Vacationists, Visitors Of Note

By Jermye English
Statesman Society Editor

Winter travelers and visitors continue to highlight the social news.

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Brown and their daughter, Vivienne, left by car Wednesday morning for Palm Springs, where they expect to sojourn for the ensuing six weeks.

Miss Mabel P. Robertson is vacationing in the bay area this week. She left Saturday by train and Monday attended the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Worthington and Sheldon Sackett in Piedmont, Miss. Robertson will visit in San Francisco and San Leandro with Dr. and Mrs. John Simpkin before returning north.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mills of Berkeley, Calif., are spending the week in Salem at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Mills. Mr. Mills is attending the University of California law school and will begin his second term next week. Mrs. Mills will also visit in Newport with her parents during the week. Joining the family here on Friday will be Mr. Mills' sister, Mrs. Elliott Price, of Camas, Wash.

The patterns go skiing: The newest of the new in ski togs, are created from the fabric used for men's neckwear. They're reversible to solid color poplin, so you can be both bold and conservative. There are scores of patterns for the gals, including plaids, stripes as well as the foulards. The men have only a few of their necktie favorites, more conservative but just as colorful. There are also jacket styles, with matching headscarfs for the gals.

Fawks Will Be Hosts Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. William Fawk will be hosts on Sunday afternoon at an informal at home in their new residence at 580 North 22nd street in the Walnut Park district. A large number of friends have been invited to call between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Fawk plans to use yellow erythranthemum in a silver bowl, flanked by matching candles in silver holders.

Pouring during the afternoon will be Mrs. P. Dixon Van Ausdell, Mrs. Rex Adolph, Mrs. James Stone, Mrs. Ervin Potter, Miss Alice Cray Brown and Mrs. Vernon Wiscarson. Mrs. Edward Kortebein and Mrs. Ernest Battie will assist.

Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Jones are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Elizabeth Louise, on Tuesday at the Salem General hospital. The little girl, who weighed eight pounds, one ounce, has a brother, David. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Morris Jones of Oregon City.

Mrs. George Terry Hill will entertain her club luncheon and bridge on Friday afternoon at her South Liberty street home.

Cold Weather Cooking Seems Vogue Now, and Some Little Time to Come

By Maxine Buren
Statesman Society Editor

We might as well face it, we may be in for a cold spell, we may even look forward to a revival of the ice age if things continue as they are now shaping up. After a month of "unusual" weather, some of us have become convinced that this is the beginning of a new cycle.

If you are spending your days at home, keeping the home fires burning in a literal and practical way, you may enjoy a bit of cooking that requires long slow heat.

Sauerkraut and pork hocks, for instance, would make a dandy down-on-the-farm dish and take considerable cooking.

SAUERKRAUT AND PORK HOCKS

4 unskinned pork hocks 1/4 cup sliced onions
3 cups drained sauerkraut 1 cup sauerkraut juice or 1 teaspoon celery seed 1 cup water

Put the hocks in a casserole and cover with other ingredients. Cover closely and bake at 350 degrees for 4 hours.

STUFFED FLANK STEAK

1 flank steak 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 cups corn meal stuffing 6 stalks celery
Salt 6 carrots
Pepper 6 stalks celery

Spread steak with corn meal stuffing and roll lengthwise. Tie to hold in place. Brown on all sides in lard or drippings. Season, and place vegetables around the meat. Cover and cook in a slow oven (300° F.) for 1 1/2 hours.

CORN MEAL STUFFING

1 cup corn meal 1 onion, minced
1 cup boiling water 1 teaspoon salt
1/2 tablespoon butter or margarine 1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon thyme

2 teaspoons baking powder

Four boiling water over half the corn meal. Add butter or margarine. Sift rest of corn meal and baking powder and add seasonings. Add to first mixture and mix well.

Stews served with parsley, rosemary or tomato dumplings sound like cold weather cooking. The dumplings are made regular, with an ample amount of chopped parsley or rosemary added, or in case of the tomato, make juice replace water. My rosemary withstood the weather well, but the parsley looks definitely unhappy.

Baked beans (most recipe books have good ones) oyster stews and other main dish soups satisfy husky appetites too.

Mary Elizabeth Kells to Wed In March

Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Kells are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth Lucrezia, to Dr. Edoardo Vergara-Caffarelli di Craco, of New York City, son of the late Don Tito and of Donna Mragherita Vergara-Caffarelli di Craco of Milan, Italy.

Miss Kells is well known in Salem artistic circles as a mezzo-soprano concert artist, specializing in 18th century chamber music. She is a graduate of Willamette university, and also the University of Washington, where she received her master of arts. She attended the Goodman School of the Theatre in Chicago, the Marta Oatman School of Drama in Los Angeles, and in New York she studied singing with Paul Althouse, noted Metropolitan tenor. She has interpreted various opera roles at Columbia university's theatre. In the field of painting Miss Kells has also won recognition and has been a member of the Oregon Society of Artists.

