Launderette To Be Started At Corvallis

Statesman News Service
MONMOUTH — The Perkins Dry Cleaning shop has been sold to Mrs. Edith Saling of Corvallis, who will operate it, and will also install rental units for a self-service laundry. This is an innovation here. Mrs. Saling formerly resided here with her mother, Mrs. Anna Elder, who was a secretary to Thomas H. Gentle at the elementary school when he was director of the school.

Mrs. Clarence Ward came from Klamath Falls Tuesday to spend the spring vacation with her daughter, Rosemary, a student at OCE. She will visit in Portland before going home.

Walter Earhart, city building inspector, is home from a visit to Los Angeles. He reports much residential building in that city.

Nate Prime has been a guest this week of his daughters in Salem: Adeline Prime and Mrs. Greta Hewett.

The 86th birthday of Mrs. Mary Carmack was celebrated at her home March 10, when a large group of friends and neighbors called, and presented gifts. Mrs. Carmack has lived in this area for more than 50 years.

The Rev. Harvey Scheuerman and Mrs. Scheuerman have bought the Lowell Brisbane home on West Main street and will take possession June 1. He was formerly minister here of the Evangelical-United Brethren church and is now retired. They and their daughter, Gloria, are at present living in Oregon City. The Brisbanes have bought the home of the late Mrs. Minnie Wolverson on East Jackson street. Mrs. Brisbane is city recorder.

Willing Workers Honor Members

Statesman News Service
IDANHA—Nine members of the North Santiam Willing Workers club were entertained by Elsie Girod in her home Wednesday afternoon. Honored guests were Mable Barney, Mary Gulliford and Opal White, whose birthdays came the first quarter of the year. Ida Hansen and Edna Gordon also had birthdays in this quarter but were unable to attend.

The large living room was decorated in green and white streamers. Games and contests of knowledge and skill were played. Opal White, Mary Gulliford and Reba Snyder were winners of prizes.
