Designing Woman

USE A PENCIL

Get out a pencil before you get out your pocketbook when the living room needs new upholstered furniture. The usual sofa and big chairs may not be your best bet at all. To make sure, draw the floor plan of the room and then sketch in a sofa and chairs. Now, on another floor plan, try sectional upholstered units. They come in so many sizes and styles there's no end to what you can do with arrangements. See if you can work out plans that fit the room better, crowd it less and offer more seating space and more comfort. When you're at this pencil plotting you can see for yourself that a well organized unit arrangement often makes a room look roomier even though it takes up more floor footage than scattered furniture.

There's a piece of furniture at your house which would be twice as nice if the finish were beautiful. Send for Elizabeth Hillier's booklet FURNITURE RE-FINISHING—HOW TO DO IT YOURSELF and learn how to bring out good looks you never knew your furniture had. Address: Elizabeth Hillier, 215 New-Seaside, Enclosure is cents in cost, please, with a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Winslows Have 56th Wedding

JEFFERSON — Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Winslow, who live in the Greens Bridge district, observed their 56th wedding anniversary Wednesday. A dinner honored the occasion and their two daughters, Mrs. E. R. Peterson of Silverton and Mrs. Albert Hoester of Denver, and son, Art Winslow and Mrs. Winslow were present. Not able to be home were another daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Potter, and a son, F. R. Winslow, both of Lacombe, Alberta, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Winslow were married in 1894 at Lenox, Iowa. They lived near Grand Forks, N. D., for eight years, moving from there to Canada where they lived three years. In 1923, they moved to Oregon and to Jefferson 19 years ago. Mr. Winslow has farmed most of his life.

David Hamilton will celebrate his sixth birthday at a party on Saturday afternoon at the Glen Creek Drive home of his parents, the Clarence Hamiltons. Ten of his neighborhood friends have been invited to the affair.

Mrs. Frederick J. Brennan was hostess to members of her sewing club at luncheon on Tuesday afternoon at her Saginaw street home. The George Washington motif was used in the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Claybourne Dyer and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Needham will spend the weekend at the coast with headquarters at The Paddock.

On Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. Is it considered proper for two business women, who share an apartment, to have men friends to dinner, and is it proper to put up the brother of one of the women for the night?

A. It certainly is, to both questions.

Q. If one has owed a letter to a friend for some time, is it proper to make apologies for one's tardiness when the letter is finally written?

A. It is much better to make that tardy letter entertaining rather than to weigh it down with the burden of apologies.

Q. Is it proper to invite friends or relatives who are in mourning to a wedding?

A. Certainly. They should not be ignored, but neither should they be expected to attend if they prefer not to do so.

MAKES WORKING A PLEASURE

More for Your Money Current Fashions Create Demand For Hair Canvas and Interlining

By Mrs. Genevieve Smith
If you're planning to incorporate one of those standing collars or the equally new effect of broad, slashed lapels in your spring wardrobe, you'll need the aid of hair canvas or stiffened interlining. This is the special interlining that gives the permanent stiffness and body, such as that in men's suits and coats. If you are planning a suit or coat, all you have to tell the notions saleswoman is whether it's a medium suit jacket, a long jacket or shorty, a three-quarter or full length coat.

In other cases you'll find the material, which also is called tailor's canvas, sold by the yard. In both cases the width is around twenty-five inches. Yards needed is about as follows: Suit jacket, 3/4 yard; shorty coat or long suit jacket, 1 1/2 yards; three-quarter coat, 1 1/2 yards; full length coat, 1 3/4 yards.
