'Pre-Theologs' Learning Task For Use Now

By Winston H. Taylor
Church Editor, The Statesman
Fellowship and study and action now in preparation for full-time church vocations in the future comprise the program of a Willamette university organization known as the Oxford club. All members plan to become ministers, directors of religious education, missionaries or work in some other Christian service.

Membership is drawn from approximately 50 students now on the campus, according to Rex Lindemood, president, a senior from Twin Falls, Idaho. The number is believed to be the highest in the religious field at Willamette for several years. Much of the credit for this situation is given to the 1947 Cleveland conference of Methodist youth. The inspiration and direction of that meeting aided many young people in decisions for their vocations. The "pre-theologs," majoring in philosophy, sociology, history or religion, include about two men to one woman, but the proportion of women is increasing. The number of graduates planning to enter seminaries or church work is growing steadily.

The group is interdenominational at Willamette, but since the school is Methodist so are most of the club members. One active is a Presbyterian. The Oxford name is derived from the group at Oxford university surrounding John Wesley, out of which grew the Methodist church. The title is used on several campuses. Here the group has been active off and on since 1896, with the present club formed in 1947.

Monthly meetings include Bible study, ministers and laymen as speakers, discussion of how members should work on the campus.

Progress Year Noted Here by Episcopalians

The 100th year of St. Paul's Episcopal church parish in Salem was its greatest in growth, the Rev. George H. Swift, rector, reported Sunday night at the annual congregational meeting. Vestrymen and officers were elected.

The rector reported 70 persons confirmed during 1949, while the Sunday school had its peak enrollment. He pointed out the growing need for a new church building, on which the congregation hopes to start soon.

New vestrymen elected were Wallace Carson, R. H. Baldock, Dr. Charles D. Wood and Dr. Dean Brooks. Officers named by the vestrymen were C. W. Bartlett, junior warden; Lester F. Barr, treasurer, and Charles Helzel, secretary. Dr. W. W. Baum was appointed senior warden by the rector.

The annual Epiphany party followed the meeting. Hostesses were Mrs. Sydney Kromer, Mrs. Dean Brooks, Mrs. John Horner and Mrs. James Olinger. Symbols in the Epiphany cake were found by Mrs. John Tyler, Mrs. Lester F. Barr, Mrs. M. E. Knickerbocker and Mrs. Lawrence Osterman, who will comprise next year's committee.

The Bible Story

SAUL

(Editor's note: This is the 14th of a series from the Old Testament. The text is condensed from selections by Houston Harris for the new book, "In Our Image.")

There was a man whose name was Kish, and he had a son whose name was Saul. And the asses of Kish were lost. Kish said to Saul, Take one of the servants, and go seek the asses. But they found them not. When they were come to Zuph, his servant said, Behold now, there is in this city a man of God; peradventure he can show us our way. And when they were come into the city, Samuel came out.

Now the Lord had told Samuel a day before Saul came, Tomorrow I will send thee a man, and thou shalt anoint him to be captain over my people Israel. And when Samuel saw Saul, the Lord said unto him, Behold the man whom I spake to thee of. Then Saul drew near to Samuel, and said, Tell me where the seer's house is. Samuel answered, I am the seer. Ye shall eat with me today, and tomorrow I will tell thee all that is in thine heart.

Samuel took a vial of oil, and poured it upon his head, and said, The Lord hath anointed thee to be captain over his inheritance. When thou art departed from me today, thou shalt come to the hill of God, and there shalt meet a company of prophets; and they shall prophesy: and the Spirit of the Lord will come upon thee, and thou shalt prophesy with them, and shalt be turned into another man.

When he prophesied among the prophets, the people said, Is Saul also among the prophets? And Samuel called the people together, and they went to Gilgal and made Saul king before the Lord.

Samuel said to Saul, Thus saith the Lord, I remember what Amalek did to Israel. Now go and smite Amalek, and destroy all that they have. And Saul smote the Amalekites, and took the king of the oken. And Samuel came to Saul, and Saul said, I have performed the commandment of the Lord. And Samuel said, What meaneth then the bleating of the sheep, and the lowing of the oxen which I hear? And Saul said, They have spared the best of the sheep and of the oxen, to sacrifice unto the Lord. And Samuel said, Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice. For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, he hath also rejected thee from being king.

And Saul said unto Samuel, I have sinned: for I have transgressed the commandment of the Lord, and thy words: because I feared the people, and obeyed their voice. Now therefore, I pray thee, pardon my sin. And he laid hold upon the skirt of his mantle, and it rent. And Samuel said unto him, The Lord hath rent the kingdom of Israel from thee this day, and hath given it to a neighbor of thine, that is better than thou. And Samuel came no more to see Saul until the day of his death: nevertheless Samuel mourned for Saul.

The Lord said unto Samuel, How long wilt thou mourn for Saul, seeing I have rejected him? I will send thee to Jesse the Bethlehemite: for I have provided me a king among his sons. And Samuel looked on Eliab, and said, Surely the Lord's anointed is before him.

But the Lord said, I have refused him: for the Lord seeth not as man seeth: for man looketh upon the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh upon the heart.

And Jesse made seven of his sons to pass before Samuel. And Samuel said, The Lord hath not chosen these. And Samuel said unto Jesse, Are here all thy children? And he said, There remaineth yet the youngest, and behold, he keepeth the sheep. And Samuel said unto Jesse, Send and fetch him. And he brought him in. And the Lord said, This is he. Then Samuel took the horn of oil, and anointed him. And the Spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day forward.
