New Policemen Get Lesson in Laboratory Work

New members of Salem's police force are shown above as they gather around a collection of items which once figured in crimes as they attend one of a series of classes in the current training program. In foreground is Jack H. Bearns, assistant director of the state police crime detection laboratory at the U. of O. medical school in Portland. Besides Salem policemen, officers from other towns are attending the training course being given by the Oregon Association of City Police Officers, and the Oregon State Sheriff's association. The course includes laboratory aids instruction; criminal investigation; interview techniques; preliminary investigation; and traffic enforcement. (Statesman photo.)

New Salvation Army Chief to Arrive Soon

Maj. Charles Bennett, new Salvation Army commander for Salem, is due to arrive in Salem this week to succeed Capt. R. B. Leshner, who left Wednesday for Modesto, Calif.

Norma Valdez, secretary at the Army headquarters here, said that Maj. Bennett is slated to arrive late tonight or early Friday. He has been at Pueblo, Colo., since 1947.

A welcome meeting for him is scheduled for Sunday, January 29, at the Army headquarters. Public church services will be held at 11 a. m. and night services will take place at 7:30 o'clock.

Major Bennett has served with the corps since 1924. He has spent most of that time in the Rocky mountain region. He was raised in the vicinity of Newberg, spent his earlier years near Tillamook and later at Eugene.

Capt. Leshner will assume command of the Salvation Army unit at Modesto, with duties similar to those he had here.

Mayor's Committee To Study Garbage Disposal Proposal

A mayor's committee was appointed Wednesday for a study of proposed city wide compulsory garbage disposal.

Acting Mayor David O'Hara named Alderman Walter Musgrave, Mrs. George Alling, president of Salem Woman's club which has proposed the project; Batty E. Cooper, sanitarian with the city-county health department; Don Madison, Salem property owner who is active in civic affairs.

This fills out the seven-member committee which the city council directed to include also City Manager J. L. Franzen; Martin E. Willis, proprietor of West Salem Sanitary service, and William Schlitt, president of Salem Sanitary service.

The Woman's club and other supporting women's groups have not proposed a specific program, but have urged a compulsory disposal system as a public health measure.

Eels in America and Europe leave their streams and swim to the warm Atlantic waters north of the Equator. There they produce their young and die. The young eels swim back to the same homes which their parents left.

Salem Field Lands 59 Detoured UAL Flights

The United Air Lines station in Salem handled a total of 59 flights unable to land on Portland airport's frozen runways between January 20 and 23, the operation reported Wednesday.

During the three days the Salem station boarded 436 passengers here and deplaned 498. It also handled thousands of additional pounds of air freight, express and mail.

Brotherhood Week Plans Laid at Meet

Preliminary plans were laid Wednesday for Brotherhood week, February 19 through 28, by a meeting of the Brotherhood week committee and the Salem committee of National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Those meeting in the conference room of the First National bank were Saul Bloomberg, Ford Watkins and Charles Howard, of the Salem committee, and Brotherhood week General Chairman Joe Fellows; radio committee, R. J. Schmidt, chairman, Dave Hoss and Dick Nason; press, Eric Bergman; motion pictures, Leo Henderson; churches and synagogues, the Rev. Brooks Moore and Harry Brown of Willamette university.

Among plans for Brotherhood week are special church services, special speakers for service clubs, including Rabbi Saul Applebaum and Dr. Charles Howard, radio programs and motion pictures at local theaters.

Public Dances Feature March Of Dimes Bill

Public dances at the Glenwood ballroom Saturday night and at the Crystal Gardens next Tuesday night will wind up major activities in the current March of Dimes campaign.

Proceeds from both dances will go into the drive fund, according to Howard Ragan chairman, Advertising in the upper hall at Crystal Gardens.

Joe Lane and his western band will play at Saturday night's dance in the Glenwood hall located about two miles north of Salem on the Pacific highway.

Dave West, cowboy singer, will entertain during intermission. This dance was originally slated for January 21. Navajo Indian boys and girls from Chemawa Indian school also will perform.

The Salem Elks lodge is sponsoring the Tuesday night dance. Bill DeSouza and his orchestra will play for modern dancing downstairs and the Pop Edwards band will play for old-time dancing in the upper hall at Crystal Gardens.

Unemployment Load Eases in Marion, Polk

Barring an extended spell of bad weather in the next few weeks the unemployment claims load in the Marion-Polk county areas is expected to decrease from a peak reached last week.

Benefit claims this week are expected to remain at about 5,000, the same as last week, according to William Baillie, manager of the Salem office of the state employment service.

Last year's peak load of 6,200 claims, reached in late January, has never been touched this winter, said Baillie. The load this season, however, has been "stretched out longer," than in the winter of 1948-49, he said.

"It seems that employers are using every break in the weather, this winter, to bring their men back to the job," said Baillie. "This is especially true in the saw-mill, logging and construction industries, which have been most seriously hit by bad weather."

Meanwhile the state unemployment compensation reported that the number of employed workers in Oregon is near the all-time high mark, despite the fact that there is almost a record total of jobless workers.

The commission said that there were 416,200 persons working on non-farm jobs during December. This was only slightly below the record total set in December, 1948. On the other hand the commission estimated that this month the number of unemployed might mount to 100,000 over the state, greatest in history of the commission.

Banquet Facilities Now Available at Former C of C Hall

Private banquet facilities are available in the large room formerly occupied by the Salem Chamber of Commerce, according to Joseph H. Randall, Salem restaurateur who is now operating the service.

Randall said the room also is available for night group meetings. The Salem chamber, which has been occupying the entire second floor above Bishop's men's store, will continue to occupy only the front part of the building.

Randall said Wednesday he plans to redecorate the entrance room to the dining hall soon. That space is now occupied by the Oregon farm bureau. Randall will continue to operate the Golden Pheasant restaurant and will continue to cater for the chamber's weekly luncheons.
