Little Black Recipe Book Yields Formula for Most Any Sort of Dishes

By Maxine Buren

My dear little old black notebook, which contains so many old and true recipes, comes to my aid at home as well as at the office. Here are some recipes picked at random:

The first, a good relish for spring meats or to use in salads:

BEET RELISH

¼ cup horseradish 6 tablespoons vinegar 2 cups diced beets 1/2 cup sugar

Mix and let stand overnight in refrigerator. ESCALLOPED SPINACH

3 cups cooked spinach 1 egg slightly beaten 2 tablespoons melted butter 1/2 cup milk 1/2 cup breadcrumbs Pepper 2 tablespoons minced onion 1/2 teaspoon salt

Sieve spinach, add other ingredients, except butter and crumbs. Place in buttered baking dish, sprinkle top with crumbs and butter mixed and bake in moderate oven until crumbs are done, about 15 minutes. Serves 6.
MACARONI PAPOOSE

Grated cheese lb. cooked 4-inch macaroni Thin slices ham 1/2 cup milk Horseradish sauce

Roll macaroni, cheese and horseradish in ham, and fasten with toothpick or skewer. Put in baking dish, add milk and bake at 325 degrees for 35 minutes. When done sprinkle with crushed pineapple and serve hot. PEPPERMINT CANDY ICE CREAM

1/4 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon vanilla Mix cream, cup of sugar, salt and vanilla and partially freeze. Then add the remaining ingredients, candy being crushed. Complete freezing. WALNUT COOKIES

2 cups brown sugar 2 eggs 1 teaspoon baking powder

Flour to make drop batter Mix all together, drop onto cookie sheet and bake.

4 cups thick cream

1 cup sugar

USE THESE TO FLATTER ANTIQUES Much of the beauty of antique furniture lies in the warm, mellow color of the wood. The design of the furniture is easier to duplicate than its finish, which became the rarity it is through careful and constant hand polishing and the effect of sunlight and age itself. Color scheme the room that boasts antique furniture to bring out the subtle wood colors. With fine faded brown mahogany use caladon green, slightly green blue, buttercup yellow, subtle green yellow, any of the pale pastels or deep, rich colors. For the Provincial or rustic type of antique, such as cherry, pine or maple, use deep colors that are toned down, old school house red, forest green or deep, some-what grayed blue.

Rare Volumes On Display

Collection of

On exhibit at the Oregon State library this week will be the collection of rare "Don Quixote" volumes belonging to Miss Nell Unger, Portland librarian, whose hobby it has been to collect them. This display, which is open to the public, is located in the second-floor foyer of the Library building, and has been arranged in connection with the showing of the Spanish motion picture, "Don Quixote," which will be shown at the State theatre on Thursday afternoon and evening, May 11, afternoon and evening, May 11 under the auspices of the Salem Branch of the American Associa-tion of University Women. The collection can be viewed Tuesday, Wednesday and 8hursday between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. In addition to the books there are stills from the motion picture and of an earlier production which starred Feodor Chaliapin, the Russian basso.

"Don Quixote," written by Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra in Spain in 1605, has appeared in nearly every country, been translated into nearly every language and has been printed in thousands of editions. Miss Unger's collection contains volumes printed in England, Spain, Japan, Mexico and the United States. The illustrations vary from the modern type of abstractions to the romantic French and English style, each artist giving his own interpretation.

Oldest Book Printed in London
The oldest of the books on display was printed in London in 1820 and has engravings by Richard Westall. Another small but equally interesting volume was done in 1834 in England and has fifteen designs and etchings by George Cruikshank. Both artists and Bethel No. 31, Portland, as Mothers of Bethel memportrayed the famous Don against typically English backgrounds.
