A drive to collect funds in Salem for establishment of an International Christian university in Japan has been scheduled for April 23-30.

Richard Scott, Salem youth chairman, announced plans for the drive Wednesday night at an organizational meeting of the local committee at the First Methodist church.

The local fund drive, part of an international campaign, will consist of balloting at various places throughout the city. Each ballot, in the form of a dollar bill, will constitute a vote for peace and good will.

Working committees were appointed at Wednesday's organizational meeting, which attracted representatives from six Salem churches, members include: Ann Fowler and Betty and Ann Gilbert, program; Kay Perrin, Keith Wright, Bill McKinney and Marcia Seeber, polling; and Bob Luther, Charles Hargrave and Joyce Kirby, publicity. All are either local high school or Willamette university students.

The fund drive will start with a mass meeting of youth April 23 at the First Presbyterian church. Goal of the international campaign is to collect $10,000,000, of which Canada and the United States are slated to donate $2,000,000.

Popularity of YMCA Summer Camp Indicated by Registration

Hillside, Trickle Falls, Bear Creek and Hemlock have meant outdoor adventure to Salem area youngsters for 12 years, and the attraction apparently is strong again this year, judging from registration for the annual YMCA Camp Silver Creek.

Those names belong to the scattered groups of cabins occupied by campers in the large recreational area adjacent to Silver Falls state park and operated by the state park service. Trickle Falls is the most popular so far this year, with its quarters almost filled for all five of the camp periods operated by the YM.

The 12-week session for various ages and groups will open June 11. Camp Director Roth Holtz, YM boys' work director, said Wednesday that registration to date totals 80, including 18 for longer than two weeks. The area from Portland to Eugene is represented. Top capacity is 120 campers at a time.

General Secretary Gus Moore is camp supervisor. Co-directors are Fred Cordis, YM physical director, and Carl Greider, adult program director. Other leaders will be principally college students.

District girls camp, August 6 to 15, will be directed this year by Mrs. Gertrude Ayres of Salem, it was announced.

Following a visit to the camp this week, Holtz said that some rotting wood railings have been replaced by stone, the kitchen has been painted white, linoleum placed on counters, showers lined with sheet metal, walks graveled and trails cleared. He said all buildings in the area had come through the winter without harm.

The camp program includes swimming, hiking, horseback riding, handicraft, fishing, nature study and a variety of games and sports.

Schedule for 1950 includes the following, with ages of campers:

Willamette district Presbyterian junior and senior high, June 11-18; district Presbyterian children, June 18-24; YM younger boys, 9-11, June 25-July 1 and July 2-15; YM intermediate boys, 11-14, July 16-22; YM intermediate and older boys, 11-16, July 23-August 5; district girls, 9-16, August 6-15; Junior Red Cross, 14-18, August 16-26. Another week is unassigned.

Last year 780 boys and girls from 28 communities participated in the outings directed by the YM. Total of campers for the season was 1,017.

Holtz is to begin showing camp pictures soon at Salem area schools.
