

Drainage Work Progresses at Four Corners

FOUR CORNERS, March 6—Work on a drainage project, which is expected to relieve a large portion of the flood problem here, was well under way here today by a Marion county crew.

The seven-man crew, directed by Frank Woelke, have completed most of the ditch work. A 250-foot ditch has been dug along the east side of Lancaster drive north from its intersection with East State street.

Nearly completed is a 200-foot ditch on the north side of East State street going east from the intersection. Both ditches will be lined with 12-inch tile and will empty into storm drains. On Lancaster drive, however, an open ditch will continue along the west side of the road north to the railroad tracks. There it will meet a drainage ditch which follows a natural drainage course west to Mill creek.

This project is expected to drain off flood waters in the area along East State street. Another serious flood problem remains untouched where water is still standing. Here the county has indicated the problem is one for the state highway department.

Salem Schools To Add 13 to Staff This Fall

By Charles Ireland Staff Writer, The Statesman

An increase of 13 teachers next fall for schools in the Salem public district was approved last night by school board directors.

Nine of the new faculty members will teach classes which will be added to several district grade schools. The others will be added to junior high school staffs.

Approval was given for signing petitions requesting zone changes on two properties adjacent to schools. The Gabriel-Potter company is seeking to change property adjacent to the tennis courts at Salem high school from residential to business zoning.

The other petition is to change the zoning of property at the corner of University and Leslie streets near Bush school to permit erection of an apartment court.

Purchase of a residence and adjacent lot next to the Parrish junior high school playground from John C. Dalk, 1169 D st. for an undisclosed sum was announced. The property was purchased to enlarge the playground. The house will be sold.

The board moved to again ask the city engineer's office to remove trees from the parking of school property in the 400 block of North High street which were declared to constitute a hazard. An earlier request was declined.

Stayton Third in Dimes Campaign

Statesman News Service

STAYTON—Ranking third highest in Marion county outside Salem, $592 was collected in the March of Dimes drive just completed in Stayton, according to G. W. Schachtsick, chairman. Last year a total of $215 was collected here.

Listed among the funds taken in were $92 collected at the Star theater; $176 in containers placed in business houses; $22, Bon Ton cafe coffee treat; $48, Dimes show; $27, boxing show, and $17, West Stayton school.

A suggestion: Chicken feathers may be stuffed into a small bag and used as a river bank cushion while fishing.

Bob Hope Chairman of Cerebral Palsy Drive

NEW YORK, March 6—(AP)—Comedian Bob Hope today accepted the chairmanship of a nationwide drive to raise $500,000 for cerebral palsy sufferers during the month of May.

Hope said at present "only one child out of every hundred who has cerebral palsy is able to get the kind of treatment he needs."

Victorious Left In Greece Asks Reds Released

ATHENS, Greece, March 6—(AP)—Gen. Nicholas Plastiras' leftist national progressive union led all other parties in Greece's surprising election count today and he claimed a "victory of the people."

The general was said by his associates to be ready to collaborate with the liberals of Sophocles Venizelos and the social democrats of George Papandreou in forming a coalition government.

In a statement to newsmen today Plastiras said there must be an amnesty of political prisoners—mostly communists—and that the "reformatory" at Macronisos must be abolished. Macronisos is the island where surrendered communist guerrillas have been interned and re-indoctrinated with democratic teaching.

He said the election was a condemnation of the last four years. With 1,025,000 of the votes counted in Sunday's election during which 1,300,000 ballots were believed to have been cast, this was the standing of the six leading parties in returns published by the independent newspaper Efhos (official figures from the ministry of the interior lagged considerably after the initial returns):

National progressive union, 190,632.
Populists (royalists) led by Constantinos Tsaldaris, 178,211.
Liberals, 159,395.
Social democrats, 105,903.
Independent political front, 68,868.

Assessors Advise Stop Waiting for Pre-War Prices

CHICAGO, March 6—(AP)—Been waiting to buy a house at pre-war prices? Leave it alone.

The National Association of Assessors' Officers wouldn't give a plugged nickel for your chances.

"All available evidence indicates that, except in the event of economic changes of catastrophic proportions, the nation's economy will never return to the pre-war level," the association's general appraisal committee said today.

"Accordingly, that level is no longer of any use as a valuation standard and should be totally abandoned by assessing officers everywhere."

Canasta Club Holds Meeting

GERVAIS—Mrs. Sumner Stevens was hostess at a dessert luncheon Friday when she entertained members of her canasta club. High score winners were Mrs. Antoine DeJardin and Mrs. Clyde Cutsforth.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterlin McCollum, stationed with the state highway maintenance crew at Florence, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cutsforth and family, who this past week moved into the home of their mother, the late Mrs. Eunice G. Cutsforth.

The family and congregational supper of the Presbyterian church will be held Wednesday night, March 8, at 7 o'clock. Guest speaker will be W. W. Rosebraugh of Salem, who was unable to be present at the February meeting.

