Mother's Day Observed at Four Corners

FOUR CORNERS—Friday afternoon was Mother's Day at Lincoln school here when Principal Arthur V. Myers and his staff of teachers greeted the mothers whom they were honoring at a tea in the school library.

Centering the room was the large covered tea table with its gleaming silver and centerpiece of blue dutch iris and yellow cathedral candles. Arrangements of various colored tulips and lilacs about the room added a festive touch.

Pouring were Mrs. Robert Carson and Evelyn Smith. Welcoming the mothers and assisting about the room were Mrs. Emily VanSanten, Mrs. Kathleen Toyen, Miss Shirley Payne and Mrs. Rebecca Burnham. In charge of the musical program was Mrs. LaVaun White. Myers and Mr. Hillenland were in charge of the musical education. "My Dog Sp" in the auditorium.

During the tea hour Mrs. White presented a group of primary children in a vocal salute to the mothers. Taking part were Alice Dench, Jimmy Gettiss, Janice Hasouck, Sheryl Ann Thompson, Judy Pengra, Howard Ediger, Lois Smith and Anita Weigart. A group of older girls who sang included Jean Christman, Betty Futrell, Twila Rickman, Maxine Riehl, Barbara Kleen, Marilyn Snook, Judy Scott, Patsy Etzel and Barbara Force.

A string trio from Parrish school, Lorraine Bagley, Caroline Irom and Gladys Kurchmann played. Girls assisting the teachers with tea table were Barbara Burns, Joanna Weekley, Shirley Tulin, Velyda Haskell, Donna Meyer and Carol Hoffine.

Special tribute was given to Mrs. Robert Carson and Evelyn Smith who are leaving at the close of school. Miss Smith will go to Eakersfield, Calif., to teach. She taught there before coming to Four Corners. Mrs. Carson will go to Coquille for the fall school term where she and her husband will teach.

Mrs. Harvey Meyer, on behalf of the Mother's club, presented gifts to Mrs. Myrtle Reaney head of the cafeteria and Mrs. Edna Becker, her assistant. Following the social hour Mrs. Meyer, president of the Mother's club, called a business meeting. Myers expressed his appreciation to the club for its co-operation and for the public address system the club purchased and installed this year in the school building. This was the final meeting of the club for the year. There was an attendance of 75 mothers.

SILVERTON — Roy Philippi of Stayton was at Silvertown Monday making final arrangements to start a building for the Silvertown Motors company, used car business, on the corner of First and Lewis streets. The ground is being leased from the Silvertown Co-op lockers.

The lot to be used by the motor company will be paved around the office building. Plans call for opening within the next 30 days. Philippi stated he did not plan to move to Silvertown himself but that Bill Campbell will be in local charge and will make his home here.

Zena Sunday School Observes Lilac Day

ZENA—Lilac day at Zena Sunday school was well attended with Mrs. L. H. Randle, former Zena woman, as special speaker.

Massed white and purple lilacs and attractive bouquets were used in decorations. After song service and Sunday school Mrs. L. H. Randle, who with her husband, has been a missionary in China, presented the school with six new Bibles and gave a talk on China.

Mrs. Randle was a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Crawford, deceased, and lived at Zena on the Crawford farm as a girl. She is a sister of Frank Crawford, who still resides at Zena.
