Ol' Moose Shows 'Em Thing or Two on Hitting

"It's those snapping wrists that count," informs Moose Clabaugh to bination for Salem today when the club is scheduled to meet Portout. Always classed as a good hitter himself, Clabaugh is assisting Manager Ad Liska with spring training, a chore he has performed since 1947. The players pictured might be the opening infield com-

A baseball manager's fondest dream is to skipper his club to a world series championship. A football coach will settle for a Rose Bowl victory and a basketball coach for the NCAA blue ribbon in Madison Square Garden. A fight promoter's biggest moment is of course promoting a world heavyweight title scrap. Which is exactly what Rotund Tex Salkeld had all lined up and okehed until Ezzard Charles was found to have his heart ailment. Yep, that's right. Tex had the shindig all glued up for Mult-nomah stadium late in the summer, with Joltin' Joe Kanut as party of the second part. The way it now looks, however, Charles will never fight again (Tex hears as much through what he terms an authentic grapevine). So there goes a dream Salkeld has been having for 30-odd years. Along with it goes a cool $50,000 that Tex figures he would have made on the scrap . . . Good bets as returnees to the town Senators from the Bevos are Pit-

Re those records, one of the finest things Bob Abel has done during his long reign as WIL president is to rig up a 12 - page booklet officially called the "Western International League Record Book." In it are all the loop's high marks, dating back to the beginning in 1937. It is the first such compilation of WIL records in existence and certainly is a credit to Abel and whoever helped him put it together. From the looks of the facts and figures therein, it was no easy task. So if it's official WIL records you now want, just holler. We got 'em, thanks to Prexy Abel . . .

Russell About Ready to Try with Detroit Lions

Pacific U's do-everything halfback Stan Russell, from Aumsville has just about made up his mind to give the pro touchdown game a whirl with the Detroit Lions. Stan felt for a long time that he couldn't hack it with the pros. But he had a talk with Len Younce at OSC the other day, and Len has just about talked the Badger star into trying it. Len was one of the best as a guard in the National loop for years with the New York Giants before joining Kip Taylor at Beaverville . . . Height of optimism: John (Landslide) Steelhammer bouncing around singing ::Oh Promise Me" to all those who might have legislative votes later on. And with the primaries not even over, too . . Prediction by Harold Hauk of the Vikings, after noting the brawn carried by Bill Johnson, one of his outfielders who played plenty of line for Loren Mort's gridders last fall: "He's going to Oregon State, and he just might make them one terrific football player down there."

If young Jack Hemphill, the 20-year-old Olympic lad makes good as a pitcher for the Senators (and Ad Liska believes he might do just that), Vancouver Boss Bill Brenner's puss will be a trifle crimson. Brenner lives in Olympia also and had a crack at the husky Hemphill last season. He didn't take him. Jack's fath-er, A. T. Hamphill who now resides in Camas, had the boy all fix-ed up to join Tacoma this spring after having buzzed with his friend Bob Johnson, Tiger manager of 1949. But when Bob was let out at Tacoma, the elder Hemphill decided the kid had best try it with Salem . . .

Sharman Now Wearing 'Em Out as Ballplayer

It wasn't bad enough that the guy gave 'em fits with his point-making in Southern Division basketball during the recent season. Now USC's Bill Sharman is repeating as a first baseman on the Trojan mine. In his first two league games all he did was bob two home runs a triple and a double in eight times at bat, driving in seven runs! . . . Wonder how Alan Strange is feeling these days. The Spokane manager, with Bremerton last year, watched his WIL charges whipped by North Idaho College of Education 15-1 the other day. A day later

Late Rally Not Enough

Prison Greys Top Salem Viks, 9-4

Salem high's Vikings rallied for three runs in the ninth inning Saturday at the penitentiary, but the surge was not enough to keep the Prison Greys from notching a 9-4 victory in the first baseball game of the season for both teams.

The Greys had a big inning themselves, rapping across five tallies in the eighth to ice the tilt. Up until then it was a close contwo Greys flingers, Berstine and Hurst, and the OSP's banged nine off three Salems Gene Greys Gr Jim Rock and Sonny Walker. Outfielder Bill Johnson of the Salems biffed a home run in the to collect more than one hit. An- a.m. Events will include 16-yard pate. other Johnson, this one in Greys livery, socked two hits for the winners, as did Pomeroy.

The Vikings kicked in with seven errors to help their own downfall. The Greys played errorless ball. Berstine whiffed 12 Salems during his eight frames on the hill. Garver fanned five SP's to top the Vik mound efforts.

Salem opens Big Six league play Tuesday afternoon at Spring-field. Coach Harold Hauk has not yet named a starting pitcher for that mix, although the nod likely will go to Big Jim Rock. Score:

Senators, Portland U Here Today

Locals Rained Out of Games With Beavers

By Al Lightner Statesman Sports Editor

OREGON STATE COLLEGE April 8 -(Special)- Rain washed out the scheduled doubleheader between the Salem Senators and Oregon State Beavers here today, the Solons had for any sort of workout at all. Manager Ad Liska, in shape, reluctantly gave the athletes the day off. There was nothing else he could do.

The Senators are scheduled to play Portland university's Pilots at Waters field in Salem Sunday, will play a Monday afternoon game at Salem also. Salem plays Willamette U on the latter's Bush pasture field Tuesday afternoon.

Sophomore Johnny Burak and Freshman Dick Waibel are scheduled to toil on the mound for the Salems in the Sunday game. Burak was with the club the latter part of last season after leaving Pacific U's ranks. Waibel is the big when he gave up two straight righthander who signed with singles.