Fidelity lodge 54, A.F. & A.M., will observe its annual homecoming Thursday night, March 9, with a 6:30 o'clock dinner. R. A. White, worshipful master, and Clyde L. Phillips are in charge of plans.

Lutherans Plan Birthday Party

Statesman News Service

MT. ANGEL—Final plans for a congregational birthday party at the Trinity Lutheran church, Missouri synod, located about three miles east of here, on Friday, March 10, have been completed.

Twelve tables, each representing a month of the year, will be set and guests will be seated according to birth months. The party, sponsored by the Ladies Aid, will begin at 8 p.m. in the parish hall. A program of local talent, prizes and refreshments will follow.

The third in a series of Lenten services will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. "The sermon topic will be, 'What Moved Jesus Christ to Endure Ignominious Suffering and Death?'" by John H. Werth, pastor.

Zoning Code Modernization Plan Discussed

A batch of major changes may be in store for the city of Salem's official zoning map.

The whole procedure of city zoning here is under overhaul by a special committee of the city zoning and planning commission, it was disclosed to the city council Monday night by Zoning Chairman Robert F. White.

More zones than the present four, with a more gradual breakdown of permitted property uses, is a principal departure in the committee's thinking, White said. Indicates Agreement.

The commission chairman told the council its active support for a modernized zoning code would be needed. Aldermen discussed several zoning topics and indicated a general agreement with the commission's tentative changes.

Larger lots and wider streets would be required of newly platted areas under the proposed changes. White said that the committee which W. W. Rosebraugh heads, already has agreed that residential lots should have at least 6,000 square feet.

Parking Space

Off-street parking came in for a round of debate when White indicated the code revision might propose that any new buildings—houses, apartments or commercial buildings—must provide a certain amount of off-street parking space based on size of the structure.

Greater setback from property lines would be required of high buildings in another proposal under consideration of the zoning committee.

Three recently proposed Salem planning matters came in for implied opposition by the zoners when White told the council that the zoning group did not favor removal of all business uses from the capitol zone fringe; that he felt the job of Salem long range planning commission, a separate group, is completed and should now be left to the city's own commission for planning and zoning; and that a school board request for vacation of streets without payment for the land was open to question.

Silverton Man Hospitalized in 2-Car Crash

A Silverton man was hospitalized Monday night in Salem with injuries incurred in the head-on collision of two autos just north of the Pudding river bridge on the Salem-Silverton highway.

Injured was Francis Shepherd, 40, who incurred face lacerations and a possibly fractured jaw. He was taken by Eddie's ambulance to Salem General hospital where his condition was described as "not too good."

Shepherd was riding with Henry Clinton Jackson, 5, Scotts Mills. They were driving toward Salem when they collided head-on about 8:20 with a car driven by Mrs. Meta M. Massey, Silverton. George F. Massey, her husband, was a passenger in the northbound auto.

State police, who investigated the accident, said Shepherd apparently was the only person to suffer serious injury. Neither driver was cited. Police said both autos were demolished.

Josslin Decides Against Race

PORTLAND, March 6—(AP)—William L. Josslin, state democratic party chairman, decided today not to run for governor.

He said he had considered it earlier, but had concluded enough democratic candidates had entered the race.

Three democrats have filed for the position. They are Lew Wallace, long-time democratic leader; State Treasurer Walter Pearson; and State Sen. Austin Flegel, all Portlanders.

Lew Lehr, Comedian, Dies

BROOKLINE, Mass. March 6—(AP)—Lew Lehr, 54, famed for his newsreel comedies and his remark that "monkeys is the cwaziest people," died today.

Lehr, a native of Philadelphia, made his home in New Canaan, Conn., with his wife, the former Anna Leonhardt.

Although known largely as a fat comedian with a pinpoint black mustache, whose forte was describing the movie antics of performing chimpanzees, Lehr was also a writer and editor of short subjects.

Albert Lebrun, Former French President, Dies

PARIS, March 6—(AP)—Albert Lebrun, 78, last president of France's pre-war third republic, died today of pneumonia. The former president had been ill for a month.

Lebrun was deposed in July, 1940, after France's defeat by Germany. His powers were taken over by Marshal Philippe Petain who became chief of state at Vichy during the German occupation.

British Exile African Chief For 5 Years

LONDON, March 6—(AP)—Seretse Khama, African negro prince who married a white London typist, said tonight the British government had ordered him into exile from his homeland for five years.

Seretse said he had been advised of the government's decision by Patrick Gordon-Walker, secretary for commonwealth relations.

The young Oxford-educated chief-designate of the Bamangwato tribe in sun-baked Bechuanaland said Gordon-Walker had informed him Britain intends to introduce direct government over his fellow-tribesmen and that he is not to return to his African homeland without permission for five years.

Seretse quoted the secretary as saying that his confirmation as chief of the Bamangwato tribe might cause a disturbance.

