Delpha Loewen Married on Sunday

At a 4:30 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon at the First Church of the Nazarene Mrs. Delpha Loewen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Loewen, became the bride of Gerald Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Barrett of Prineville. The Rev. Orville Jenkins performed the nuptials before a large gathering of relatives and friends.

Bouquets of pink and white snapdragons, stock and carnations decorated the altar. The bride's twin cousins, Misses Verda and Velma Hiebert, lighted the tapers. They wore pink taffeta frocks with accordion pleated ruffles on the skirt and collar. Mrs. R. J. Lush sang before the bridal party entered and Mrs. Charles Edwards was the organist.

Of eggshell satin was the bridal gown, fashioned with a Victorian standup collar, long sleeves and a full skirt terminating in a train. A seed pearl design edged the sweetheart neckline and a panel of the pearl design extended down the front of the bodice and skirt. Her illusion lace edged veil was fingertip length and fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Loewen gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Norma Jean Loewen was her sister's honor maid and wore a green taffeta frock. Bridesmaids were Miss June Shields, Mrs. Betty Lou Hunter and Mrs. William Loewen, jr., whose dresses were of pink taffeta. The gowns were styled with puffed sleeves and accordion pleated ruffles edging the necklines and full skirts. They carried nosegays of pastel spring flowers. Flower girls were Claudia Jean Hoffman and Sherry Lou Loewen, who wore green taffeta frocks with ruffle trim.

Groom's Attendants
John Edgar of Portland was best man for Mr. Barrett and ushers were Paul Beal, Earl Loewen and William Loewen, jr.

Mrs. Loewen wore a pastel blue dinner gown for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Barrett's gown was of royal blue. Their corsages were of pink and white roses and gardenias.
A reception followed in the church annex. Mrs. Carl Soos cut the cake, assisted by Miss Lynn Muller. Mrs. Jack Loewen presided at the coffee urn and assisting were Miss Fay Welby, Miss Mavis Beck, Mrs. Agatha Sipola, Miss Ellen Pankratz and Miss Velma Hiebert.

The couple are driving south on their wedding trip and will sojourn in California, Mexico and Arizona. After April 1 they will be at home in Prineville, where Mr. Barrett operates a cattle ranch. For traveling the bride chose a three piece ensemble with navy blue skirt, white and navy print bodice and a red bolero jacket. Her hat and accessories were of navy blue.

QUILT WITH IDEAS

Nothing in needlework can take the place of the old-fashioned pieced quilt. It's a work of art that deserves to be shown off in style, on more modern minded beds as well as four-posters. Here's an idea for making a handsome quilt the key piece of a bedroom that has no Early American flavor, on today's favorite boxsprings-on-legs bed. The quilt is used as a bed-spread, and matching quilting, adapted to size, is the front of a very decorative slipcover for the headboard of the bed. When you remember how gay quilt colors are you can imagine how eye-catching a bed like this can be when it's set off with a bright dust ruffle and pillow sham. The ruffle and sham in turkey red sharpens the typical red and white of this authentic old-time quilt pattern, and for others they could be bottle green, butter yellow, china blue or cinnamon brown.

Pages of color schemes, ready to put to work, are only part of the color help you will find in Elizabeth Hilber's booklet, COLOR SCHEMES FOR EVERY ROOM. The booklet tells you how to choose a color scheme and how to use it. Send 15 cents in coin, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Hilber at this newspaper, and we'll send your copy on its way.

Bush Girls in Bluebird Groups

Four Bluebird groups at Bush school are active this winter. Mrs. J. B. Haworth's group the Merry Merry Bluebirds had hikes, learned handicrafts, made puppets and presented a show, and gave magazines to Fairview home. This group will graduate to the Camp Five Girls.
Mrs. Allen Barber's third grade girls Sunshine Flowers, only organized for two months, are knitting an afghan for a state institution. They will go to Silver Creek falls later.
Led by Mrs. F. L. Eppley and Mrs. Fred Cisman, the Cheerful Bluebirds covered boxes with wallpaper, made scrapbooks and socks dolls which will later be put on display. This group has also made field trips, taken folk dancing and made hot dish holders.
The Singing Bluebirds, led by Mrs. Carlisle Roberts, have kept a music scrapbook, and made dolls for children in the tubercular ward at Fairview home. There will be spring hikes.

On Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. Should a business woman make a practice of shaking hands?
A. This is entirely optional with her. However, if she is really sincere about making a certain acquaintance, she should always offer her hand.

Q. When a man and a girl attend church together, is it all right for them to walk down the aisle side by side?
A. Yes, this is all right, if the aisle is wide enough. Otherwise, it is better to allow the girl to precede.

Q. Should the hostess answer a "bread and butter" letter?
A. Yes; if the hostess does not reply, the guest may think her visit was not a success.

Pi Phi House is Setting for Wedding

The Pi Phi sorority house on State street was the scene of a pretty wedding on Sunday afternoon when one of the "sisters," Miss Maxine Muckle, daughter of Mrs. Fern Muckle and R. J. Muckle of Portland, became the bride of Alvin Pietschman of Portland. Dr. Robert Moulton Gaskie officiated at the 4 o'clock nuptials. The couple exchanged their vows before the windows in the solarium, where arrangements of spring flowers, palms and candles provided the setting. Miss Shirley West of Portland sang and Miss Beatrice Nagi played the wedding music.

Dr. Dan Trullinger of Oak Grove gave his cousin in marriage. The tall, attractive blonde bride wore a floor length gown of white marquisette for her wedding, designed with lace insertion on the extending skirt over the hips. The fitted bodice was made with long sleeves adorned with a wide lace ruffle at the wrists and a V neckline edged with the lace ruffle. She wore a lace picture hat with white satin streamers and carried a bouquet of white freesias and net.

Miss Martha Benaid of Portland was her sorority sister's only attendant and wore an aqua marquisette gown made similar to the bride's with ruffling at the neckline. Her picture hat was of aqua net and she carried a bouquet of yellow freesias and aqua net.

Stanley Sharp of Portland was best man and ushers were Norman Morrison, William Marshall and Robert Coffin of Eugene and Allan Hale of Portland.
For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Muckle chose a black sheer gown with pink gloves and a black hat trimmed with pink flowers. Her corsage was of pink carnations.
A reception followed the ceremony at the sorority house. Mrs. Fred Hargraffen of Portland cut the bride's cake. Assisting were the Misses Geri Scholde, Nancy Adams, Colleen Scholde, Joann Oliver, Inie Lou Wilhelm, and Gyla Masterson. Greeting guests at the door were Miss Kathleen Stark and Miss LuDene Hangrave.
The newlyweds have gone south to San Francisco on their honeymoon and for traveling the bride donned an iridescent mauve wool suit with pink felt hat enhanced with mauve flowers. The couple will make their home in Portland.

Insect Repellent Storage Containers Now Available in New Plastic Film

By Sue Gardner

A new type of plastic film, which will soon be at yard goods counters, is destined to serve an important purpose in American households. It is an insect-repellent film which can be used to line bureau drawers in which you store sweaters and other garments attractive to moths or other insects. Not only does it repel the insects, but extensive tests have proved they are killed by the composition of the film.

No additional types of preventives, such as sprays, paracrystals or camphor are needed with the new plastic material. It is also odorless, so that you need not worry about a camphor smell when you take your garments out at the end of the summer.

A collection of garment bags has been designed and will be on the market in a matter of weeks, with the main part of the bag in the new plastic and the binding and other trimming in a variety of colors. The film is transparent so that your clothes can be seen at a glance when you open your closet.

The garment bags will range in size from suit bags to full sized storage bags for your winter costumes. The shorter bags will come in handy for fur capes or jackets that you might want to keep in your closet for all year around.

Individual blanket bags and other storage cases can be made easily by the housewife. Moth proof containers are good for dozens of home uses. Home needlewomen often have odd lots of woolen yarn which can be stored for later use in a moth proof bag or a box lined with the film. If you have a well-closed knitting bag it will become more useful with a lining of the film to keep whole a partially finished sweater, dress or afghan.
