City View Cemetery Purchase By Herman Johnston Reported

Purchase of City View cemetery was announced Wednesday by Herman M. Johnston, who has operated it under lease for the past 10 years. He said he would continue a program of extensive improvement.

Stock of the corporation, City View Cemetery association, was from three previous holders, who were not named.

Before coming to Salem, the new owner was associated for several years with Forest Lawn cemetery in Los Angeles and others. The property comprises about 40 acres on the crest of a hill between Candalaria heights and Rural Avenue. It begins four blocks west of South Commercial street and extends westward nearly to South River road. It includes memorial burial circles of the GAR, American Legion Capital post and the Elks. It was established in 1893 by J. E. Frizzell and other incorporators.

Johnston said he had just completed clearing of 15 acres on the cemetery's west side for additional lawn-type of graves, endowed for perpetual care. The cemetery includes about 800 to 1,000 burial lots per acre.

William H. Knight is manager for the cemetery, with four full-time employees and as many as 14 at some seasons.

Johnston pointed out that complete facilities are contained inside the property, including Mt. Crest Abbey mausoleum and crematorium, which is independently owned.

Garbage Dump Proposal Hit By Residents

FALLS CITY, April 12 — Twenty-one residents and property owners in southwestern Falls City have signed petitions protesting to the mayor and city council against proposed establishment of a city garbage dump in their area.

The petitioners state the garbage dump would "cause irreparable damage, be a nuisance, that the surrounding area will be permeated with bad odors, infested with rats and flies which will tend to spread disease."

The residents declare the dump would be a fire hazard because several sections of 40-year-old timber stands are located near the proposed site. Two families use water flowing through the dump area for drinking purposes.

To raise a turkey to market age of around 28 weeks requires between 75 and 100 pounds of feed.

"Good Packaging," periodical published in San Francisco, features Berg's grocery of Salem in its lead story of the March issue. The story's theme is: "Packaging at market level boosts sales volume in stores like Bergs at Salem." It quotes a package supplier as saying Bergs "has the highest application of pre-packaging of any market I've seen... throughout the United States," and says "an overwhelming 92 per cent of all the goods at Bergs is sold by self-service."

Standard Time To Hold for May Primary

Oregon's primary election May 19 will be conducted on standard time despite that many communities in the state will be on daylight saving time, announced David O'Hara, in charge of the state elections bureau, Wednesday.

In communities where daylight saving time is in operation the polls will open at 9 a.m. and close at 9 p.m. They would be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. in communities operating on standard time.

O'Hara said this issue was determined in a recent decision of the state supreme court which directed a new trial in a Clatsop county school election case. The election, in that case, was held on daylight saving time.

The state law, according to O'Hara, provides the polls be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., based on standard time. He added that this law prevails over any local ordinance having to do with daylight saving time.

Booklets Listing Tourist Attractions Distributed

The state highway commission tourist information bureau Wednesday released several thousand pamphlets containing a list of the many attractions in Oregon during the remainder of the year.

These pamphlets will be furnished all persons asking for information regarding Oregon events and will be distributed through chambers of commerce and other organizations.
