WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—The government reported today that a drive to cut the jobless lists through community-sponsored projects is gaining headway across the nation.

Although officials do not consider the present unemployment total of 4,123,000 as a crisis indicator, they are speeding efforts to provide more work opportunities so as to head off any depression threat.

A major element in this full employment program is the campaign to enlist the support of the state and cities in creating jobs on a hometown basis.

6 More Homes Moved from Astoria Hill

ASTORIA, April 15—(AP)—Six more houses were being moved today from the dangerous slide on Coxcomb hill here.

The Red Cross estimated that it would spend $50,000 in rescuing homes from Astoria's skidding hill. Thirteen have already been moved, and six more—five on the hill, one at its foot—were to be moved over the week end.

Lewis Scott, state highway commission geologist, said there was no hope at all of stopping the present Coxcomb hill slide, led to the decision to move all the endangered houses. But he said it might be possible to save the still unaffected areas. Costly drainage ditches, which might require $200,000 a mile, might hold back the earth by carrying off water before it builds up pressure, he said.

The city probably will make an intensive survey of the entire area to determine rock strata, contours, and other facts before devising the drainage system.

One precaution has already been taken. No power digging equipment may be used without a special permit. That is designed to prevent any excavation that might weaken the unsteady hillsides.

Miss Pence was timed at 3:04.1 for the 220-yard breast stroke finale, bettering the senior indoor mark of 3:07.2 held by Patricia Sinclair of San Francisco and the American short course record of 3:05.8 held by Maria Lenk of Brazil.

Tokyo Raiders Plan to Help De Shazer

PALM DESERT, Calif., April 15—(AP)—Thirty-six members of the famous Doolittle Tokyo raiders took time today in their fifth annual reunion to remember the men who have passed on.

Meeting at the Shadow Mountain club, the group disclosed that messages of greetings and condolence will be sent to the families and next of kin of the 20 members of the Doolittle boys who have died since that memorable Tokyo raid eight years ago next Tuesday.

The raiders have other serious plans, too, more far reaching, which have been unfolded since they gathered here for business and relaxation with their old time leader, Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle.

For one, they want to lend a hand to "Jake," who "got an idea." "Jake" is Corp. Jacob D. Deshazer of Madras, Ore., a bombardier on one of the 16 B-25s which took off from the carrier Hornet on the fateful mission that electrified the allied cause and blasted the Japanese capital, as well as the Japanese smugglers.

Jake's idea was to return after the war and teach the Japanese "something about humanity." He's there now, an ordained minister—Free Methodist—carrying on his campaign.

MOONSHINERS FINED

TOLEDO, April 15—(AP)—Walter Huttinstine and Ray Nelson were fined a total of $400 today after they pleaded guilty to operating a still. The two were arrested yesterday after liquor commission agents said they found a still in Huttinstine's house.

The raiders plan to write their histories of the flight, a sort of documentary of the raid for publication, and use the proceeds to "help Jake."

They also want to do something to help the Chinese—the Chinese who "nursed, clothed and fed" those men who landed or bailed out over China after dropping their deadly eggs on Tokyo.

Gov. McKay Addresses Soroptimists

The most important problem facing a rapidly-growing Oregon is to maintain high educational standards for children, Gov. Douglas McKay Saturday night told 300 delegates and guests at a Soroptimist convention here.

"One-third of our present population comprises newcomers," McKay said. "They must join with long-time residents in keeping government democratic," he added.

The governor also stressed that this state's hydro-electric energy must be sold to new industries if region is to remain a "land of opportunity."

Isabel Childs Rosebraugh, first president of the Salem Soroptimist club, was toastmistress at the banquet which ended a two-day convention in Salem. Soloists on the program were Robert Gwinn and Vivian Re of The Dalles. Installation of new officers concluded the evening's program.
