"Covered Dish"

Meal in a Casserole Handy For Quickies, or Family Meals

Casseroles must not be neglected at any time of year. Fine for summertime outdoor meals, fall "covered dish" dinners they are just as handy for winter meals, when the mother of the family plans to go out for the afternoon and wants to set the oven for the meal.

Casseroles have long been accepted as among the most popular ways to serve leftovers, but they need not be, as there are many recipes which are good in their own right.

Take this recipe for: SHRIMP AND VEGETABLE CASSEROLE
1 cup biscuit mixture 3 tablespoons butter
3 cups medium cream sauce 1 cup carrots, cooked or diced
2 onions, thinly sliced 1 cup peas, cooked
2 cups shrimp, cooked or canned

Prepare biscuit dough according to directions. Cut out biscuits and set aside. Prepare white sauce. Sauté onion in butter until tender but not browned. Add to white sauce with carrots, peas and shrimp. Pour mixture into casserole and arrange circle of biscuits on top. Bake at 450 degrees F. for 15 minutes. Serves 4.

Out of a can comes the meat in this casserole, or you can use fresh-cooked meat as a substitute:

SAUSAGE-VEGETABLE CASSEROLE
1 medium size onion 1/4 cup catsup
3 tablespoons butter 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup cooked rice Dash pepper
1 cup cooked lima beans 8 to 12 sausages

Dice onion. Cook in butter until lightly browned. Add rice, lima beans, catsup and seasonings. Pour into a shallow casserole or baking dish. Place sausages (which have been browned in a skillet) on top. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees about 20 minutes. Four servings.

Here's another standby: CREAMED MUSHROOM AND BEEF CASSEROLE
1/4 pound round steak, coarsely ground 1 medium condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 tablespoon cooking fat Biscuits
1/2 teaspoon salt 1 can water
3 tablespoons flour

Brown meat in fat and season with salt. Sprinkle flour over meat and mix well. Add soup and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Place in casserole and top with biscuits. Bake in hot oven 425 degrees 20 minutes or until biscuits are browned.

FRENCH DRESSING
1/2 cup vinegar 2 teaspoons sugar
1 1/2 cups salad oil 1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika

Combine all ingredients in a large jar or French dressing flask. Shake well to blend. Makes 1 pint.

On Etiquette

By Roberts Lee

Q. If you have sent a gift to someone and have received no acknowledgement after a reasonable time, would it be all right to ask this person if he received it?
A. Yes, you are perfectly justified in asking, as the gift may have gone astray. And if the person really did receive it, maybe your question will remind him of his extreme rudeness.

Q. Is it proper for a woman to consider her brother's widow her sister-in-law, even though she has remarried?
A. Yes, as long as she wishes to consider her as such. This is a matter of personal feeling, rather than rule.

Q. Is it proper to use the expressions "girl friends" or "boy friend" when making an introduction?
A. No; such expressions should not be used in introductions, nor are they ever in the best of taste.

More for Your Money

Permanent Pleating Will Be Found in Spring Yard Goods

By Mrs. Genevieve Smith

As a home sewer, undoubtedly you are now planning some of the new spring outfits that you'll soon be making. Perhaps, too, you've been wanting to incorporate beautiful pleating in some of the designs.

The chances are good that you can find a new type of service — permanent pleating — in your favorite yard goods department or store. Spurred on by the development of the new method of making permanent pleats, and the importance of pleats generally, many larger stores are now able to give you this service. As the movement gathers momentum, you'll find the service spreading, of course.

Except for fabrics that have certain types of special finishes, most dress materials can be given the permanent pleating that saves the work of re-pleating when the garment is dry cleaned. It can be applied to wool, silk, rayon, and rayon of various weights, including sheers. Of course, you'll need to have your pattern selected, so that you can give an order for the kind of pleats and the amount of material to be pleated for said garment.

And how is your pleat I.Q.? Here are the most popular types: Box—rather wide surface of about two inches with an inverted pleat at each side.

Inverted—the succession of pleats, made by folding the cloth under. The distance between the folds and their depth determine the kind of pleat—such as inverted, knife (very narrow but flat), and accordion (narrow and upstanding). The arrangement of accordion type of pleating gives rise to other names, such as sunburst.

New this year are the mushroom pleat, a very fine pleating, and the various crinkled surfaces that look like shirring, tree bark, and even padding.
