

New Students Enter School At Mill City

Statesman News Service
MILL CITY — Students entering school here following the holidays were Doris Craig, a seventh grader from Newberg, and Roseanne McGraw, a junior from Montana.
Saturday morning some damage was noted due to the heaviest snowfall for a number of years. Trees were bent to the ground and many of the branches were broken off. A large double garage belonging to S. G. Higdon collapsed under the weight of the snow and partially damaged a car belonging to his son — in — law, Ralph Budson. Friday night the electricity for off and the telephone service has been disrupted. The woodshed belonging to Mrs. Anna Swift also collapsed under the weight of the snow.
John Nelson has returned to school following recovery from his recent operation.
Mrs. Arthur Kriever is confined to her home with pneumonia. Mrs. Nelson Lamphar is caring for her.
Mountain States Power company has completed the installation of street lights on East Kingwood and Third streets.
Home for the week end from Portland university was Gordon Kay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Kay. Also home for the week end was Bill Howe from Oregon State college.
Miss Betty Class of Salem spent the week end in Mill City.
Spending Sunday in Mill City were Harold Cox and Duane McFadden of Corvallis.
Donald Cree, nine year old son of Lowell Cree, has been confined to his home the past week due to the extraction of several teeth. He will return to school this week.

Keizer Couple Take Trip To California

Statesman News Service
KEIZER — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rose left by train Saturday for a vacation in California. They will visit relatives in Los Angeles and other southern cities.
Mrs. Mildred Yunker and Mrs. Hazel Rhodaback of Albany received the gold pin scouters training award and citation for three years of service Sunday. The award was made at the Cascade area annual conference held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in Salem. Mrs. Yunker and Mrs. Rhodaback, who were the only ones to receive the honor began together when the cub scout work was organized here and Mrs. Rhodaback was instrumental in starting the pack after moving to Albany.

Whisperers Top Irritations Of Ministers

PORTLAND, Jan. 10—(P)—What bothers ministers most?
1. Whisperers during the sermon.
2. Sneezers.
3. Tardy church-goers who talk in the hall.
4. Marriage parties in which rice is thrown in the church and alcoholic drinks are passed around.
Four Portland ministers agreed on this list recently in a public panel discussion on church etiquette.
Dr. Myron C. Cole of the First Christian church added another pet peeve: the man who waits until the minister pauses, then lets out a long sigh as if to say, "when will this guy quit preaching."
Dr. Laurence C. Nye, First Methodist church, concluded, "all children face the problem of learning good church manners without seeing any."

Nationalists Given U. N. Board Seats

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 10—(P)—Russia campaigned without success here against the seating of nationalist Chinese delegates in two small committees of the United Nations.
The nationalists stood their grounds following the Russian protests and the Russians did not follow through with a challenge.

First Citizen Banquet Set At Silverton

Statesman News Service
SILVERTON — Plans are going rapidly ahead for the annual First Citizen banquet to be sponsored by the Silverton Junior chamber of commerce. The banquet will be held Thursday night, January 19 at 7 o'clock.
The dinner hour had previously been set for 6:30 o'clock but was changed by request of out of town guests who found the earlier hour difficult. The banquet is being held at St. Paul's school in order to accommodate the large attendance expected.

Husband Killer Sent to Pen

PENDLETON, Jan. 10—(P)—Mrs. Irmarella Wanda (Sally) Sperry, 34, was sentenced to four years in the state prison here for the slaying of her husband.
The woman, who said she and her husband had been drinking heavily for several days, pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter. Sperry was killed by a .22 caliber rifle shot in their quarters on the Jack French ranch near Gurdane. Mrs. Sperry said her husband had simulated firing the weapon, then handed it to her. When she duplicated his actions, the gun fired, she testified.

Council Given Word of Praise

The Salem city council gets many a beef from the citizens it represents, smiled over a word of praise Monday night.
