Senators Take 2nd Straight

Young Soph Yields Only Three Bingles

By Al Lightner atesman Sports Editor Young Johnny Burak, the tough luck kid of the Salem Senator mound staff last season after being signed off the Pacific university campus, last night gave no indication that he'll repeat with the ill-fortuned stuff this season as he flipped a 2 to 1 victory over the Vancouver Capilanos at Waters field. It was Burak's debut for 1950, and indeed a fine one it was for the 22-year-old righthander. Looking as if he learned a load of poise and pitching savvy while in spring training with the parent Portlands, Burak checked off Boss Bill Brenner's crew with three hits, all singles, as the Sa-lems racked up their second straight win.

Only 335 customers were willing to shivver through another cold night to watch the mound stint that may well be one of the best of the season.

But for a sudden streak of wildness in the ninth frame, Burak would have had a neat and well earned shutout. He waited until the final inning to issue three of the four walks charged to him during the game, and two of the things were directly responsible for the Cap tally.

Burak's mound foe, another young righthander named Kevin King found wildness costly to him also. His misery came in the first frame when the Salems got their two runs.

Deliberate to the point of being boring King opened the game by walking both Gene Gaviglio and Wayne Peterson. Dick Bartle mov-G-4, Series Evened ed both along with a sacrifice bunt. King then hit Mel Wasley with a pitch to load the bases. Orrin Snyder promptly scored Gaviglio from third with a fly-out to center field, Peterson rambling with a mate on base. To third on the play. Catcher Buster McMillan punched a single to right to score Peterson.

That was all that was needed by Burak as he waded into the enemy with a hopping fast ball and fine control. He didn't give up solid blow until the seventh, that coming off the bat of Shortstop Ray Tran. There was an earlier bingle by Caps Catcher Earl Motsinger in the second frame, but it was a pop-fly blooper that fell in behind third base.

Qualifying D In Elks Meet

The biggest local links extravaganza, the annual Elkssponsored Mid-Willamette Valley tourney, begins Sunday at Salem Golf club with initial qualifying. Registrations can be made at the club and expectations are that the largest field in history will be on hand for this year's show. An innovation this time will be a 36-hole test for medal honors involving all linksters likely to end up in the cham-pionship flight.

Qualifying action will be run over a three-weeks' period and then flight play will commence

By Al Lightner Statesman Sports Editor Look what Jim Aiken could toss into his Webfoot line next fail, just in case he wants to add a bit of height to the situation: There's end Emery Barnes, the former Portland - Jeff high negro at 6feet-6; Chet Noe, the Frosh basketball center .. from .. Los Angeles, also out for end and ditte ..6-6; ..Ed Sarsfield, tackle from The Dal-Kip Taylor les and another century dash on the Coast thus far belongs to Dave Henthorne, the Webfoot sprinter from Klamath. He's ripped off a snappy 9.7 already . . . After watching his hirelings get off to their bad start with Tacoma, Senators Commander George Emigh says the club will do its spring train-ing "just as far south as we can get" next year. Which means California, we hope. It's a big Practically a dead einch to pluck the mer-chant's loot for the first Salem home run of the season is Mel Wasley. He's about the only player on the club with power enough to spank two or three out of the lot during the whole season . . .

Kip Taylor at OSC says he's very well pleased with the Beavers' spring grid practice. Which could be indication enough that same Beavers will again field a rugged eleven next fall despite the loss of such worthies as Car-penter, McGuire, Twenge, etc.

. Haven't seen John (King) Nenezich's name beneath any of the WIL box scores yet, so imagine he held good with his threat of quitting the umpiring business this season. Too bad for John has been consistently best in the loop for years . . . the
