

Appeal Said Probable in Burnside Case

An appeal to higher courts in the case of Salem insurance man, Edward J. Burnside, charged with soliciting without a permit, was indicated Thursday by City Attorney Chris Kowitz.

Briefs from Burnside's attorneys and from Kowitz are now in the hands of Municipal Judge W. W. McKinney who is expected to render a decision soon.

ASKS STAND-BY BILL ROCK HILLS S. C. Mayor W. H. Burnside was arrested by city police March 15 on the charge but, through Portland attorneys, contended that an insurance agent is not liable to the city ordinance requiring licensing of door-to-door solicitors by the city.