Pea Rejects

Seretse previously had rejected a plea from British officials to give up his throne for the sake of empire unity. He came to London several weeks ago to discuss the matter, leaving his bride, the former Ruth Williams, in his white frame bungalow "palace" at Serowe, Bechuanaland.

Seretse spoke to newsmen tonight in his tiny London flat. He said Gordon-Walker had offered him an allowance of £1,100 ($3,080) a year less tax if he would live in England and relinquish his claim to the chieftainship.

Refuses Offer

The prince said he had refused the offer, considering it a matter which his tribe should be consulted.

He added he will discuss the situation with his legal advisers. Bechuanaland is a British protectorate. Last year the Bamangwato sub-chieftains accepted Seretse as their chief after he had quarreled with Tsheteki Khama, his uncle and regent of the bride, over the introduction of a white queen to rule with him.

Spellman Says Signs of War On Increase

ROME, March 6—(AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman warned Sunday that signs of war are increasing.

He urged the faithful to be "always prepared for death."

In one of his gravest pronouncements, the visiting archbishop of New York told reporters:

"Last week it was published in newspapers that American scientists say it is possible to construct one bomb capable of destroying all human life.

"While we hope and pray and strive for peace, we nevertheless must be, as Catholics, always prepared for death. Certainly, signs telling of the 'abomination of desolation' are increasing.

"The 'abomination of desolation,' is an expression usually taken to mean approaching ruin from war or other disaster.

Council Okehs City Hall Work Bid at Silverton

Statesman News Service

SILVERTON, March 6—A low bid of $6,935 by C. M. Bjorke, Silverton, for a two-story addition to the Silverton city hall was accepted by the city council here Monday night.

The only other bid submitted was $8,995 by L. J. Plank of Woodburn. Plans call for the first story to be finished and the second floor unfinished.

An alternate bid by Bjorke for constructing the building of tuff, a rock quarried near Sublimity, for $6,728 was given conditional acceptance pending laboratory analysis of the rock. Original plans called for concrete block construction.

An ordinance which would double sewer rates was read for the first time. The present residential rate is fifty cents a month. Additional funds would be used for improvement or extension of the sewer system and plant.

The council discussed reducing the Silverton police force by one man to stay within the budget, but decided to put the question on the ballot in the May election for the voters to decide. The department has three full-time officers at present.

Police Chief Victor Grossnickel pointed out that two men are needed at night because of the recent wave of valley burglaries.

Max Hubbs, Robert Webb and Dr. R. J. VanCleave were appointed to the budget committee. They accepted L. F. Tucker, C. B. Anderson and C. H. Denton. Holdover members are R. B. Duncan, L. C. Eastman, E. J. Adams and Elmer Johnson.

Lewis & Clark State Teacher Course Okehed

The state board of education Monday approved Lewis and Clark college, Portland, for training of elementary teachers under a 1949 legislative act.

The board at its Salem meeting also approved four students at Pacific university for elementary training certificates at the end of the current school year.

Dean Lobough, assistant superintendent of schools at Eugene, was appointed a member of the state textbook commission to fill a vacancy.

Resignations were accepted by the board from May VanDuesen, itinerant home-making teacher, who has accepted a position at the University of Wyoming, and from Elmer Sullivan, supervisor of institutional on-the-farm training for veterans. Both were serving in the state education department.

Faylene Zumball, Houston, Tex., was appointed dean of women at the Oregon Technical institute at Klamath Falls. Tuition fees at the institute were reduced from $88, $110 and $132 to $50 and $70. Institute officials reported a satisfactory enrollment with all departments of the school in full operation.

John Bone, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bone, 1525 Baker st., Monday night became Salem finalist in a national oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion.

Bone and other contestants addressed members of Capital post 9 at their regular meeting. "The Constitution" is the contest topic.

Runner-up was Ronald Swanson, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Swanson, 1080 N. 22nd st. Both Swanson and Bone are Salem high school students. They were coached by Amanda Henderson of the school's speech department.

Bone will now compete in the Marion county contest. Winner of the national contest will receive a $4,000 scholarship.

At Monday's business meeting post members discussed leasing a 120-foot property south of the Legion club on South Commercial street to General Petroleum, Inc., for erection of a service station. The board of directors was directed to continue negotiations with the firm.

Louis'll Make Decision Soon

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 6—(AP)—Joe Louis said here tonight he will make up his mind about returning for another heavyweight title shot when his current exhibition tour ends in Odessa, Tex. on March 20.

Louis fought a pair of two-round exhibition matches against Leo Johnson of Burlington, N.C. and Monroe Christian of Montgomery tonight. The former champion had both his opponents bleeding at the end of the brief matches.

His two-year layoff from championship fighting has not hurt his punch, Louis said. He added that he is in fine condition considering his layoff.

Roy Rice Inspects Alternate Sites For Garbage Dump

Five proposed sites for a Marion county garbage dump, suggested after the recent protests over the Macey dump, have been inspected by County Commissioner Roy Rice, he reported Monday. But no action will be taken until all court members view the sites.
