Salem Folk on Trips South, Others Home

By Jeryme English
Statesman Society Editor

Each day brings news of Salem travelers leaving for the east or south and at the same time the welcome mat is out for those just home from extended trips.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Lester Newman are leaving Wednesday for points south. They will visit in Modesto, Calif. with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wells, and then go on to the desert and other southern California points. They plan to be away a month.

Mrs. R. C. Hunter is expected to arrive in the capital Thursday from a three weeks stay in Oakland, Calif., where she has been the guest of Miss Clover Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson and daughter, Miss Patty Wilson, are being welcomed home from a seven weeks sojourn in Palm Springs.

Mrs. Henry Johnson, who has been residing in Oakland, Calif. since her marriage in the fall, arrived home Saturday to be at the country place of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Burton A. Myers, until Ensign Johnson returns from sea duty in the South Pacific.

Mrs. Johnson's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lewis of Eugene, went south to the bay city to accompany her home.

SILVERTON—The Mary Martha circle of the Trinity Ladies Aid society will be entertained Wednesday at the home of Mrs. M. O. Hatteberg at 1111 Pine

Organists Are Guests Here

The Oregon chapter of the American Guild of Organists was entertained in Salem Sunday afternoon at the North Summer street studio of Prof. T. S. Roberts. A large delegation was present from Portland and Salem and Mrs. Meta Holm, dean of the Oregon chapter and organist at Centenary Wilbur Methodist church, Portland, presided.

An interesting program was presented by well known organists throughout the state with Prof. Roberts playing two numbers. Other members participating were William Robison Boone, organist and minister of music Temple Beth Israel and First Methodist church, Portland; Mrs. Winifred Worrell, a member of the American Guild of Organists in Portland; Mrs. Kathleen Stewart, organist at Mt. Taber Presbyterian church, Portland; Miss Jessica Kinsey, Salem organist and pupil of Prof. Roberts; James L. Strachan, subdean of the guild and organist and choir director of Trinity Episcopal church, Portland.

A social hour followed the program and assisting were Mrs. Norma Shaw, Miss Jessica Kinsey, Miss Ruth Bedford, Miss Olga Wikberg and Mrs. Malcolm Ramp.

The Oregon chapter has a membership of 70 organists and 15 subscribing members.

Executive Board In Lebanon

The executive committee meeting of the Oregon State college Mothers club was held Friday in Lebanon with Mrs. Oscar I. Paulson, Salem, president, presiding. The noon luncheon was served by the Lebanon unit with the proceeds to be used for college student scholarships.

Mrs. Hiram Groves was general chairman and sixty attended. Miss Effie York, a senior high school student of Lebanon, played a clarinet solo.

Speakers were dean of men, Dr. Dan Polling, assistant dean of men, L. E. Darlington, and acting dean of women, Miss Mary Bash. Miss Bash told of the much appreciated and needed emergency fund given by the Mother's club. She announced Miss Marilyn Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Hill, Salem, was installed as president of Panhellenic for the coming year. Mothers week-end will be May 5-6-7 with Miss Joan E. Aune of Portland as chairman. Mr. Darlington mentioned senior week-end on the campus for April 14-15-16 when all high school seniors visit the college for information on education and social activities.

Reports were heard from Mrs. Dale Miller of Portland on membership with 4203 life members to date and a gain of 509 over last year. Philanthropic chairman, Mrs. Harry Compton of Portland, told of assistance to the children of college students and has realized $81.25 in cash from local Mothers clubs. A visit was made to Adair Village Play School, the mothers, having furnished a record player and records, electric clock, first aid kit, magazine subscriptions and toys.

Going from Salem were Mrs. Paulson, Mrs. George Rhoten, Mrs. A. E. Ullman, Mrs. George Croisan, Mrs. Carl R. Miller, Mrs. Ernest E. Walker, Mrs. Ray Crittenden, Mrs. Elmore Hill and Mrs. Austin H. Wilson. The next state meeting will be in May in Corvallis.

Fabric Coverings for Home Walls Designed With Practical Angles

By Sue Gardner

A new collection of fabric wall coverings offers a fine group of contemporary artists' designs along with the practical angles of washability and wearability. A boon for the housewife who lives in dusty sections of the country, or likes unusual wall coverings without worry about delicate qualities of fine wall, these fabric coverings will soon be seen in many homes.

A most unusual kitchen can be decorated with a background of gay little designs in a Colonial period. A dramatic seashell design against a black or wine background provides a handsome wall covering for a powder room or a guest closet.

For children's rooms there are lively little story book characters depicted on a white background, and older daughters will like the larger floral designs in a variety of color combinations.

Since so many of the new homes are being decorated today with walls of different textures and colors, you can pick up a color from one pattern and use it in a solid fabric covering for the two or three remaining walls. Plaids and tweeds that look like fine woolen fabrics can be combined with solids to obtain a variety of effects on the walls.

A dinette can be set off from the rest of the room by selecting an unusual fabric wall covering for it and using a solid wall covering for the rest of the room outside the alcove. This will make the dinette look like a separate room, yet the patterned walls will harmonize with the other walls.

One great advantage of this type of fabric wall covering is that it prevents cracks and its strength makes it a good covering for an attic room you want to reclaim. If you haven't got tiles in your bathroom, you can use a covering that simulates tiles or one that gives a shiny surface in a solid color. Most bathrooms have tiles half way up and these can be matched or contrasted with fabric wall covering up to and even including the ceiling.

Mary Thomas Is Speaker

Mrs. Mary F. Thomas spent the weekend in Corvallis, where she attended the 60th anniversary of the Home Economics department of Oregon State college. Mrs. Thomas was one of the six decade speakers at the banquet Friday night, representing the years 1929-39. Over 300 alumnae attended the banquet and luncheons were held each noon with over 200 attending. Sunday morning Dean Ava E. Milan was hostess for a breakfast at her home in compliment to the decade speakers at which Mrs. Thomas was a guest. Dean Milan is retiring as dean of the home economics school after 33 years, with a total of 39 years in the department.

Among others attending the celebration from Salem were Mrs. William Cole, Mrs. Robert E. Shinn, Mrs. G. F. Chambers and Miss Dorathea Steusloff.

Visitors in Salem this weekend were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dasher and sons, John and Duncan, of McMinnville, who were guests of her parents, the H. L. Bradens. John celebrated his eighth birthday while at his grandparents.

Mrs. Harry V. Carson, Jr. will be hostess to members of her Salem club at a dessert luncheon and afternoon of bridge on Wednesday at her Silverton home.
