nevada trounced North Texas State, 28-7.

Three early bowl games were played. Emory and Henry (Va.) defeated Harvard college (Ind.), 32-0, in the Burley bowl at Johnson City, Tenn. West Liberty (West Va.) won the Smoky Mountain bowl at Bristol, Tenn., by beating Western Carolina, 20-0. Idaho State downed Chadron (Neb.) Teachers, 20-2 in the first Bean bowl game at Scottsbluff, Neb.

Yankees' Rizzuto Runnerup

Williams Gets AL's 'Valuable' Accolade

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—Ted Williams, whose big bat narrowly missed bringing the pennant to the Boston Red Sox, today was chosen the most valuable American league player of 1943.

It was the second such honor heaped upon the tall, lanky, slug-ging outfielder who was also named in 1946. He lost out to Joe DiMaggio by one vote in 1947 and was second to Joe Gordon by a handful in '42. Cleveland's playing manager, Lou Boudreau, won last year.

He marked the first time since Detroit's Hal Newhouser won in 1944 that a member of a non-pennant winning team got the award.

The 31-year-old Williams, who hails from San Diego, Calif., drew a total of 272 points to 175 for shortstop Phil Rizzuto of the world champion New York Yankees.

He is the third Red Sox player to gain the award. Tris Speaker won it in 1912 and Jimmy Foxx copped it in 1938.

Knox has four returning lettermen and four boys up from the JV's to build his squad around.

Marv Heiber, Harrel Smith, Chuck Hubble and Chet Hegan are the lettermen. Up from the JV's are Jerry Schultz, Art Sperber and Tom Thayer.

Harrel Smith and Chet Hegan are a cinch to see a lot of action this season. Smith is a pot-shot forward and Hegan, one of the best guards in the northwest.

VANPORTS TRIUMPH BREMERTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Vanport Junior college of Portland trampled the Rangers from Olympic Junior college in the mud today 38-7. Gene Rider took a kickoff and sloshed 92 yards for one Vanport touchdown.

ROSA EVERGREEN VICTOR

EVERETT, Wash., Nov. 24 (AP)—Santa Clara Junior college came from behind in the second half today to down Everett J. C. 34 to 6 in the annual Evergreen bowl football game.

Bevos' Eastern Invasion Looms

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, November 24 (Special)—The itinerary for the Oregon State basketball team's four-game invasion of the east has just been released by Loris Baker, assistant athletic director who made arrangements for the jaunt.

After opening their season against Portland university in Portland on Thursday, December 1, the Beavers will fly out the same night for the east. They are scheduled to arrive in Buffalo at 12:07 p.m. December 2, and will set up headquarters at the Statler hotel. On December 3 they will take on Canisius in the Buffalo Municipal auditorium.

On December 4 Coach Slat's Gill and his men will go by train to New York, where they will be located at the Paramount hotel. Tuesday, December 6, the Beavers will play highly touted New York university in Madison Square Garden.

AP All-Coast Squad Picked

Carl Kilgaard, big Idaho tackle, was a solid choice. So was Vern Sterling, Santa Clara guard. Stanford center, Jim Castagnoli, beat out Leon McLaughlin of UCLA in a close race.

Tanoran Victor Said Doped Prior to Race

SAN BRUNO, Calif., Nov. 24 (AP)—Tanoran's board of stewards charged today that Hopes High, longest winner of the third race Tuesday, was doped. It suspended the owner of the horse, G. Niotta, and the trainer, J. Merola, for the remainder of the current meeting.

Rockets Decision Penguin Icemen

TACOMA, Nov. 24 (AP)—Tacoma's Rockets defeated the Portland Penguins 2-1 here tonight in one of the best Pacific Coast hockey league games on local ice this season. The Rocket's Norm Gustavson tallied the only first period goal. Joe Cuiman evened the count for Portland midway in the second period, but just 28 seconds later Tacoma collected what proved to be the winning counter. Wingy Johnston scored on a double assist from Mel Read and Ronnie Rowe.
