

City Council Orders Signs At Mt. Angel

MT. ANGEL — An order for 213 street markers costing $364.65 was approved by the city council in a meeting this week.

The street committee was instructed to work out a system for numbering the houses, and was told to ask the assistance of any citizen whose help was needed. According to plan, Mt. Angel should be adequately equipped with street and house indicators before many months, a lack that has been sorely decried by strangers and visitors.

Ernest Klingner, a downtown resident, appeared before the council and stated that he had disposed of all of his stock except the chickens and expected to sell them soon. The council commended him for cooperating and informed him the health committee would inspect the place in a month.

Fire Chief Joe Berchtold reported three fire calls during the past month, none of them serious, and asked that the fire and water committees meet with the fire department soon to discuss a building program.

There was much discussion on excess water in the sewers. The city attorney was instructed to check on city laws to learn exact local laws on down spouts which seem to figure largely in the city water disposal problem.

Councilman Carl Mucken advised making a map which would keep a timing record of the new mercury vapor lights to forestall any loss through faulty wiring or other source that could be remedied.

The council voted to hold a special meeting on February 20 to discuss changing the city charter to comply with current building problems.

PREMIER-TO-BE—Sidney George Holland (above), head of the National party which beat the New Zealand Labor government in last election, is scheduled to be Prime Minister.
