Designing Woman

By Elizabeth Hillier

FIVE FAVORITES

These are the five favorites chosen from 300 home furnishings — a special 300 which were chosen for Good Design from the thousands of new home furnishings now being introduced in the stores. Each visitor to Good Design, the new gallery of home items sponsored by New York's Museum of Modern Art and the Merchandise Mart in Chicago, is asked to vote for the ten he likes best. The vertical blind, designed by Henry Wright and shown as a room divider, has so far taken first place and the adjustable armchair by Edward J. Wormley is second. The ceiling light, which works with a counter weight to be raised and lowered, is third, closely followed by the sliding door sideboard by Florence Knoll and John Van Alstyne's salad bowls which enclose shining strips of bora rattan in clear plastic. The next five are an unusual side chair in metal and foam rubber, a sleekly molded sewing machine, a kitchen range, a refrigerator and an upholstered armchair.

Booklet please! Coming up if you write to Elizabeth Hillier at the newspaper for her booklet SMART AS PAINT. PAINTING PROBLEMS SOLVED. Enclose 15 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright 1950 by John F. Dille Co.)
