By Elizabeth Hillyer

QUILTING IS OUT

No new print fabric can be more colorful than the quilting of grandmother's day, and why should it always stay in the bedroom? Here is an idea for showing off handsome quilting in your Early American living room, as the important part of an eye-catching cover for a sofa, loveseat or chair. Look through designs for quilting in the needlework section of your favorite store and you'll see many of the choice old-timers, all of them so attractive it will be hard to choose just one. Do the quilting yourself in bright blocks on a white background and choose a rich plain color to set it off, an old-fashioned sage green, turkey red or nut brown. A few fairly large, complete designs are all you need. Have them used when the furniture is recovered or apply them to a slipcover you make yourself.

Plan to redecorate this spring with slip-covers. Make the sleek, perfect fitting kind with the help of Elizabeth Hillyer's booklet SIPCOVERS — THE EASY WAY. Address Miss Hillyer at this newspaper and enclose 15 cents in coin, please, with a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright 1950 by John F. Dille Co.)

Mrs. Koh Speaks to Credit Women

Mrs. Ben Koh, wife of Ben Koh of Korea, an exchange student at Willamette university, was guest speaker at the Credit Women's Breakfast club meeting Tuesday morning at Nohlgrøn's.

Mrs. Koh spoke on the importance of exchange students toward world peace. She stated that wars are caused by lack of understanding, and through our present program of exchange students, we can develop better understanding between nations. Mrs. Koh also said that we cannot change people's ideas by use of atomic bombs.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Paul Johnston were in Salem Sunday to attend services at the First Methodist church. They attended the Marion County Jersey Cattle club meeting in the afternoon.

On Etiquette

By Roberts Lee

Q. Is there any cause for one to feel "hurt" if a friend extends an invitation at the last minute to fill in for someone else at a bridge party?

A. Absolutely not. In fact, a last minute appeal from a hostess is usually a compliment, because it indicates that she considers you an especial friend.

Q. Is it necessary to send a gift when one receives an announcement of a girl's engagement?

A. No; although it is sometimes done. It is not obligatory, but one can really wait until receiving the wedding invitation before sending a gift.

Q. How close to the edge of the dining table should the silverware be placed?

A. The ends of the handles should be placed about an inch from the table edge.

Recital Today

More for Your Money

Modern Stools and Chairs Are Designed Especially for Kitchen and Ironing Tasks

By Mrs. Genevieve Smith

Why stand up for so many of those household jobs, when you can do them more easily and just as well sitting down? That is, seated on one of the modern stools and chairs being designed especially for kitchen and ironing tasks.

Receiving special attention at the Housewares' Show this year are swivel stools for the kitchen. These are in a height for convenient work at the usual 36-inch-high counter, made with or without posture backs—which bring support to the small of your back without interfering with the movements of your arms. The four legs, each plastic-tipped to protect the floor, are shaped so that you not only have a substantial base but ample foot room on the circular foot rest enclosing them. The swivel action permits you to reach hither and yon, and generally work more easily.

One manufacturer of ironers makes a point of a posture chair designed especially for sit-down ironing. The ease and speed of ironing, plus the saving of your own energy, are indeed surprising.

If you do a great deal of sewing, or pursue other homework, such as typing, bookkeeping, or have a hobby such as painting, rug-making and the like, you'll find that one of the ordinary office posture chairs is a great asset. These now come with nice looking upholstery and in designs that are not out of keeping with home surroundings. Of course, you can devise your own slipcovers with a skirt that comes to the floor, if you want to tie-in such a chair with the room scheme.

Turner 4-H Members Buy Registered Sheep

TURNER — Carol Newkirk and Patricia Hennies, members of the "Lucky 13" Sheep club, each purchased a registered Columbia ewe Saturday from E. J. Handley of McMinnville.

This makes the seventh breed of registered sheep represented in this club. Other purebred sheep in the club are Southdown, Romney, Hampshire, Suffolk, Shropshire, Corriedales and now Columbias. Carol Newkirk was given the Denver Young award last fall, and it was with the help of this award she purchased her sheep. Patricia Hennies raised and showed the grand champion fat lamb at the Marion county fall show last year.
