C. Robert Zimmerman, director of the Portland Symphonic choir which will give a concert tonight at 8 o'clock at the First Methodist church. The symphonic choir will be supplemented by men and women's glee clubs.

Choir to Sing "Requiem" in Church Tonight

The Portland Symphonic choir, directed by C. Robert Zimmerman, will be in Salem tonight at 8 o'clock to present Verdi's "Requiem" at First Methodist church. The concert is the same as will be presented in Portland April 3 with Portland Symphonic orchestra.

Soloists here will include Josephine Albert Spaulding of Salem, mezzo-soprano. Others, all from Portland, are Yolanda Stewart and Marian Peary, sopranos; Dean Lieber, tenor; James Duvan, baritone. Organ accompaniment will be by Mildred Waldron Faith. The stage has been enlarged to accommodate the 100-voice choir. Supplementing it for the double chorus "Sanctus" number will be the Portland men's and symphonic chorales, totaling about 100 more singers. Open to the public, the program will last just over an hour. A free will offering will be taken. The choir was organized by Zimmerman in 1948 as a civic project.

Don't Look Now...

but... during a recent meeting of a group of young matrons, there was a discussion of teachers' salaries. One woman concluded that "teachers aren't too well paid when you think what you have to pay other baby sitters."

The other half... You who live on paved streets can feel your vast superiority very easily, and have a bit of adventure too. Take a drive out our own Glen Creek road, the Pride of Polk county. The kids will love the rolly coaster effect and you can try out the quality of the shock absorbers as you buzz the car up to a breathless 15 miles per hour.

Problem children... Canine life in Salem has slumped to an all time low. While our dog kicks up his heels and races over a 10 acre tract, all his city cousins must languish on a leash. It shouldn't happen to a dog.

P. S. ... The man who makes laws, is evidently a cat lover, is everything a poor dog does wrong, and everything a cat does right? Maxine Buren

Art Group Meets

The annual meeting of the Salem Art association will be held Wednesday night at the Frank Burlingham home, 360 North 14th street at 8 o'clock. Election will be held, a report of committees made and a social hour will follow.

Rotary Lunch Monday

Women of Rotary will meet for a one o'clock luncheon on Monday afternoon at the Golden Pheasant. Mrs. Homer Smith, Jr., will preside in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ralph H. Cooley, who is in the east. Plans will be announced for the Mad Hatters night in honor of the husbands on April 25 at the Legion club. Mrs. Melvin Geist is program chairman for the Monday luncheon and musical numbers will be given by students from the Willamette university School of Music. A string quartet will play, Grace Asford will sing and Betty Kuhlman, violinist, will play a group of numbers.

St. Elizabeth's Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church will hold a one o'clock luncheon at the parish house on Tuesday. Mrs. Carl Nelson is luncheon chairman, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. R. H. Baldoock, Mrs. C. L. Bowes and Mrs. R. M. Fitzmaurice are on the hostess committee.

Election of officers will be held at the meeting of the Marion auxiliary to post 861, VFW on Monday night at the Veterans hall at 8 o'clock.

Robinson Crusoe Play to Be Here

Daniel Defoe's classic Robinson Crusoe will come alive to children of Salem in the Edwin Strawbridge dance drama version of the world's famous story of adventure to be presented here April 7, under the auspices of the Salem Socratic club at the Salem high school auditorium.

For the most part the action takes place against the colorful backdrop of a tropical island which children might dream of visiting.

The play moves quickly as all plays for children should, with no waits between the acts. It is carried forward with dialogue, music and dancing. The scenery is done in the pictorial pattern of the new story book style but its design is based on research which carried the artist back to woodcuts done by Cruikshank for the first publication of the book which appeared in 1790.

Mrs. and Mrs. William G. Steacy are leaving Tuesday by car for a ten day vacation trip to San Francisco.

Carousel Dance On Saturday

The Carousel Dancing club will hold a semi-formal dance on Saturday, April 1 at the Merlain Dancing school. Glenn Williams will play for dancing between 9 and 12 o'clock and the Easter theme will be used in decorating.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Calvert are chairmen for the affair and assisting on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. Allen Edstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Smith French, Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reuter.

Concert Series To Be Discussed

Members of the board and workers of the Salem Community Concert association will meet Monday night at a 6:30 o'clock banquet in the Cave room of the Senator hotel. During this annual meeting, Miss Margaret Blackburn from the New York office will discuss artists available for next year's concert series. A vote of preference will be made by the workers. Yearly reports will be given by the officers.