The prospective bridegroom is a member of an old Italian family which holds the titles of Duke of Craco, and Marquis of Cugnano. He received his doctor's degree in political science from the University of Pavia, and came to the United States in 1941 under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Since 1942 he has been connected with the Office of War Information in New York, and is now music critic of the Department of State's Voice of America broadcasts to Italy. As a radio writer and narrator he is also connected with station WOV in New York City.

The wedding will take place in New York in March.

Soroptimists Plan Events

A discussion of the scholarship fund and the spring conference to be held here in April highlighted the business meeting of the Soroptimist club luncheon on Wednesday at the Golden Pheasant. The club will hold a rummage sale at the old Stevens jewelry store on Court street February 10 and 11. Members are asked to leave their rummage at the Gift Box at Elstrom's or call Mrs. John Beakey. Announcement was made of two new chartered clubs at Ponca City, Oklahoma and El Monte-Rosemead, Calif.

At the next luncheon meeting on February 8 the guest speaker will be Thomas Staer, assistant attorney general, who will discuss "Military Civilian Defense." He has recently returned from a civilian defense tour of the country.

Shower Given for Young Matron

Mrs. Glenn Sparks was honored at a shower on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. H. C. Stanley, jr. Pink and blue decorations were used.

Attending the affair were Mrs. H. C. Stanley, jr., Mrs. F. M. Hoyt, Mrs. B. G. Hoyt, Mrs. Dan-ny Bouge, Mrs. M. Bingenheimer, Mrs. B. Sparks, Mrs. A. Vittone, Mrs. Allen Clark, Miss Imogene Vittone, Mrs. James Haskell, the honor guest and hostess.

Drill Team Meets

The JUG drill team of the Neighbors of Woodcraft will meet at the home of Mrs. L. C. Mitchell, 1565 Norway street, Friday.

Receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Julie Irene, are Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Meisner (Virginia Tomkins) of Cascade Summit. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George E. Tomkins of Stayton, formerly of Salem, and Mrs. Florence W. Adkinson of Cascade Summit.

TWO SIDES TO A STORY

There are two sides to the story of new storage walls, and here you see both of them illustrated by a room divider unit. Shelves are open on both sides of this piece of furniture, but some drawers and doors open on one side of it and some on the other. Thus it is a particularly useful room divider because one side might be used for dining room-wise for dishes and silver while the other makes space for a radio and phonograph and living room accessories, and an equally interesting face is turned to both divisions of the room. These and other units like them are free standing, make a wall-like division of space without having to stand end-wise against an actual wall. Their storage usefulness is almost equal to that of two walls, yet the simple, free standing design on legs helps to keep today's favorite open, airy look for a double purpose room.

Englewood Meets

Englewood Woman's club will meet Friday with Mrs. E. A. Collier at 559 North 24th street for a 12:30 covered dish luncheon. Members are to bring table service.

Williamette Valley association of matrons and patrons will meet in Corvallis on Thursday, February 9, at 8 o'clock with St. Mary's chapter as hosts. New officers for 1950 will be installed.

Mrs. William Schlitt will preside at a bridge luncheon this afternoon at her North 18th street home for the pleasure of her club. Mrs. A. L. Adolphson will be an additional guest.

Mrs. George H. Swift was in Corvallis Wednesday, where she spoke before members of St. Margaret's Guild of the Episcopal church. Mrs. Swift, as president of the Women's auxiliary of the Diocese of Oregon, spoke to the group on the work of the women in the diocese.

Social Events on Agenda for Convention

Several hundred women will be in Salem next week with their husbands for the meeting of the U. S. Hop Growers association on February 9, 10 and 11. Convention headquarters will be at the Marion hotel and several social events are being arranged in compliment to the visiting women.

A tea is planned for Thursday, February 9 at the Marion hotel between 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock with a "Whose Here" luncheon preceding at noon at the hotel. One of the social highlights of the convention will be the "Twilight Party" Thursday night at Crystal Gardens with a buffet supper and dancing from 6 o'clock on. Over five hundred are expected to attend this affair. On Friday night's calendar will be a banquet at the hotel.

Mrs. Gordon Hadley of Independence heads the committee in charge of the tea and assisting are Mrs. Homer L. Goulet, Mrs. Ray Glatt of Woodburn, Mrs. Romeo W. Gouley, Mrs. Victor Bellaire of Moxee City, Wash., and Mrs. E. T. Roomey of Sacramento. Serving as hostesses will be Mrs. Dean Walker of Independence, Mrs. William Wallace Graham, Mrs. Fred Viesko, Mrs. Conrad W. Paulus, Mrs. Carl Smith, Mrs. Ben Hull, Mrs. E. W. Crosby, jr., Mrs. Herman Goschie, Mrs. E. F. Willig, Mrs. Howard Eismann, Mrs. Otto Schlottman, Mrs. V. O. Kelley, Mrs. S. P. Linn and Mrs. James R. Linn.
